Call For Boycott Against Rebels

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council Saturday called for a worldwide economic boycott against Southern Rhodesia. The United States then announced that President Johnson had ordered rejection of a shipment of 9,500 tons of Rhodesian sugar now in transit from that country.

The announcement was made by U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, who said the council adopted a resolution toughening its stand against the rebellious white minority regime in Rhodesia.

The resolution, approved by a vote of 10-0 with only France abstaining, calls on all states "to do their utmost in order to break all economic relations with Southern Rhodesia, including an embargo on oil and petroleum products."

A proposal against recognizing or aiding the breakaway British colony passed the council by the same vote Nov. 12, the day after the declaration of independence.

Goldberg told the council the Network Rehires White Musician After Protests

CHICAGO (AP) — A white musician for the Columbia Broadcasting System who said he was fired in "inverse discrimination" to make room for a Negro replacement had his job back Saturday.

The Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission ordered Robert Fahsbander, 38, of suburban Highland Park, reinstated Saturday after CBS and the white musician reached agreement before commission hearings were set.

In New York, William Fitts of CBS's labor relations office said the network, and not the FEPC, restored Fahsbander's job. He said Fahsbander, who plays a string bass, was rehired several weeks ago to fill a vacancy in an orchestra resulting from the resignation of another white musician.

Fahsbander complained to the FEPC Feb. 4 that CBS dismissed him and three other white musicians Oct. 11, 1964, and replaced them with four Negro musicians. The other three white musicians were subsequently rehired.

Fahsbander contended he was the victim of "inverse discrimination," being replaced by a Negro musician "for the purpose of filling a quota or integrating their (CBS's) staff."

The FEPC asked CBS Aug. 3 to rehire Fahsbander, but a network spokesman said then that Fahsbander had only seven months of prior service and had no claim for job tenure under the agreement with Local 10, American Federation of Musicians.

The commission order stated that Fahsbander was restored to his job as of Oct. 3 and would keep his job at least for the (Continued On Page Eleven)

Next Year

Better Health Care Ahead For Elderly

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Needy elderly persons can look forward to improved medical care after the new Social Security health program starts to operate next year.

A basic reason, of course, is that the program will provide a floor of health protection for indigent persons over 65 as well as the better-off segment of the elderly.

But, equally important, the 1965 Social Security Act contained far-reaching provisions requiring a much higher standard of health care in most states for the needy aged.

These provisions have been overshadowed by the new Social Security program in the bill, popularly called medicare, and by the increases in most states for the needy aged.

Benefiting from the provisions will be 2,144,000 persons on the old age assistance rolls and 264,000 who receive help under the medical assistance for the aged program known as Kerr-Mills.

These 264,000 elderly persons have sufficient income to keep them off the welfare rolls but not enough to handle their medical expenses.

There was some expectation that the need for Kerr-Mills would diminish when the Social Security health care program gets under way.

But, to the contrary, congressional sponsors of the 1965 Social Security bill and officials of the Health, Education and Welfare — HEW — Department expect Kerr-Mills to expand considerably.

This will happen, they say, because the Social Security health benefits probably will cover only 50 to 60 per cent of the aged person's medical expenses, and because of provisions in the bill requiring greater benefits under Kerr-Mills.

One important side effect of the new program, they point out, will be to leave the states with more money to put into health care for their needy aged since the new program will provide for at least half of their medical needs.

HEW officials emphasize that

Kerr-Mills so far has not come close to meeting its potential even under the original 1960 law. Seven states still do not participate; and some of those which do, offer only nominal benefits.

The two plans under the new Social Security health care program become operative July 1, 1966. They will include these benefits:

Plan A — Hospital, nursing home and home health care as well as out-patient diagnostic services.

Plan B—Doctors' services in the hospital, clinic and home, along with a variety of other benefits such as wheelchairs, braces and laboratory tests.

The needy aged, along with all other persons over 65, will be covered under Plan A as a matter of right.

Plan B is voluntary. Aged must sign up for it and pay $3 a month for it.

Government officials are planning to do everything they can to see that local welfare officials sign up the indigent aged under Plan B. The monthly charge can be included in their welfare payments.

But, even if an elderly person is under both plans, he will find that a major portion of his health costs is not covered. Principal exclusions are drugs, dental care, and eye care.

The provisions of the 1965 bill revising the Kerr-Mills program require that, by July 1, 1967, the indigent aged must receive as a minimum five types of health services.

They are hospitalization, outpatient hospital services, other laboratory and X-ray services, skilled nursing home care, and physicians' services in the office, home or hospital.

Many of the 43 states now in the Kerr-Mills program do not furnish all of these. But, under the new law, they will have to do so by July 1, 1967, to continue to receive federal aid. This applies both to the elderly on the public assistance rolls and those benefiting from the Kerr-Mills.

Coverage of the needy aged under Plans A and B will substantially meet the new Kerr-Mills tests.

Living Near Virginia

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gene Bray

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gene Bray are making their home on Virginia route three since returning from a wedding trip in Indiana and Ohio. She is the former Brenda Sue Sheley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sheley of Flora, Illinois and he is the son of Mrs. Grace Mattingly, 618 North Prairie street, Jacksonville.

They were married Oct. 31 at the First Christian church in Flora by Reverend Joe Ellis. White glads were used at the altar. Marion Hardy was at the organ and Jo Kimbell sang.

Miss Judy Rapp, a student at Eastern Illinois University at Charleston and Ralph Harrington, Springfield, cousin of the bride, attended the couple. Danny Sheley and Danny Rapp seated guests.

The bride wore a white knit suit with white hat. She carried white carnations with her white Bible. Miss Rapp wore a blue knit suit with matching accessories. Her flowers were blue tipped white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a black trimmed red knit suit with corresponding accessories and the groom's mother was in brown lace with beige accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held at the East End Cafe at Flora. Assisting was Mrs. Norman Beckett, Washington, Ind., cousin of the bride. The bride graduated from the Flora High School in 1964 and attended Cinn Bible Seminary in Cincinnati, Ohio one year. The groom attended Jacksonville schools and is employed by William Freeman.

ASK LOCAL PEOPLE TO WATER YOUNG TREES

Local nurserymen have voiced concern to the newspaper that the many young trees planted recently in Jacksonville are in dire need of moisture. Persons with such trees are asked to please water them generously, at least until nature provides moisture for the dry condition.

Honor Graduate

Pvt. Thomas A. Lashmett

Army Pvt. Thomas A. Lashmett, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lashmett of Winchester route one, was an honor graduate of the engineer equipment assistant course at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. Lashmett was first in the class of 10 trainees. He received instruction in the operation and maintenance of engineer equipment. He graduated from Winchester High School in 1961 and attended Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

HOLD CASS MAN FOR THREATENING TO USE KNIFE

BEARDSTOWN — Harold Davis of Springfield has signed a warrant charging Glenn Engle, 21, of 708 W. Main street of unlawful use of a weapon. Engle is being held in county jail at Virginia following his arrest for allegedly threatening Davis with an 8 1/2 inch blade following an argument outside the Central Tavern Sunday night.

Robert Swan, 319 E. 8th street, has been arrested on a bench warrant signed by Associate Circuit Court Judge Fred W. Reither for alleged violation of parole.

Cases scheduled for the circuit court following recent police action include:

Richard Trone, Rushville, to appear before Judge Reither Dec. 17 on charges of reckless driving. His car has been held since an accident in which damage was done at the Art Jamison home.

Defendants from Jacksonville, Kingsford Heights, Indiana, Virginia, Mexico, Mo., Pana and Peoria have been cited in the past few days for traffic violations and other law infringements and will appear in Circuit court.

Living Near Virginia

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gene Bray

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gene Bray are making their home on Virginia route three since returning from a wedding trip in Indiana and Ohio. She is the former Brenda Sue Shely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shely of Flora, Illinois and he is the son of Mrs. Grace Mattingly, 618 North Prairie street, Jacksonville.

They were married Oct. 31 at the First Christian church in Flora by Reverend Joe Ellis. White glads were used at the altar. Marion Hardy was at the organ and Jo Kimbell sang.

Miss Judy Rapp, a student at Eastern Illinois University at Charleston and Ralph Harrington, Springfield, cousin of the bride, attended the couple. Danny Shely and Danny Rapp seated guests.

The bride wore a white knit suit with white hat. She carried white carnations with her white Bible. Miss Rapp wore a blue knit suit with matching accessories. Her flowers were blue tipped white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a black trimmed red knit suit with corresponding accessories and the groom's mother was in brown lace with beige accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held at the East End Cafe at Flora. Assisting was Mrs. Norman Beckett, Washington, Ind., cousin of the bride. The bride graduated from the Flora High School in 1964 and attended Cinn Bible Seminary in Cincinnati, Ohio one year. The groom attended Jacksonville schools and is employed by William Freeman.

ASK LOCAL PEOPLE TO WATER YOUNG TREES

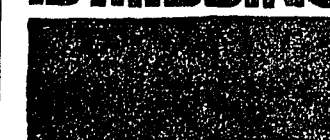

Local nurserymen have voiced concern to the newspaper that the many young trees planted recently in Jacksonville are in dire need of moisture. Persons with such trees are asked to please water them generously, at least until nature provides moisture for the dry condition.

HOLD CASS MAN FOR THREATENING TO USE KNIFE

BEARDSTOWN — Harold Davis of Springfield has signed a warrant charging Glenn Engle, 21, of 708 W. Main street of unlawful use of a weapon.

Engle is being held in county jail at Virginia following his arrest for allegedly threatening Davis with an 8 1/2 inch blade following an argument outside the Central Tavern Sunday night.

Robert Swan, 319 E. 8th street, has been arrested on a bench warrant signed by Associate Circuit Court Judge Fred W. Reither for alleged violation of parole.

Cases scheduled for the circuit court following recent police action include:

Richard Trone, Rushville; to appear before Judge Reither Dec. 17 on charges of reckless driving. His car has been held since an accident in which damage was done at the Art Jamison home.

Defendants from Jacksonville, Kingsford Heights, Indiana, Virginia, Mexico, Mo., Pana and Peoria have been cited in the past few days for traffic violations and other law infringements and will appear in Circuit court.

PATROL DUTY IN GERMANY FOR GREENFIELD MAN

FULDA, Germany (AHTNC) — Army PFC Edward L. Harbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harbaugh of Greenfield, was assigned to border patrol duty with the 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment in West Germany, Nov. 2.

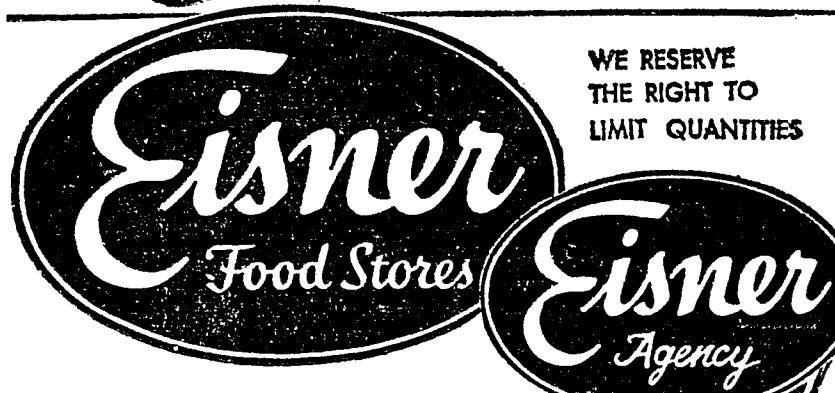

Harbaugh will be taking part in continuous surveillance missions designed to provide immediate notification of any aggressive activities along the northern sector of the East-West German border.

A mechanic in Troop A of the regiment's 1st Reconnaissance Squadron near Fulda, Harbaugh entered the Army in June 1964 and received basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He arrived overseas last January.

The 21-year-old soldier is a 1964 graduate of Greenfield High School.

Add grated cheddar cheese and dry mustard to white sauce; serve with a cooked green vegetable.

PRESIDENT'S MEET

WHITE HALL — Seven members from White Hall attended the Greene-Jersey County Past Presidents' Parley Nov. 15 at Day's Cafe in Carrollton. Fifty members and guests were present.

Newly elected officers presiding were: president, Mrs. Florence Price of Greenfield; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lurinda Burriss substituting for Mrs. Ruth Valentine; Miss Leila Faulkner, chaplain. Packaged gifts will be sent to the five nurse patients at Norbury hospital.

Bingo was enjoyed during the social hour.

CWF HAS MEETING
AT CHANDLERVILLE

CHANDLERVILLE — Mrs. Kenton Bottens and Mrs. LeRoy Young were hostesses for a recent meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the local Christian church.

Mrs. Carroll Carlock presided during the meeting, held at the church. The worship service was conducted by Miss Ruth Leeper, the lesson by Mrs. Richard Johnson.

Mrs. Walter Duckwiler Sr. spent Thursday with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Leinberger, a patient at Memorial hospital, Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dearing, who have resided on a farm east of Chandlerville for several years, plan to move to Petersburg in the near future.

George Vollmers was a Thursday morning business caller in Jacksonville.

Visits Son
On Air-Hitched
Ride To Germany

BEARDSTOWN — Babe Caldwell, son of Albert Caldwell of 1216 Jefferson street, air-hitched to Germany and back with a three day surprise visit to a soldier son sandwiched in and was out of the states a little more than a week.

Babe, a graduate of Beardstown High school and for the past several years a druggist in Pella, Iowa, was in Beardstown the past weekend to tell his dad about the hitchhiking trip.

A former soldier and a member of the reserves, Babe started his "hitching" at a big SAC base in Omaha, changed planes in Washington and Delaware, then caught a Jet train to Germany, completing the trip to Frankfurt by bumming a car ride to his son's army base.

En route overseas he bought a camera in the Azores for $39, and sold it on his return home for $50; he made the New York to Des Moines trip homeward bound by commercial plane and paid $75 for the trip. In addition he spent $50 for incidentals.

Dad Caldwell, a retired railroader and former police magistrate, says his boy had a wonderful time, brought back many wonderful pictures and sprang a real startling surprise on the young soldier in Germany.

Beardstown Notes
Robert Martin, former local man, who died Nov. 4 and for whom funeral services were held in Versailles Nov. 9, was a Beardstown high school graduate, and had retired last summer after 30 years service as an electrical engineer for the F.C.C. in Santa Ana, California.

Kenny Bowman and Holly Beard, two of Beardstown's veteran duck hunters, say the season has been in the doldrums since it started this past two weeks because of the mild weather.

"The ducks are few and far between" said Kenny, "but just

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was buffeted last week by pressure on copper stocks as the government moved to halt rising prices of another metal.

The market, measured by the popular averages, showed a marked decline over a week ago, although there was strength in spots.

The administration's move in copper, following last week's rollback of aluminum price increases, probably had as much psychological as practical impact, brokers said. Washington's decision to release 200,000 tons of copper from the federal stockpile, dropped some average Thursday to their sharpest setbacks in months.

Generally, economic indicators remained favorable. Automobile production hit a 1965 weekly high and sales for early November were the biggest in history for the period. Steel production inched up. Corporate profits gained again in the third quarter and cash dividends showed a 10 per cent increase over 1964.

Blue chip issues largely marked time or declined. American Telephone was bought briefly by a 10 per cent increase in the quarterly dividend but the pressure of an FCC rate investigation appeared to continue to outweigh the additional yield.

The Associated Press 60-stock average dropped 1.2 to 354.0. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 3.57 to 952.72.

The margin of losers over gainers was fairly narrow, however—701 to 689. Volume for the week increased to 39,703,380 shares from 31,935,361 the previous week.

Treasury bond prices were mixed during the past week, but corporate and municipal bond prices drifted lower. Some early strength in the treasury bond market was dissipated by a wave of new corporate and municipal bond issues.

We will NOT have a sale this week on Thursday, Thanksgiving Day.

The volume of new issues tended to weigh prices down, as in the municipal bond market, dealers said. Low for the year outnumbered highs 82 to 39. The volume of trading totaled a par value of $89.4 million.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—The butcher hog supply last week at 29,000 head was the largest in eight weeks but prices held generally firm and topped at $26 a hundredweight on three days. Last week's offerings amounted to 27,500 head.

After starting with a top of $25.50 on Monday, the market hit a $25.75 peak on Tuesday then leveled off at $26.

The top price in the previous week reached $25.85 sparingly on only one day.

With an advance of 25 to 50 cents for the week, the average price was estimated at $24.75, highest since August. It compared with $24.59 the previous week and $14.37 a year ago.

A slightly reduced rate of slaughter and earlier prices for carlot dressed beef weakened the market for slaughter steers and they closed steady to 25 cents lower for the week. Packers said the Thanksgiving demand for turkey contributed to the slackened slaughter. Slaughter steers averaged $26.28 for the week, off only 8 cents from last week.

Woolled slaughter lambs were steady to 25 cents higher.

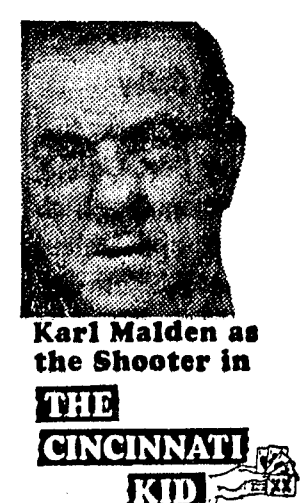

To Revise Code Of Canon Law

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI said Saturday the Code of Canon Law—the body of laws of the Roman Catholic Church—would be revised in accordance with the modernization measures of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The need to update the rules and regulations concerning the conduct of ecclesiastical affairs was expressed by the pontiff in a special audience granted to 60 cardinals and 70 experts of the Pontifical Commission for the Code of Canon Law.

The commission was founded by Pope John XXIII but its work will get under way after the council ends on Dec. 8. Pietro Cardinal Ciriaci of Italy is the commission president.

Among the commission's tasks, ranging from laying down rules regarding excommunication to the definition of the ecclesiastical hierarchy, will be inclusion in the code of provisions adopted by the council on the laity, the synod of bishops and liturgical reforms.

Nixon

White added that if he does seek to create "a new political apparatus," it probably will include not only some Goldwater-drive allies, but some Republicans who worked with him during Nixon's 1960 campaign.

He acknowledged that there is a political organization, first built around Goldwater, now embedded in Republican state and county committees and the party's auxiliaries.

Which way will the remaining Goldwater forces turn?

"I think there's a possibility they might turn to Nixon," White said. "Nixon has a lot of residual appreciation among Republicans."

Tom Van Sickle, chairman of the Young Republican National Federation, said Nixon now is the favorite of the youthful, activist Republicans he leads.

Van Sickle, who worked closely with White during the Goldwater campaign, said Young Republicans "will be working in 1968 for whoever has proved that he wants to build a strong Republican party."

"Right now," he said, "Nixon is that man."

Van Sickle said Young Republicans could be persuaded to line up behind Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton. But he said Michigan Gov. George W. Romney would be hard to sell in the conservative-minded youth organization.

"That holds true throughout much of the Goldwater GOP wing, one of its leaders said. 'A lot of my people don't like Romney,' this man said. Romney refused to endorse Goldwater in 1964.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who led the losing moderate battle against Goldwater, plans to confine his organization efforts now to his own state. He will seek re-election next year.

As Rockefeller sees it, Republican moderates should go to work state by state to build their power at all levels of the Republican hierarchy—and his brand on such a drive would only stiffen conservative resistance.

60 Guests At Bridal Shower At Greenfield

GREENFIELD — Sixty guests attended a miscellaneous pre-nuptial shower honoring Miss Kay Vinyard at St. Michael's Catholic hall here. Hostesses were Mrs. Lloyd Costello, Mrs. Wilbert Joyce and Mrs. Willard Piper. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out. The gift table was centered with a bride and groom under an umbrella.

Assisting Miss Vinyard with the gifts were Barbara Bowman, Linda and Sherry Plogger, Connie Costello and Karen and Cindy Piper.

Appropriate games were played and prizes won by Linda Plogger, Mrs. Howard Powell, Mrs. Darrell Bowman, Mrs. George Vinyard and Mrs. Richard Newton. Miss Vinyard will be married to K. W. Bowman November 27 in St. Michael's church, Greenfield.

The Fleur de Lis club met with Mrs. Clela Harr Nov. 9th with seven members present: Mrs. M. D. Barton, Mrs. J. H. Parks, Mrs. Vernon Koehm, Mrs. Lewis Tendick, Mrs. C. E. WORLD NEWS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HONG KONG (AP)—Hundreds of thousands of acres of wheat in Communist China are seriously threatened by a severe drought ranging over the northern mainland in an area roughly the size of the Dakotas, Minnesota, Nebraska and Iowa.

Western experts getting accounts of the drought through Red Chinese newspapers and magazines as well as travelers expressed the belief the drought will force Peking to buy well above the minimum in its contract for Canadian wheat. At the minimum, Peking would purchase 112 million bushels of wheat for about $200 million over a period of three years. The maximum under the contract is for 446 million bushels for about $900 million over five years.

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda dismissed the "Penkosky Papers" Saturday as "a fabrication from beginning to end" by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The papers, published in Britain and the United States, purport to be the work of Oleg Penkovsky describing the Soviet spy network. Penkovsky was exposed as a double agent working for the West and was executed in 1963 by the Russians.

Pravda, organ of the Soviet Communist party, said the papers "constitute the same example of low-class concoction as all previous anti-Soviet efforts by the CIA."

SINGAPORE (AP)—The Singapore government Saturday detained an undisclosed number of Communists and dissolved 11 organizations the Communists have been using as a cover for anti-government activities.

The government action was part of its crackdown on Communists believed behind recent violent leftist student riots and demonstrations.

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—The 26-year-old Cunard liner Mauretania steamed out of Southampton Saturday on her last voyage. The 35,655-ton British ship is headed for the scrap heap in Scotland.

As the Mauretania left, the Queen Elizabeth and other ships in port sounded a farewell salute.

The Mauretania carried thousands of American soldiers to Europe during World War II and back home again when the conflict ended. She took her last cruise with 374 tourists from New York to the Mediterranean last month. It ended 10 days ago.

duration of the union's contract which expires next June 30. The FEPC said it would retain jurisdiction for 18 months beyond the date Fahsbander filed his complaint.

Pitts said Fahsbander had been let out without merging of segregated Chicago locals of the AFL-CIO musicians' federation allowed CBS to hire Negro musicians.

He said CBS' contract had been with an all-white AFM local, hence the orchestra had been white. After the local merged 18 months to two years ago, Fitts added, CBS believed it wrong to have an all-white orchestra in a city like Chicago.

Fitts said Fahsbander had been with the orchestra only about seven months at the time and was rehired as soon as a vacancy occurred.

BROWN WOMAN SUFFERS BROKEN NECK IN ACCIDENT

PITTSFIELD — Mrs. Emma Jennings of Mt. Sterling injured with two other local women in a one car accident last week and a patient in St. Mary's hospital in Quincy is reported suffering with a fractured neck and head injuries.

Members of the Rebekah Lodge enjoyed potluck supper before their Nov. 18th regular meeting.

Norman Terrance spoke at the Nov. 18th meeting of the Brown County RAD held at the Farm Bureau Building here. Terrance is an FHA representative.

HOLD LOCAL MAN ON LICENSE LAW

A Jacksonville man was held in custody of the Morgan county sheriff Saturday night after he was apprehended at the junction of Ill. 104 and Ill. 100 that afternoon.

Paul Reynolds, 42, of 703 North Main street, is charged with driving after license revocation and improper parking on the highway.

Reynolds was taken into custody by state police about 4:45 p.m. after a passer-by reported seeing a man slumped over the wheel of a parked car at the junction.

SAUD TO RETURN HOME

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Ex-King Saud of Saudi Arabia may soon return to his desert homeland from exile in Europe, diplomatic sources reported.

Saud was dethroned a year ago by his brother Faisal and left last January after recognizing Faisal as monarch. The sources reported intermediaries arranged the return on a Saud pledge to stay out of politics.

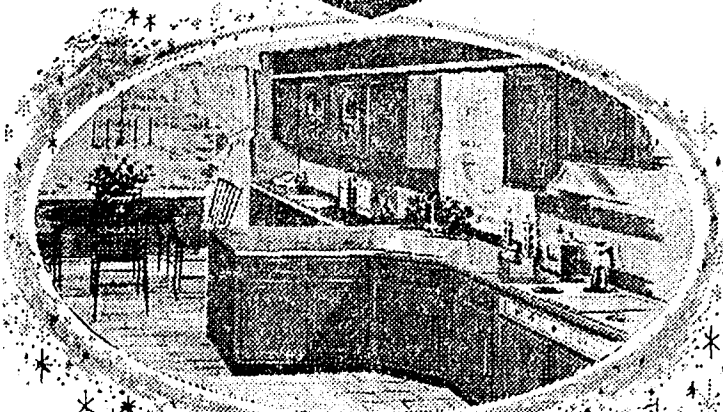

Card Of Thanks

Many thanks to the doctors and nurses of Passavant hospital. Special thanks to friends and relatives for cards and flowers.

ASK FEDERATED CLUB TO BUY SAVINGS BONDS

Members of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will help the U.S. Treasury Department in a nation wide Savings Bond campaign. The objective is to enroll at least 50% of the membership in each local club through the purchase of one or more Savings Bonds. The IFWC president, Mrs. James M. Se-graves, through the Citizenship Division chairman, is encouraging Savings Bonds as gifts.

The Treasury Department will give a special award to any club attaining this goal by Jan.
1, 1966. The period for enrollment in this campaign started on Labor Day, 1965. If the 50% is reached by any club, it should be reported to IFWC officers.
Mrs. Lawrence Mallicoat is Citizenship chairman of District Twenty.

All clubs are urged to participate in the Hallmark contest.
Mrs. Fred Strang, District Art chairman, urges all high school seniors to enter. The theme this year is "Help Freedom Grow."
Contest blanks are available through Mrs. Strang, White Hall, Ill. All entries must reach
IFWC headquarters by March 15, 1966. Scholarship prizes of $1,000, $750 and $600, will be given. IFWC will give $100 to the state winner.

Clippings from clubs should be sent now for the club, district and IFWC presidents Press Books. Any clipping with District Twenty, IFWC and GFWC news is desired.

Mrs. Lester Reed, District
Twenty president, urges all clubs to join in all Federation contests and projects.

HILLVIEW 4-H CLUB

City Basketball Teams Prepare For Season Openers

By BUFORD GREEN
Sports Editor

Local Hoopsters Hard At Work

It's still about a week and a half before basketball in the city gets underway full scale, but the five local hardcourt outfits are at work preparing for openers.

Overall one has to say it looks like a so-so year all the way around in Jacksonville. None of the teams will be world beaters, none should be way down. This is the reaction all five city coaches, three prep, two college, give on questioning. All five are cautious.

This would be a marked reversal from the last time around, when four of the local teams suffered disappointing years, and one had the best in 12 years.

Lettermen are scarce at three of the schools, plentiful at the other two. Jacksonville and MacMurray have only three returning veterans, IC nine, Routt two and ISD seven.

Jacksonville, 25-5 last year with a trip to the state tournament, lists only one if its top seven and three of the top 12 back in camp. Ron Coleman, a 6-2 jumping-jack with a good shooting eye, is the lone starter back, and will have to carry a major load this year.

Steve Tavender and Gary Ginder, a pair of 6-2 seniors, are the other two returning lettermen, and will be favorites for starting roles. An improving lot of juniors is showing good promise in practice, according to coach Rich Jones, and Crimson fortunes are not necessarily as bad as a lot of people think.

"The boys have been looking real good in practice, they are moving good and have a real good attitude," says Jones. "You can throw a blanket over the junior guards and junior forwards. They all look pretty good, but we haven't had time to see them a lot yet."

A major Crimsons problem may be the lack of a big man, as three-year center Steve Bone, 6-6, graduated, leaving JHS without a tried center. Also missing is a playmaker, as all-state guard Creston Whitaker and floor-men Dean Hess and Dennis Sergeant have departed.

The Crimsons open up Dec. 4 with an expected tough Alton club that produced a good crop of juniors last year. Havana and Hannibal were dropped from the regular schedule this year, being replaced by Lincoln and Thornton of Harvey, a perennially-tough Chicago area outfit. Gillespie and Crane Tech are new teams in the JHS four-team tourney in January, along with JHS and Hannibal, Missouri.

Rockets Small, Inexperienced

The lack of experience and height is a problem familiar with Routt as well this year. They list only two veterans, and very little size.

Lone returnees are 5-11 forward John Zeller and 6-0 guard-forward Mike Fitzpatrick. From there new coach Marvin West will have to look to some untried juniors and seniors, and perhaps a trio of sophomores that have been looking good in practice.

"We are going to have to depend on inexperience, but the boys have shown good spirit and attitude. I just hope we can improve before the year is over. The lack of size will definitely hurt," says West.

"We will probably try to run more and fast break, to compensate for the lack of size."

Two promising juniors Dick Zeller and Ken McGinnis, probably won't be ready by the Nov. 30 opener because of football injuries. Biggest man on the Rocket team will be 6-3 senior Norman Zeller.

Routt finished with a 10-12 record in the last campaign.

Seven Lettermen At ISD

The ISD Tigers will have seven returning lettermen ready for duty when they open at Girard this Tuesday, but the westsiders will again be on the short side.

Second-year coach Mike Moore is hoping the Tigers can do much better than last year when the Tigers opened with a victory then dropped their last 19 games in a row.

Top returnee is 6-1 senior forward Ray Richardson, the second leading scorer from last year. Richardson will have to carry a big scoring load for the Tigers the first semester. He is ineligible after that.

Other lettermen at ISD are 5-11 Larry Marousek, 5-8 Jesse Joyner, 5-10 Harry Bloomgreen, 5-8 Danny George, 5-10 Richard Thing and 6-0 Walter Nieslushowski. Richardson is the only man on the squad over the six foot level.

Blueboys Show Promise

Illinois College's Blueboys have nine returning lettermen, a good crop of freshmen and an excellent shot at surpassing last year's 5-16 record. The Blueboys came on strong near the end, and have that crop of then underclassmen plus some promising newcomers.

Veteran coach Bill Morris has been well pleased with the play of his veterans thus far in practice. "We have a better freshman crop than usual, more good ball players in general," says Morris.

"The boys have been showing steady improvement, starting with the end of last year. I hesitate to make any predictions but I have been enthusiastic so far."

Max Greer and Jim Bruner are the only seniors on the team, and both were regulars last year. Greer for the third season. Guard Bucky Sullivan, 5-9, and 6-4 center Dick Dickens were regulars last year, Dickens for the second semester only.

Dick Clough, another junior, operated mostly as sixth man last year, and did a good job in the spot. Gene Gourley, a junior lettermen, like Clough, from Carrollton, will probably not see any action the first semester because of a broken foot.

Sophomore lettermen are 6-4 Paul Runkle, Rushville, Pete Gallatin, 5-11, and 6-1 Dan Runkle from Rushville. All three played a lot near the end of last season.

New boys Morris is pleased to include 6-2 Charles Martin, freshman from North Greene and a good jumper; Ted Pardo, a 5-9 guard from Pinckneyville; Russell Ross, a 6-1 forward from Carrollton; Larry Greathouse, a 6-4 center from Sreator; Kevin Lawrence, a 5-10 guard from Lincoln; Roger Spencer, 5-9 guard from Winchester; Chuck Ross, 6-0 guard from Waverly; and sophomore Ken Stauffer, from Perry.

Others Morris is looking at include Bob Gillingham, 6-1 forward from Carrollton, 6-5 center Rich Phillips from Rushville, Mike Harris, 6-1 forward from Beardstown and Rich Daley, 6-4 forward from Chicago Lane Tech.

Only Three Veterans At Mac

With the loss of the entire starting five from the MacMurray basketball squad, coach Bill Wall's Highlanders will be built around three returning letter winners: juniors Fred Lewis, 5-7, and 6-0 Chuck Hundley, and sophomore Dave Berst, 6-5.

Sophomore Steve Proesel, 6-3, will add another ex-

MACMURRAY VETS: Three Highlanders are the only returning lettermen back at MacMurray this year. L-r are Chuck Hundley, Dave Berst and Fred Lewis. All were part-time starters last campaign when the Highlanders were 9-16.

Triopia Again Top Threat For PMSC Honors

CHAPIN — Despite the loss of four key players from last year, the Triopia Trojans are again considered a top threat to repeat as the PMSC conference basketball champion.

The Trojans of Coach Don Kemp, who have a long pattern of winning in the PMSC, romped home with a 20-5 state last year, with a perfect 8-0 mark in conference play.

Six returning lettermen bolster the Trojans' hopes for a repeat of the title. Top returnee is two-year lettermen Jim Morrison, a 5-9 playmaker guard.

Other lettermen are 6-2 senior Jim Paul, 6-0 junior Harlan Fricke, 6-0 Bill Meier, 5-10 Tom Burrus and 5-8 Randy Schone.

WINCHESTER — Five returning lettermen, including three who have lettered twice, make Winchester a strong contender for the Illinois Valley conference basketball title this season.

Four lettermen are missing from last year's 11-13 squad, including two starters.

Lettermen back are 6-3 Rex Brockhouse, 5-11 Jim McClure, 6-0 Glenn Mikus, 6-0 Buddy Parker and 5-10 Larry Evans.

First-year coach Wayne DesCombes says, "The attitude is good and we have fair height. Mikus, Parker and Brockhouse have considerable experience as they have already lettered twice. Senior Jim McClure and junior Larry Evans both saw a lot of varsity action last year and are definite contenders for starting berths, as is junior Bob Moore."

perenced member to the senior-less Clan outfit.

Rounding out the probable starting lineup will be either Tom Cochran, 6-0, from Springfield, or Charlie Chappell, 5-7, both sophomores. The starting unit would in either case be composed of two juniors and three sophomores, none of whom have had any big amount of starting experience at Mac.

With a 27-game schedule on tap, the quality of the bench will be a major factor in any success the Highlanders achieve.

"Our freshmen are the key to this year," comments Wall, "and we have a good crop this season."

Two very promising freshmen are forwards Al Killoran and Bob Alexander, both 6-3, who possess good shots and are big enough to lend help on the boards. Both men should be seeing a great deal of action for the Highlanders.

The Clan will open in town Dec. 1 against Blackburn.

Rowland And IC Earn Titles In NAIA Figures

CHARLESTON — Undeclared on the field, Illinois Wesleyan University also won the battle of statistics in District 20 (Illinois) of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The Titans were at the top of the list in one team and four individual categories — five of the statistical rankings.

Mike Neal, a junior home-town product from Bloomington, was the district's leading scorer with 78 points and also ranked as the top pass receiver with 64.9 yards per game.

His aerial teammate, Steve Laub (Colfax junior), was the top-ranking passer with 1,376 yards through the air — an average of 172 yards per game.

And senior Dave McMinn (Bloomington) won the punting title for the second straight year with a 42.2-yard average.

Breaking IWU's individual domination were Eastern Illinois University senior Roger Haberer (Pocahontas) and Illinois College sophomore Tom Rowland (Rushville).

Haberer shaded Laub in total offense by gaining 168.7 yards per game, and Rowland averaged 106 yards rushing. NAIA statistics are based on game average.

Team titles were split among five schools. Illinois Wesleyan had the top passing attack and Illinois College the leading ground offense with 237.0 per game, but Elmhurst led in total offense. North Central led in rushing defense and total defense, with North Park having the top pass defenders.

Warriors Second In Mat Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Three firsts and four seconds helped the IBSSS wrestling Warriors to gain second place in the annual White Cane Tournament, held here Saturday.

Firsts by the IBSSS squad were registered by T. J. Cravens at 127, James Crockett at 133 and by heavyweight Steve Baugh. The Warrior captain registered pins in both his matches.

Indiana Blind won the meet for the third year in a row, piling up 90 points. Illinois followed with 78, with Kentucky third with 77 points.

Seconds by the local team were registered by Gary Forsyth at 95, Jerry Spinner at 145, Ken Staley at 154 and Bill Mitchell at 165. The latter two each had a pin.

Pat Curtin, Bill Smith, Russ Cygan and Rick Parrish garnered thirds for the Warriors.

The championship match in Las Vegas will start at 10:30 p.m., EST.

NEW YORK (AP) — Three theaters in London, Glasgow and Birmingham, England, have sold all 9,100 seats for Monday night's Cassius Clay-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight to be beamed across the ocean by the Early Bird satellite, at 3:30 a.m., British time.

The championship match in Las Vegas will start at 10:30 p.m., EST.

With a 27-game schedule on tap, the quality of the bench will be a major factor in any success the Highlanders achieve.

Mrs. Ronald Delmore Lane

Lane-McKenzie

An early afternoon ceremony Saturday, November thirteenth, united in marriage Miss Vicki Lee McKenzie and Ronald Delmore Lane of this city. The nuptials were solemnized at one o'clock at the Salem Lutheran church with the Reverend Herbert C. Rose officiating. Bronze and gold mums were used at the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Pillschafsky, 602 Webster avenue and the groom is the son of Delmar Lane, 303 West College avenue and Mrs. Paul Thady of Murrayville.

The bride had three attendants, Miss Cheryl Swien of Macon, Missouri was maid of honor and Miss Cheryl Hawkins of this city and Miss Rita Jean Vaughn, Springfield, were bridesmaids.

Joseph Konrad and Lindy Woodward of this city were groomsmen and Lonnie Lane of Effingham was best man. Terry and Erlin Thady were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white satin on empire lines. A crown of French crystals and pearls held her shoulder veil of illusion.

The bride's attendants were groomed in light satin and wore headresses to match their costumes. Their flowers were bronze and yellow mums.

The bride's mother wore a beige suit with dark brown accessories and a corsage of bronze cluster mums. The groom's mother was in a gold wool suit with brown accessories and wore a corsage of bronze mums.

At the reception held in the school social room the following assisted: Mildred Cruse, Marie Pillschafsky of Springfield and Judy Konrad.

After a wedding trip to the Missouri Ozarks the newlyweds took up residence at 810 Grove street.

Both young people graduated from Jacksonville High School in 1965. The bride is employed in the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, State of Illinois, in Jacksonville and the groom is employed by Warelubco, Inc. in this city.

Woodson Club Remembers Its Boys In Service

Mrs. Charles David Eberhard

Eberhard and Jording

A Jacksonville resident, Miss Juanita Marie Jording, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Jording of this city, and Charles David Eberhard of Omaha, Nebraska were united in marriage Saturday evening, November thirteenth.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend F. S. Falkenroth at St. Mark's Lutheran church in Omaha. There were one hundred and fifty guests. The parents of the bride entertained at a reception at the church immediately following the ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Walter Renner of Irwin, Ohio, as matron of honor; Miss Gayle Padgett, Omaha, bridesmaid and Mrs. Kenneth Jording, Omaha, her sister-in-law, as bridesmatron.

Sandy and Randy Jording, niece and nephew of the bride of Jacksonville were flower girl and ring bearer.

The groom, son of E. W. Eberhard and Mrs. Gordon Joy of Sioux City, Iowa, was attended by John Reppert, Kansas City, Missouri, as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were William White, Sioux City, Iowa and Richard Smith of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Given in marriage by her brother, Donald Jording of Wheatland, Wyoming, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of delustered satin with Alencon lace applique. Her veil of silk illusion was secured to a half-hat of lace with pearl studded satin rosettes. She carried white roses with her white prayer book.

The bride's attendants were groomed alike. The floor length skirts were royal blue brocade and the bodices light blue crepe. They carried bouquets of blue and white spider mums.

The little flower girl wore royal blue, made identically to the gowns worn by the bride's attendants and carried a white basket filled with flowers.

Ken Jording was the soloist during the prelude. White glads and mums were used at the candlelighted altar.

Since returning from a week's trip to Missouri and Illinois the newlyweds are living at 4915 Cass in Omaha.

Mrs. Eberhard graduated from Jacksonville High School and attended the Commercial Extension School of Commerce in Omaha. She is employed as a clerk by the Physicians Mutual Insurance in Omaha, Nebraska.

The groom graduated from East High School in Sioux City, Iowa and from Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Kentucky. He is vice president of the Seymour Abstract and Title Company in Omaha.

Marinate drained canned asparagus in olive oil and wine vinegar. Serve on salad greens with slices of tomato or red onion.

Bauer-Butler

GRIGGSVILLE — Last Sunday at the local Methodist church Miss Judy Butler and A. D. Bauer were united in marriage by the Rev. Prentice Douglas.

Emerald palms were used at the candlelighted altar draped in aqua and white satin. Norman Turnbull sang during the prelude.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Butler Sr. of Griggsville and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bauer of Pittsfield, rural route.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a long-sleeved formal wedding gown of white peau de soie with pearl encrusted Alencon lace applique. Her veil of illusion pouffed from a double pearl crown centered with a peau de soie rose and she carried a cascade of white Frenched mums with aqua tinted centers.

Miss Pat Bauer, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and Miss Jean Roberts was bridesmaid. They were groomed alike in floor length dresses of aqua crystaletta over matching color taffeta. Each wore a veiled bow headress and carried a cascade of white daisy pompons.

Charles Lowery of Riverdale, was best man and Robert Frazier, Pittsfield, was groomsmen. Ushers were John, Don and Fred Butler Jr. and Greg Dickerson.

The bride's mother wore a teal blue wool jersey costume with brown accessories and the groom's mother was in a royal blue wool jersey ensemble with corresponding accessories. Both wore white mum corsages.

A reception was held at the Good Shepherd Hall after the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Genevieve Roberts, Mrs. Zoe Aiken, Mrs. Betty Lowe, Mrs. Marie Barnd, Mrs. Gail Stickman, Miss Carolyn Capps, Miss Nancy Roberts and Miss Christine Windmiller.

The newlyweds are making their home at 423 South Madison street in Pittsfield since returning from a wedding trip to southern states.

The bride graduated from Griggsville High School and from the Quincy Beauty Academy. She owns and operates Judy's Kut n'Kurl Salon in Pittsfield. The groom graduated from Pittsfield High School and is employed by Gerard Trucking in Pittsfield.

Joan Brockhouse, Reginald Cummins Plan Wedding

Announcement is made by her parents of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Joan Kay Brockhouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Brockhouse of Versailles to Reginald Cummins, son of Mrs. Eleanor Cummins, Jacksonville route four. They plan to be married Saturday, November 27th, in Jacksonville.

Miss Brockhouse graduated from Brown County High School at Mt. Sterling and from the Flamingo Beauty College in this city. She is employed at the Myers Bros. Beauty Salon in Jacksonville. Mr. Cummins, a graduate of Jacksonville High School, is a sales representative for P. Lorillard Co.

SMILE FOR BEAUTY

Put a smile in your beauty routine. Frowning, squinting or grotesque facial expressions encourage ugly lines. Smile lines and pleasant expressions are the ones that give the faces of elderly people a special kind of beauty. Even teen-agers should practice the smile-for-beauty.

TEN NEW MEMBERS were initiated into the Jacksonville Junior Woman's Club at its Nov. 11th dinner meeting held at the Blackhawk restaurant.

H. A. (Bud) Ohms Jr., public relations administrator for General Telephone Company of Illinois was the featured speaker. The program, "Seconds for Survival," dealt with NORAD (the North American Air Defense Command) and the role telephone companies play in this area of defense.

Club members viewed a movie showing the country's air defense in action during a simulated attack. Following the film, a telephone call was placed to NORAD headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colorado, where a briefing officer answered questions from the group. Ohms was introduced and assisted by Chuck Merritt, office manager of the General Telephone Company's Jacksonville office.

Mrs. Lester Reed, president of the twentieth district IFWC, welcomed new members and extended an invitation to all members to hear Major Edgar Bundy speak on "How Secure Is American Security?" November 13 at MacMurray.

District No. 9 Safety Officer, Jack Ryan discussed ways of reducing traffic accidents and the possibility of forming a class in Jacksonville for driver improvement.

Announcement was made of the appointment of Mrs. Robert Tucker as chairman of mental health department in the 20th District IFWC.

Board members met prior to the dinner meeting Thursday and appointed Mrs. W. W. Harris publicity chairman to fill a vacancy left by Mrs. William Delaney.

The December 9th meeting will be followed with Christmas caroling by club members.

This Little Pig Goes To College—Papa Stays Home

Eighteen pigs from Scott county — brothers, sisters, half-brothers and half-sisters—are now living well regulated lives in special quarters on the swine research farm at the University of Illinois.

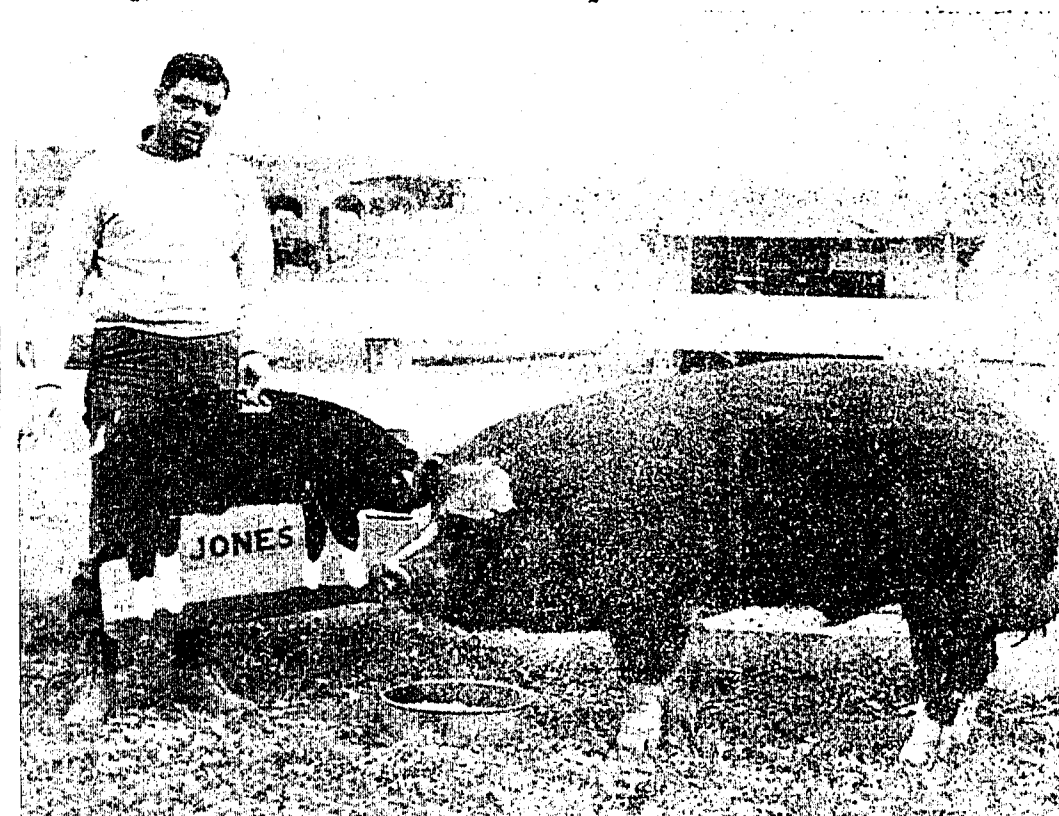

They're Poland China pigs from the herd of LaVern Jones & Sons of near Glasgow. In nearby pens are as many other Illinois pigs, representing all the popular breeds of swine raised in the state.

R. G. Kaufman, U.I. animal scientist, thinks he has found a technique for determining the true age of a hog. He's using a large group of pigs from litter mate sows bred by the same boar to see whether his theory is any good.

In earlier days practically every man or boy on the farm — and many city folks — could tell the age of a horse simply by looking in his mouth. This system was easy to learn and was fairly accurate.

Kaufman's theory is much more elaborate and deals with the eyes. Some people interested in his work call it "the eyeball test" and others term it "the eyelid test." To be of any practical use it will have to be considerably more accurate than any system now used, and much more than the "look in his mouth" technique.

man Keys, left, hauled him off to Champaign county.

The 18 youngsters are all the sons and daughters of Master Model III, shown in the second photo. He's been in Scott county since August, 1964. At the 1964 state fair in South Dakota he was the junior Poland China champion. From there he went to Austin, Minn., to compete in the National Swine Show. There he was rated No. 3 and in the auction that followed Jones decided Master Model needed a good home not too far from Sandy Creek and that's where he's been for the past 15 months.

Jones reported that his herd was the first in Morgan or Scott county to be validated as "brucellosis free" by the Division of Livestock Industry, Illinois Department of Agriculture. Over the months the eradication program was conducted by veterinarians William C. Gross of Jacksonville and G. L. Childress of Roodhouse working in cooperation with the state and the U.I. College of Veterinary Medicine, Urbana.

Annual Sheep Day Program Dec. 10

Research reports on stillbirth influence on lamb feed efficiency and the use of the K-40 counter to measure meatiness in live animal carcasses are two highlights of the annual University of Illinois Sheep Day scheduled for Friday Dec. 10, on the U. of I. campus.

Lime, Phosphate Funds Available

The Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service office announces that some A.C.P. funds are available for anyone interested in spreading limestone or rock phosphate. This material would be spread between now and December 31, 1965.

Ground where this material is spread, eligibility requires that a legume seedling be made this year, next year, or by May 31, 1967.

The reason funds are available at this time is because a number of cancellations were received on preferred practices that could not be completed or started this year.

Wallace T. Hembrough, office manager, states that anyone interested should contact the local A.C.S.C. office, 15 Permac Road, Jacksonville.

The speaking program begins at 10 a.m. in the Stock Pavilion. Early visitors can tour the sheep farm research facilities during an open house that begins at 8:30.

Other features of the morning program include reports on supplementing silage with non-protein nitrogen, slotted floors for early-weaned lambs and pasture and forage for sheep.

The afternoon program features a welcome by O. G. Bentley, new dean of the U. of I. College of Agriculture; a look at sheep production, past, present and future, by D. S. Bell of the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, and a talk entitled "How Can We Improve Sheep Production in Illinois?" by Gary Ricketts, U. of I. extension sheep specialist.

Of special interest to most visitors should be the discussion of research results with non-protein nitrogen. U. of I. animal scientists pioneered in the development of rations containing urea and are now doing extensive work with both urea and biuret.

A tour of the K-40 counter and the discussion of its potential for sheep producers is expected to be of high interest to visitors also. The counter uses radioactive isotopes to measure the degree of carcass meatiness in live animals. The student Hoof and Horn club will serve a luncheon in the Stock Pavilion between the morning and afternoon sessions. The program will adjourn at 2:30 p.m.

ILLINOIS OUTLOOK LETTER

SOYBEAN SUPPLY SITUATION CHANGES

The soybean market has been unusual this fall. Market supplies have been very tight, and farmers have been unusually bullish. This situation has made for relatively high prices during harvest, which will tend to restrict the seasonal price advance during the remainder of the marketing year.

Shortage to abundance. The soybean supply situation is changing from shortage to abundance. There was practically no carry-over of old soybeans this year. Stocks of old beans on September 1 were estimated at only 30 million bushels. This was about a two-week supply, but it was not evenly divided among the various users. Some processors and exporters had no old beans on hand. The soybean crop matured a day or so later than usual and several days later than in 1964. Furthermore, heavy rains in August and September delayed harvesting. The rains made fields too muddy and kept the soybeans too wet for harvest.

Farmers Are Bullish. Farmers have not been anxious to sell, even after they harvested their beans. Several factors combined have caused them to be bullish about soybean prices: (1) They generally doubt that the crop is as large as the official reports indicate. (2) They remember the strong advance in soybean prices that occurred last fall. (3) They expect that the international conflict may heat up. (4) They believe that shortages in other nations may force them to buy considerably more soybeans from the United States. (5) Many farmers have had an unusually good year—so they do not want to have any more income to pay taxes on this year. (This last is not exactly a bullish factor, but it is probably an important reason for farmers' delay in selling soybeans.)

Big Bean Crop. The soybean crop may not be quite so large as the official estimates indicate, but it is much larger than some farmers may think. While yields were not high, the acreage was much larger than ever before. The acreage for harvest was 34.6 million—about 13 percent more than last year and 21 percent more than two years ago.

In October the 1965 soybean crop was estimated at 862 million bushels, up from approximately 700 million in each of the past two years. (The November estimate is not available at this writing.) This amount is 133 million bushels (17 percent) more than was used and exported during the past year.

Storage Costs High. Costs of storing soybeans are substantial. The interest charge alone is about 1 1/2 cents per bushel per month. The charges for elevator storage range from 5 to 10 cents, depending in part upon the length of storage. If beans are stored on the farm, there will be shrinkage—and after April 1 a property tax liability of about 2 cents per bushel.

Tops In Illinois

FOUR MORGAN COUNTY youths won individual state awards during the year for their work in 4-H.

Vernie Thomas of the Arcadia Aces (center) will attend Club Congress which opens in Chicago next Sunday for his work in entomology. His exhibits in the field of "bugology" have delighted many professionals in that field and have won blue ribbons whenever entered in county fairs and the Illinois state fair.

Bob Reiser of the Berea Ag club, at left, won the state 4-H club leadership award and Wayne Bloomfield, also of Berea, won the state public speaking contest held in conjunction with the Illinois state fair last August.

The fourth winner from Morgan county was Miss Kathy Wright of the Peppy Peppers. She placed second in the prized Danforth Leadership award competition, which is practically the honor guard of 4-H. Next summer she will be a guest of the Danforth Foundation at its Minnawanna Leadership Camp at Stony Lake, Mich., and as an alumnae will be privileged to return in future summers. Miss Wright is busy at her studies in home economics at the University of Illinois and her varied duties as "Miss Pork Queen of Illinois" and was unable to attend the annual Achievement Day program held here November 6.

To Open Swine Buying Station

CARROLLTON — The largest livestock marketing cooperative in the nation will open a hog buying facility in Greene county south of junction of 108 and route 67 about Dec. 1.

The market will be owned by Illinois Producers Livestock association, an affiliate of Farm Bureau, and the manager will be Robert Walleck, who is being transferred from Tampico, Whiteside county, where he was manager of the IPLA market there.

The yards will be open five days weekly. IPLA now operates 40 similar country markets in Illinois and Iowa and also serves farmers at the terminal markets in Chicago, Peoria and Springfield. In addition IPLA procures hundreds of thousands of feeder livestock for their patrons.

L. L. Colvis is the general manager of the Illinois Producers Livestock association.

Jean Ann Norman

WINCHESTER — A Scott county 4-H member, Jean Ann Norman, will attend the 1966 National 4-H Conference next April in Washington, D.C. Club leadership and community and county activities are considered in selection of a delegate along with her or his overall 4-H program work. Delegates are selected by the University of Illinois 4-H staff.

Jean Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Norman, Winchester route three.

SEA LAMPREYS REDUCED

MARQUETTE, MICH. (AP)—The Bureau of Commercial Fisheries says electrical traps in streams flowing from the United States into Lake Superior have caught about 6,000 sea lampreys thus far this year. Based on similar counts over the past eight years, the 1965 lamprey run probably will total between 9 and 12 thousand.

Proper Insecticides Aid To Poultryman, But Caution Needed

Properly used insecticides can save time and money in poultry operations. But, when improperly used, they can cause untold problems and loss of money.

The so-called chlorinated hydrocarbon group of insecticides can be a trouble-maker for poultrymen because no tolerance of them is permitted in eggs, report Hugh S. Johnson and S. F. Riden, University of Illinois poultry extension specialists. When poultry eat anything containing these chemicals, a detectable level remains in the body fat and eggs.

Research shows that as small an amount of DDT as one-tenth part per million in feed produces detectable levels of the chemical in eggs within one week. This result clearly points out the importance of keeping DDT and certain other compounds away from poultry, Johnson and Riden say. After consultation with U. of I. entomologists, they recommend that these insecticides not be used in any form around poultry houses: aldrin, BHC, chlordane, DDT, dieldrin, heptachlor, lead arsenate, lindane, methoxychlor, Phosdrin, parathion, Thimet, TDE and toxaphene.

But not all insecticides are chlorinated hydrocarbons, they point out. If directions are followed closely and feed and water are not contaminated, both malathion and Cora are safe to use directly on birds, in nests, on litter and roosts and on walls and ceiling of the house. But Cora should not be used more than once a week or within 10 days of a stress period, such as that following vaccination.

Direct Application. Sevin can be used directly on the birds, litter and roosts and the walls and ceiling of the house. But it should not be used within seven days of the time birds go to market or more often than once every four weeks.

A variety of other insecticides can be used on walls or ceiling. This group includes Korlan spray, dimethion bands and syrup water baits of DDVP, Dibrom or Korlan. Cygon and diazinon are satisfactory to use for fly control if you remove the birds during treatment.

Dibrom as a dust, rotenone and sulphur as sprays and nicotine sulphate as a roost paint have label approval, but are less effective than the other insecticides mentioned.

Records Important. Johnson and Riden advise poultrymen to keep accurate records on all chemicals they use. The records will provide a basis for measuring results and also serve as a guide for future use. If residue problems do arise, the records may help to determine the source of the trouble.

On the records, list all insecticides, other chemicals, drugs and feed additives used on the farm. Include the name of the chemical, its formulation and brand name, reason for its use, rate of application, dosage, date purchased, date used, method of treatment and the person who recommended the treatment.

As a final word of caution, Johnson and Riden emphasize the need to select the right insecticide for the job you have to do. Read labels carefully, and handle all materials with care.

Clemons Heads Circleville 4-H Club

ASHLAND — David Clemons was elected president of the Circleville 4-H club when the group met recently for the first time.

Other officers include Jamie Gardner, vice president; Pam Pschirrer, secretary; Lynn Pschirrer, treasurer; Johnny Spradlin, reporter; Tom Stripling, sergeant-at-arms; and Charles Aggett, leader.

The leader and officers will meet at a later date to plan activities for the coming year. A family potluck will be held in December, date to be announced later.

Ashland Briefs. A film strip on the "Patriarchal Age" was shown by Brother James Cook at the Fellowship supper held in the basement of the Church of Christ Nov. 15.

Mrs. Marjorie Bloomfield entertained members of the Prentice Goodwill club at her home recently. Sixteen members were present.

Plans were made for a Christmas party for members and their families to be held Dec. 12 at Yatesville. Games were enjoyed during the social hour and refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Judy Atwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Brown and daughter, Debbie, who have been visiting here at the home of Mrs. Brown's mother, Mrs. Ruth Bryant, have returned to their home in Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldie Wells of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., spent the fore part of the week here at the home of Mrs. Wells' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Seiber Quinley. The Wells' left here for a few days visit in Chicago with relatives.

John Reiser, Jr., is a patient in St. John's hospital, Springfield.

Miss Aileen Dullenty has returned home from a several days visit in Morrison with a sister and brother, and also with a sister in Litchfield.

BEARDSTOWN MOM WORRIES ABOUT SON IN VIETNAM

BEARDSTOWN — Mrs. Clifford Brockhouse, 1401 Washington street, a waitress at the Arrow Restaurant has been one of the local mothers concerned about sons in Viet Nam.

She has had no letter from her son Billie Clark, 22, since October, but finally received a letter Nov. 18 indicating all is well.

He's a gunner and works from the doorway of a helicopter in the Plei Me sector, as a member of a mobile cavalry unit. Clark finished a three year stretch in the army a few months ago and reenlisted.

YESTERYEAR

You Oughta Been Here Yesterday

"You oughta been here yesterday," Pete said with a smile. "You'd seen something you could tell your grandkids about, what with me losing $12,288 and glad I did."

As you suspect, the narrator was no ordinary man.

He was Pete Gingery, the proprietor of a combination confectionery, tobacco shop and poolroom on the north side of the square in Mt. Pulaski, Logan county, Ill., at the time—1916.

Pete, bald-pated with extremely bushy eyebrows and a walrus moustache, was doing the talking. He was seated in a massive oak armchair that seemed to have been especially designed for a man of his height—around 260.

This chair was a gift from his ever-loving wife, who got it by buying the groceries under the Larkin plan.

He had a fly-swatter in his hand and there was a fly buzzing around, because flies and bees dearly loved Pete.

Four or five guys were sitting around in the front end of the place. They were interested, interested very much, in how Pete lost $12,288 and how he could so nonchalant about it.

A New Listener

Just then in came a drummer for Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. of St. Louis. At that time L. & M. made most of their money from plug tobacco, and Pete was a good account—selling as much as a caddy of Star tobacco a week because, as Pete put it, "I always deliver a square cut."

A caddy was a wooden box that held 24 pounds of chewing tobacco in one-pound plugs, each about 15 inches long. One side was dented by five cross-creases, equidistant; the other side by seven creases. The price per cut was 10c. The merchant could slice the long plug into eight pieces, or he could cut it into six. The latter was almost square, which is how Pete sold it.

Pete always said, "When the day comes that I can't give a man a square cut for his money that will be the day I want to go out of business, go to heaven and spend eternity playing pool—straight rotation pool, that is."

Pete beamed at the drummer.

Lost With A Smile

"Come in, Mr. Drummer, and take a chair. I was just about to tell how yesterday I lost $12,288 and was glad I did."

The recruit to the captive audience took the only chair left, the one with the busted cane bottom.

"Yep," Pete said, "yesterday was a big day in my life, but today is sorta an anniversary, you might say. A year ago today I cured Alex Lucas of sucking toothpicks."

"Now, Mr. Drummer, everybody hereabouts knows Alex and remembers how I cured him of going around all the time wallowing a toothpick in his mouth."

"I'm pretty sure it was just a year ago today. At the time I marked it on the calendar, but this morning I was looking for the calendar and couldn't find it. That's one fault of mine: I'm always mislaying documents and when I want to refer to them I can't find them."

"That reminds me of the time a couple of months ago, maybe it was longer than that, when Tom Scroggins called me by phone. Mr. Drummer, everybody present knows, and for all I know maybe you know, Tom runs the local bank."

A Difference in Calls

"Well, anyway, Tom called me and told me that my account was overdrawn by $18.21. Of course I didn't know that because, as I just said, I am careless about documents."

"So I asked Tom: You got the records. How much money did I have in your establishment a year ago?"

THANKSGIVING DAY — 1865
Hanging Up The Musket
—Frank Leslie's Newspaper

"So Tom looked it up and said: $121.10."

"So I said: Well, Tom, did I call you up then?"

"Tom hung up on me, but the next time I met him on the street he smiled, and just shook his head, friendly like. Tom never comes into my establishment, but then there are getting to be more hen-pecked husbands in the country every day."

A Great Day

"Well, anyway, just a year ago Alex Lucas came in, with a toothpick in his mouth, as usual."

"So I said: Alex, you'd better quit sucking on them toothpicks all the time."

"Alex said: Why?"

"So I says: How old are you, Alex?"

"He says: 37."

"I says: Well, this poor fellow I'm about to tell you about was 38. I remember it very well, because I had to testify at the inquest and his age was brought out then."

"Alex didn't say anything, just looked at me kinda inquiring like, so I said: Did you lose your hair at an early age, Alex?"

"Alex shifted his toothpick

DOMESTIC

November, 1865

It is believed that gold has been discovered on the farm of Abiah Keene, in Leeds, Mo. The story goes that ores supposed to be gold were found in the crop of a duck, and that on digging in a gulch which the duck had frequented, specimens of similar ore were found. The ores were sent to Prof. Haynes, Boston, and pronounced to be gold.

Mr. Harris, of New Orleans, walked from Monday night, at seven o'clock, until Friday night, at 11 o'clock—100 consecutive hours—without stopping to rest, eat or sleep. He walked for a wager, and won it. We do not learn whether he was refreshed by the exercise.

Wives are greatly in demand in the neighborhood of the Rocky Mountains. A healthy woman will bring any price in that region. The bachelors have grown desperate and they have determined to marry or perish.

There is a dancing master in Boston, who has for pupils the grandchildren of some of his early scholars.

A Jackson, Miss., paper makes a proposition to raise a fund of half a million dollars, by the contributions exclusively of soldiers who served in the rebel army, to purchase Jeff. Davis a residence in some foreign country—after he is pardoned and liberated. Each private soldier is to give a dollar, and those who were commissioned officers, will be allowed to contribute at their discretion.

The St. Paul PRESS describes the late execution at Fort Snelling of the two Indians, Tah-tahammanne, alias Medicine Bottle, and Shakopee, alias Little Six, sentenced upon the charge of participating in the massacre of 1862. Their apparent indifference to the fate which awaited them, was truly astonishing. They sat and smoked away at their pipes as though their days on earth were unnumbered.

A Chinaman in San Francisco, being kicked out of the shop of a Jew, upon picking himself up, exclaimed: "You bad man; me all time know you bad man; you kill Melican Josh." The point will be understood when it's known that Josh is the Chinese for God.

November, 1865

"Jack," said a gay young fellow at a ball, to his companion, "what can possibly induce those two old snuff-taking dowagers to be here to-night? I am sure they will not add, in the least, to the brilliancy of the scene."

"Pardon me," replied the other gravely, "for not agreeing with you; but, for my part, I really think that where there are so many lights of beauty, there may be some occasion for a pair of snuffers."

One day, just as an English officer had arrived at Vienna, the Empress, knowing that he had seen a certain princess, much celebrated for her beauty, asked him if it was really true that she was the most beautiful woman he had ever seen. "I thought so yesterday," he replied.

A Frenchman cannot pronounce "ship." The word sounds "sheep" in his mouth. Seeing an iron-clad, he said to a boy, "Is that a war sheep?" "No," said the boy, "it is a ram."

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Journal: UNION M.E. MEETING

In commemoration of the Centennial of the Methodist Episcopal church in America there will be a grand union meeting of all the M.E. churches of Jacksonville, and the surrounding country, at Strawn's Hall on Sunday, Dec. 10th, at 10 o'clock A.M. and at 6 1/2 P.M. Distinguished speakers from abroad and at home will address the meeting.

GRAND BALL — The members of Union Fire Company No. 1, of Jacksonville, will give a Grand Ball at Strawn's Hall, on Christmas night. This is expected to be a gala occasion, the management being in good hands. Those who wish to attend should secure their tickets early, as a limited number only will be issued.

RUNAWAY — In Mr. Wolcott's mill yard Tuesday last, a farmer drove against the hind end of the wagon belonging to the mill, at which the mill team took fright and ran around the yard, scattering portions of the wagon here and there, literally destroying it, but doing no serious damage to the horses. They were stopped in their race by the railway cars, which lay across the track at the depot.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH — The Christian or Disciple Congregation of this city, some months ago, having employed the Rev. Prof. Alexander Campbell, cousin of the old Bishop of that name, as their Pastor, resolved to build them a house of worship and a lot was secured on East State street. The brick work is now finished and the carpenters are active at work, but the building will hardly be completed this winter.

WM. LLOYD GARRISON is to lecture this evening at Strawn's Hall, before the Sigma Psi Society, Illinois College. His fame is world-wide and the uncompromising and devoted friend of human freedom. From the Jacksonville Sentinel: The notorious sectional agitator, Wm. Lloyd Garrison, lectured at Strawn's Hall on Thursday night; nominal subject, "State of the Nation and Signs of the Times."

AMERICAN OLE BULL — The great violinist, Alf Howard, known as the American Ole Bull, is posted for one of his inimitable musical entertainments at Strawn's Hall to-night. The entertainment will consist of instrumental music on the violin and guitar, and popular ballads. Mr. Howard's entertainments are being highly spoken of by the press.

BALED HAY — Hay by the single bale, or in quantities always kept for sale at the hospital for the Insane. Those having a limited amount of stable room will find this a great convenience at only a slight advance over the cost of hay in bulk. (ADV.)

From the Carrollton Gazette: We are gratified to know that all citizens visiting Carrollton for the first time, are highly pleased with its general appearance. Under the management of our enterprising friend, Hon. L. E. Worcester, a fine new passenger depot and an elegant storehouse have just been erected at Berdan station, between this place and Whitehall. Both of these works are highly creditable to that new town.

We are told the telegraph will be in operation before the holidays.

To give an idea of the way the population of our town and the demand for houses increasing, we will state that a proprietor whose wife died recently, had six applications for the house before she was buried, and in fourteen days the applications numbered forty-three. This is told us by one of the applicants, as a fact.

Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council News

Junior Girl Scout Troop 42 held Investiture Service Monday, November 15 at Lafayette School with Mrs. Jack Stevenson and troop members officiating. Girls who repeated the scout promise and laws were Nancy Farmer, Renee Brennan, Janet Cruse, Joy Simon, Becky Emrick, Lana Cook, Patty Boots, Diana McAllister, and Leigh Anne Davis. They received their pins from Mrs. Robert Caldwell.

Patrol Leaders and Assistant Patrol Leaders were installed by Mrs. James Cruse: Jumping Juniors Patrol, leader Shelley Caldwell, assistant Wendy Simon; Snappy Seven Patrol, leader Diane Stevenson, assistant Becky Emrick; Daisy Lu Patrol, leader April Veness, assistant Lyn Bradney. Officers include Jean Coultas, scribe and Shirley Cruse, treasurer.

Other members of Troop 42 include Mary Ellen Savoie, Cyndee Million, Elizabeth Spink, Lennie Kilam, Gigi Carlet, Penny Fisher and Mascot Lu Lu.

Senior Troop No. 9 will again distribute pumpkin pies to families in Jacksonville for their Thanksgiving dinners. Anyone wishing to donate a pie may call Leader Mrs. Lyle Davis 245-7567 or Mrs. Fryor Bossarte 245-2244. Girl scouts will be at the YMCA from 1 to 3 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 24 to receive pies for the collection. The pies will be delivered the same evening.

News Notes From Girl Scouts Of The U.S.A.

There's a wider canvas to Girl Scout "good turns" than the picture of helping a little old lady across the street. A teacher, overburdened with too many pupils in too many classes, turns over a stack of routine paper work to a 17-year-old Girl Scout, confident the job will be handled competently...

A dog, homesick during its convalescence at an animal hospital, is comforted by the extra attentions of a Girl Scout, skilled as well as sympathetic...

A librarian, striving to satisfy the cultural needs of the community, welcomes the help of a Girl Scout who has learned how to do everything from A to Z...

Such services are more than casual. They represent the work of Senior Girl Scouts, 15 through 17 years old, who have taken special training to back up their altruism with real skill. Senior Girl Scouts receive training in fifteen different Service Aide categories. They serve for a minimum of fifty hours in hospitals, laboratories, museums, libraries, schools, homes and offices, swimming pools or forest conservation areas.

For many a Senior Girl Scout, her "good turn" for others results in a "good turn" for herself, too. Very frequently she finds a vocation in what started as an avocation as a Girl Scout Senior Service Aide.

"Credit" Debated At Toastmistress Dinner Meeting

Members of Entre Nous Toastmistress Club met for dinner at Hamilton's restaurant November 17. Invocation was offered by Mrs. Joe Farran. Topicmistress Mrs. Harold McNamara called on Mrs. R. A. Saner, Mrs. Myron Long and Mrs. John T. Taylor for impromptu television story series and commercials.

President Mrs. Long conducted the business meeting. Mrs. E. I. Jordan presented the educational portion of the meeting, "Gloves — When and How to Wear Them."

A debate, "Buying on Credit," with the question "Can You Afford Credit?" was the program for the evening. On the negative team were Mrs. Albert McGinnis, Mrs. Robert Newport and Mrs. John Pine. Mrs. C. M. Davis, Mrs. Ty Henry, and Mrs. John Keehner defended the affirmative. Mrs. Gerald Loneragan was moderator. Judges were Mrs. R. A. Saner, Mrs. Myron Long and Mrs. Geraldine Taylor.

The Thought for the Day was given by Mrs. C. J. Loneragan. Time for the debate and the meeting was Mrs. Joe Farran. Miss Resa Walsh evaluated the meeting. Hostesses were Miss Resa Walsh and Mrs. C. M. Davis.

Plans for the meeting of all clubs in Council #3 of the South Central Region of International Toastmistress Clubs on November 21 were discussed. Entre Nous club will be hostesses for the meeting at Holiday Inn. Coffee hour will start at 9:30 a.m. Board meeting will be at 10:00 and the business meeting at 10:30. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 and an all-club participation session of Program Planning will be held in the afternoon.

Mrs. Wright Is Household Club Hostess Nov. 16

The Jacksonville Household Science Club met Tuesday, Nov. 16, at the home of Mrs. John B. Wright, 3 Westwood, with Mrs. John Spencer as assistant hostess.

In a paper on "Budgeting Time in a Busy World" Mrs. Hugh Green pointed out that time is the most valuable thing that a man can spend. One astute writer quoted on the subject outlined four rules for daily living. These are to start in time on what has to be done or where one is going, do it now with no energy wasted on procrastination, learn to be selective in spending fixed time income, and take time out to restore zest to living.

Mrs. Green emphasized the importance of organizing one's time and suggested that developing a daily schedule accomplished this purpose. The key to finding time for everything is to seek out the simple and efficient way of doing things.

Preceding the paper members responded to roll call with practical suggestions for making the approaching holidays more meaningful for homes and families.

A social hour followed adjournment with Mrs. John T. Taylor, president, serving at the table.

Miss Anderson, Once Franklin Resident, Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Anderson of Browning, formerly of the Alexander-Franklin community, announce the marriage of their daughter, Kathleen, to Lawrence Rogers Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O. Rogers of Astoria.

They were married Nov. 13 by the Rev. Bob Ireland of Rushville at the Nazarene church in Astoria.

The bride wore a conventional length dress of white orlon and wool knit accented with yellow satin covered buttons and belt. Her accessories were in white satin. A yellow velvet circle headress with a veil completed her costume and she carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses and baby mums.

Miss Ulinda Jean Fair of Beardstown and Frank Heath of Astoria attended the couple. Miss Fair wore a blue costume with black accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

The bride's mother wore pastel blue with black accessories and the groom's mother was in pale blue crepe with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink tipped white carnations.

Since returning from a short wedding trip the newlyweds are making their home in Astoria.

Gift Tea For Holy Cross To Be December 2

Enthusiastic committees within the Holy Cross Hospital Auxiliary fill many hours in preparation for the annual Christmas Gift Tea planned this year for Thursday, Dec. 2nd, at the home of Mrs. J. D. Klump, Number Three Duncan Place.

All proceeds of the Gift and Coffee Shop at the Hospital, which is sponsored by the Auxiliary, are donated to Holy Cross hospital for patient care standards. The Holiday Gift Tea is both a benefit and social event for members and guests. Many hand-made articles, both for gift giving and keeping, will be available. There will also be a sale of pastries, cookies, cakes, etc. Members unable to attend and take donations for the baked goods sale or bazaar may contact Mrs. Cloyd Schumm, 245 6793 who will arrange for pick-up.

Many hours of work went into the making of the gift articles seen at left which will be offered at the Tea. Pictured with the handiwork are, l-r, Mrs. Norbert McGinnis, Mrs. T. J. Doyle, Mrs. Clarence Jennings and Mrs. John Hall.

Reproductions of well known paintings, collected and artistically framed by Mrs. Reginald Norris will be displayed and sold at the Tea. Above Mrs. Norris discusses her hobby with Mrs. Arthur Lauff, right, who admires a facial tissue box cover and other handcrafted articles.

A twenty-one inch colored console television set will be awarded the day of the Tea. Donations toward this project, thirty-five cents or three for one-dollar, are being received by members and at the Coffee Shop at the hospital. All members with donation books are reminded to have them turned in before Dec. 2nd, or bring to the Coffee Shop at the Hospital.

BROOKLYN WSCS, REBECCA CIRCLE SET FAMILY NIGHT

Family Night will be observed by the Brooklyn Church WSCS and Rebecca Circle Tuesday, Dec. 7 with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. Rev. and Mrs. Russell Coulter will present a Christmas program.

Mrs. Charles Huffman was program leader, assisted by Mrs. E. Henderson and Mrs. N. Wilson, when the society met Nov. 3 at the home of Mrs. Wilmer Everett. On Nov. 12 the society was host to the East Group.

Members will send 40 dozen cookies to Chanute Field by Jan. 28. A certificate of Standard Award, received by Mrs. Bond at the district meeting at Winchester, was presented to the society.

Following the study course at Grace Church, the society and church women made plans to organize a prayer circle which will meet once a month. The cook book made up of recipes submitted by church women is available and may be purchased from Mrs. Noel Leitte, phone 245-2264.

GARDENERS PLAN CHRISTMAS PARTY

MEREDOSIA—The Meredosia Garden club is planning a Christmas party and gift exchange in December.

The group's most recent meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Edith Steinberg with Mrs. William Carl, club president, presiding.

The program, concerning the feeding of birds during the winter months, was presented by Mrs. Bertha Rice, who displayed simple bird feeders and various methods of mixing food.

The group voted to join other Meredosia groups in sponsoring a community project.

Mrs. Pearl Copenhagen and Mrs. Roy Girard will be hostesses for the Christmas meeting.

MOUND WOMAN'S CLUB OBSERVES FAMILY NIGHT

The Mound Woman's Country Club observed family night at a dinner meeting held Nov. 13 in the Wesley Chapel Fellowship hall. Forty members and guests were in attendance.

Mrs. Harlan Mason, president, welcomed the visitors.

Ina Stewart was in charge of the program. A piano and flute duet was presented by Dixie and Linda Spangler and a piano duet by Mildred Vasey and Janet Potter. Ross Bracewell of Roodhouse told of amusing epitaphs used on stones in cemeteries in pioneer days.

Serving on the dinner committee were Dorothy Lee Mason, Carolyn Potter and Inez Scott. Augusta Hempel and Edith Mason served on the decorating committee.

A special offering was received for Oaklawn Sanatorium; Mrs. John Becker and Mrs. Donald Houston will purchase and deliver gifts.

'HIDDEN HUNGER' IS TOPIC BEFORE CASS LCW GROUP

ARENZVILLE — The Anna Garten Circle, LCW, met at St. Peter's Lutheran church parish hall Wednesday evening, with Miss Helene Sue Hendrick as hostess.

Mrs. Melvin Dufelmeier presented the devotional topic, "Hidden Hunger," which concerned the needs of low income families in the United States. She was assisted by Mrs. Marvin Schnake, Mrs. Charles Hendrick, and Mrs. Wilbur L. Meyer. Mrs. George Bischoff was pianist.

Programs listing hostesses and topic leaders for 1966 were distributed.

Mrs. Bill Kinsey was re-elected circle president, Mrs. Dean Nordsiek, secretary.

The December meeting date will be announced later. Mrs. John Jokisch will be hostess for the meeting.

Refreshments were served by the hostess from a table decorated in a Thanksgiving motif.

HILLVIEW LEGION AUXILIARY PLANS CHRISTMAS PARTY

HILLVIEW — The American Legion Auxiliary to Bryant-Thomas Post in Hillview met in the Legion Home Nov. 16th with president, Mary Smothers, presiding. Mrs. Lucille Nash acted as chaplain in the absence of Chaplain Martha Lee Blakey.

A donation was made as a Christmas gift to the boy at the I.S.S.C.S. in Normal, Ill., which the Auxiliary helps sponsor.

It was announced that the annual Christmas party will be given in the home of Mrs. Ruby Young on Friday, Dec. 17th. Members will furnish the candy and cookies. Secret sisters will be revealed and presents exchanged.

After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed with Shirley McCaherty and Alma Bradford acting as hostesses.

AIRMAN IS GUEST AT DINNER GIVEN BY HIS PARENTS

MEREDOSIA — A/3C Ronald D. McAllister, who left for his base at Tampa, Fla., recently after spending a 10-day leave at his home, was guest of honor at a pre-Thanksgiving dinner given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen McAllister.

Also present were: Mrs. Cornelia Leonard of Bluffs; Mrs. Merle Enke, Springfield; Miss Joyce Peters, Jacksonville; Mrs. Maude Butcher, Mr. and Mrs. Leland McAllister, Susan, Leeann, Kurt and Kyle, all of Meredosia.

Meredosia News Charles Bushnell of Minneapolis, a native of Meredosia, visited here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grammer returned recently from a five-day trip to Arkansas during which they visited friends and relatives.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was buffeted last week by pressure on copper stocks as the government moved to halt rising prices of another metal.

The market, measured by the popular averages, showed a marked decline over a week ago, although there was strength in spots.

The administration's move in copper, following last week's rollback of aluminum price increases, probably had as much psychological as practical impact, brokers said. Washington's decision to release 200,000 tons of copper from the federal stockpile dropped some average Thursday to their sharpest setbacks in months.

Generally, economic indicators remained favorable. Automobile production hit a 1965 weekly high and sales for early November were the biggest in history for the period. Steel production inched up. Corporate profits gained again in the third quarter and cash dividends showed a 10 per cent increase over 1964.

Blue chip issues largely marked time or declined. American Telephone was bought briefly by a 10 per cent increase in the quarterly dividend but the pressure of an FCC rate investigation appeared to continue to outweigh the additional yield.

The Associated Press 60-stock average dropped 1.2 to 354.0. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 3.57 to 952.72.

The margin of losers over gainers was fairly narrow, however—701 to 689. Volume for the week increased to 39,703,380 shares from 31,935,361 the previous week.

Treasury bond prices were mixed during the past week, but corporate and municipal bond prices drifted lower. Some early strength in the treasury bond market was dissipated by a wave of new corporate and municipal bond issues.

We will NOT have a sale this week on Thursday, Thanksgiving Day.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—The butcher hog supply last week at 29,000 head was the largest in eight weeks but prices held generally firm and topped at $26 a hundredweight on three days. Last week's offerings amounted to 27,500 head.

After starting with a top of $26.50 on Monday, the market hit a $25.75 peak on Tuesday then leveled off at $26.

With an advance of 25 to 50 cents for the week, the average price was estimated at $24.75, highest since August. It compared with $24.59 the previous week and $14.37 a year ago.

A slightly reduced rate of slaughter and easier prices for carlot dressed beef weakened the market for slaughter steers and they closed steady to 25 cents lower for the week. Packers said the Thanksgiving demand for turkey contributed to the slackened slaughter. Slaughter steers averaged $26.28 for the week, off only 8 cents from last week.

Woolled slaughter lambs were steady to 25 cents higher.

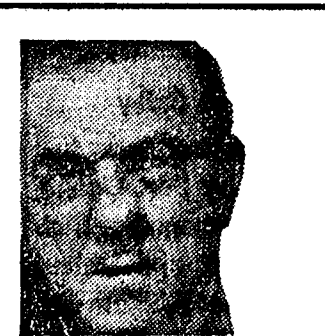

To Revise Code Of Canon Law

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI said Saturday the Code of Canon Law—the body of laws of the Roman Catholic Church—would be revised in accordance with the modernization measures of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The need to update the rules and regulations concerning the conduct of ecclesiastical affairs was expressed by the pontiff in a special audience granted to 60 cardinals and 70 experts of the Pontifical Commission for the Code of Canon Law.

The commission was founded by Pope John XXIII but its work will get under way after the council ends on Dec. 8. Pietro Cardinal Ciriaci of Italy is the commission president.

Among the commission's tasks, ranging from laying down rules regarding excommunication to the definition of the ecclesiastical hierarchy, will be inclusion in the code of provisions adopted by the council on the laity, the synod of bishops and liturgical reforms.

White added that if he does seek to create "a new political apparatus," it probably will include not only some Goldwater-drive allies, but some Republicans who worked with him during Nixon's 1960 campaign.

He acknowledged that there is a political organization, first built around Goldwater, now embedded in Republican state and county committees and the party's auxiliaries.

Which way will the remaining Goldwater forces turn?

"I think there's a possibility they might turn to Nixon," White said. "Nixon has a lot of residual appreciation among Republicans."

Tom Van Sickle, chairman of the Young Republican National Federation, said Nixon now is the favorite of the youthful, activist Republicans he leads.

Van Sickle, who worked closely with White during the Goldwater campaign, said Young Republicans "will be working in 1968 for whoever has proved that he wants to build a strong Republican party."

"Right now," he said, "Nixon is that man."

Van Sickle said Young Republicans could be persuaded to line up behind Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton. But he said Michigan Gov. George W. Romney would be hard to sell in the conservative-minded youth organization.

That holds true throughout much of the Goldwater GOP wing, one of its leaders said. "A lot of my people don't like Romney," this man said. Romney refused to endorse Goldwater in 1964.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who led the losing moderate battle against Goldwater, plans to confine his organization efforts now to his own state. He will seek re-election next year.

As Rockefeller sees it, Republican moderates should go to work state by state to build their power at all levels of the Republican hierarchy—and his brand on such a drive would only stiffen conservative resistance.

WORLD NEWS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HONG KONG (AP)—Hundreds of thousands of acres of wheat in Communist China are seriously threatened by a severe drought ranging over the northern mainland in an area roughly the size of the Dakotas, Minnesota, Nebraska and Iowa.

Western experts getting accounts of the drought through Red Chinese newspapers and magazines as well as travelers expressed the belief the drought will force Peking to buy well above the minimum in its contract for Canadian wheat. At the minimum, Peking would purchase 112 million bushels of wheat for about $200 million over a period of three years.

The maximum under the contract is for 446 million bushels for about $900 million over five years.

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda dismissed the "Penkosky Papers" Saturday as "a fabrication from beginning to end" by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The papers, published in Britain and the United States, purported to be the work of Oleg Penkovsky describing the Soviet spy network. Penkovsky was exposed as a double agent working for the West and was executed in 1963 by the Russians.

Pravda, organ of the Soviet Communist party, said the papers "constitute the same example of low-class concoction as all previous anti-Soviet efforts by the CIA."

duration of the union's contract which expires next June 30. The FEPC said it would retain jurisdiction for 18 months beyond the date Fabsbender filed his complaint.

Fitts said Fabsbender had been let out when merging of segregated Chicago locals of the AFL-CIO musicians federation allowed CBS to hire Negro musicians.

He said CBS' contract had been with an all-white AFM local, hence the orchestra had been white. After the locals merged 18 months to two years ago, Fitts added, CBS believed it wrong to have an all-white orchestra in a city like Chicago.

Fitts said Fabsbender had been with the orchestra only about seven months at the time and was rehired as soon as a vacancy occurred.

State School Official Is MCEA Speaker

Harry Page, Director of Community School Public Relations, Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, spoke at a dinner meeting of the Morgan County Educational Association held at the Blackhawk restaurant Thursday evening.

Mr. Page was introduced by Miss Margaret Fay Hopper, program chairman, a teacher at Jefferson school.

Mr. Page stressed that the responsibility of community school relationship is the task of everyone in a school district. Specifically, he defined a good situation as one in which all of the people are kept well informed, and are treated in a fair and friendly manner.

Among community groups he spoke of as having prominent and important places in helping the total cause of education in a community are citizens advisory committees and P.T.A. groups. He also praised radio and TV stations which provided time for local school and community programs to be presented over the air. Mr. Page said that almost 100 radio stations and several TV stations in the state have time allotted during the week or month for programs prepared by school pupils and teachers.

Following the address Harold Marsh of Waverly, president of the M.C.E.A., adjourned the meeting.

Ever team canned kidney beans with canned tomatoes for a vegetable dish? Season as you like—with minced onion, brown sugar or chili powder.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters

Members of Omega chapter met at the Dunlap Motor Inn Nov. 1st with Norma Neff hostess and Jo Foster, president, in charge.

Mrs. Kay Marshall presented the program, Interpretation of Love with members assisting.

On Nov. 15th the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Neff and four new pledges were inducted into the sorority, Mildred Smith, Sondra Spencer, June Jockisch and Louise Sneed.

Mrs. Barbara Hewitt was program chairman and presented Rev. Dale Robb from First Presbyterian church who introduced his houseguest, Young Woo Lee, Korean native attending New York University and who will later attend Illinois College. Rev. Robb spoke on Love's Miracle in Marriage, with Mr. Lee also participating in the discussion.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Members of Xi Lambda chapter were entertained Nov. 15 in the home of Miss Ina Stewart, 119 City Place. Mrs. Ruth Ranson was assistant.

The candlelight pledge ritual was read by Alvahlee S. McCarthy, president, for two new pledges, Mrs. Mae Tomlin and Mrs. Irene Miller. Three officers, Ada Dobbs, vice-president; Eva Daniel, secretary and Esther Ingoglia, treasurer, assisted.

The regular Christmas project, clothing a needy child, was discussed and a committee appointed. Alvahlee McCarthy and Margaret Fitzpatrick reported on the City Council meeting.

The party theme was taken from a quotation by Walter B. Pitkin given in the International Study book. Prizes went to Esther Ingoglia and Tamar Burch. Guests present were Neta Briggs and Nelle Kamm.

Alfred Garrett,
Former Scott
Resident, Dies

Word has been received of the death of a former Scott County resident, Alfred Garrett, who died Wednesday evening at Liberty, Ky.

He is survived by two sons, Kenneth of Winchester, and Arthur of Springfield. He was married to the former Eileen Temple of Winchester.

The body is at the McKinney and Burton Funeral Home at Liberty where funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday. Burial will be in a Liberty cemetery.

Goltra Rites
Held Friday

Funeral services for Miss Mabel H. Goltra were held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Jones Funeral Home, Rev. Dale Robb officiating. Mrs. Gail Gilbert presided at the organ.

Pallbearers were: Calvin Verhoef, James C. Coultas, Lawrence Crawford, Tom Cornish, Dennis Rohlfing, and William Dawdy.

Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Names of cousins omitted in a previous obituary account were: Mrs. Harriett Robertson and Miss Florence Coleman of Waverly, Mrs. Martha Schield of Chicago, Rutledge Coleman of Glenview, Frederick W. Coleman of Minneapolis, and Meriam Duncan of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Miss Goltra was a member of a poetry group and was a book fellow.

SALEM GUILD

ELECTS OFFICERS

Election of officers was held when the Salem Lutheran Guild met November 15 in the School Hall.

Assuming duties in January will be: co-chairmen, Jane Atkins and JoAnn Plautz; vice chairman, Pauline Tomhave; secretary, Hermina Schulz; treasurer, Lois Hileman.

Miss Evelyn Wamsley, former missionary to China, who toured Europe with her sister in 1964, was speaker. She told of the many Protestant churches they visited during their travels.

Trudy Herlevsen, was accepted as a member.

Guild members will donate and pack cookies for the State Hospital on December 6 and 13 at 7 p.m. in the School Hall.

Christmas carolers will meet at 8:30 on December 20 and return to the School Hall for the business meeting at 8:15 p.m.

MANCHESTER PTA
HAS 52 MEMBERS

MANCHESTER — The Manchester Grade School P.T.A. met November 16 at the school.

President Calvin Chute presided at the meeting and Mrs. Virginia Harding reported a total of 52 persons are now members of the group.

The ways and means committee reported a profit of $74 from lunch served at a recent farm sale.

Mike Walker, Terry Bridges, and Mark Cooper entertained.

CITED AFTER MISHAP

One driver was cited by investigating police officers following an accident at the West Lafayette and Sandusky intersection about five o'clock Friday evening.

Delores J. Lindsay of Franklin was ticketed for disobeying a stop sign after the car which she was driving struck a west-bound vehicle on Lafayette.

Officers said the second car was driven by Betty L. Surratt of 1924 Cedar.

Spartans Down Notre Dame 12-3; Illini Win 20-6

Powerful Defense Paralyzes Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Michigan State's vaunted wall of steel paralyzed the legs of Notre Dame's modern Four Horsemen Saturday and the tense Spartans rallied for a 12-3 victory that added polish to their No. 1 college football ranking.

The hard running Irish quartet of Bill Wolski, Nick Eddy, Larry Conjar and Bill Zloch was held to a minus 12 yards.

Falling behind 3-0 on a fumble and a 32-yard field goal by Ken Ivan in the opening minutes, the big, talented Spartans snapped back for two lightning touchdowns in the last half on a three-yard plunge by Clint Jones and a 19-yard pass from quarterback Steve Judy to Dwight Lee.

Jones, a flashy runner, ripped through the Irish defense all day and set up the first score early in the third period with a 20-yard dash after a punt run-back by Jess Phillips gave the Spartans the ball on the Notre Dame 39.

The second score came with four minutes, two seconds gone in the final period. It was a quickie that followed a Jim Summers' interception on the Irish 19 of a pass by Bill Zloch.

7 Interceptions Sink Iowa 28-20 In Burns' Last

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — North Carolina State turned four of seven pass interceptions into touchdowns and handed Jerry Burns his ninth defeat of the season 28-20 Saturday.

Quarterback Gary Snook, who holds most of Iowa's passing records and who was playing his last college game, was the victim of all the Wolfpack's thefts.

Burns, 38, who had an unsuccessful five-year coaching reign here after being elevated from assistant coach to the top job, was fired earlier this week. The Hawkeyes won only one of 10 games this season.

After a 14-14 halftime tie, North Carolina State's Gus Andrews scored the first touchdown of his career when he intercepted a Snook pass on the Iowa 18, then ran untouched into the end zone.

That proved to be the winning margin. Iowa came back with a touchdown midway in the fourth quarter when, after driving to the Wolfpack three, Snook passed to Cliff Wilder who made a diving catch in the end zone.

But two Iowa chances for a two-point conversion and a possible 22-21 lead failed. Snook missed on his first pass, but the Hawks got another chance when State was offside. The second pass was intercepted by Art McMahon.

Minutes later McMahon picked off another Snook pass on the Iowa 27 and eluded a hoard of tacklers for the clinching touchdown.

The victory was the fifth straight for North Carolina State, which had lost four of its first five games.

the frustrated Irish quarterback.

Michigan State's two conversion attempts failed. Dick Kenney's placement try after the first touchdown went wide, and quarterback Jim Raye's two-point pass attempt was long.

It was the 10th straight victory for Michigan State, the undisputed Big Ten champion which last week got a call to the Rose Bowl.

It was the second defeat in nine games for Notre Dame, just a shadow of the team which gave the Spartans a 34-7 clobbering a year ago.

It was a triumph mainly for Michigan State's defensive five-man line, made up of a massive 286-pound middle guard, Harold Lucas, a 268-pound end, Bubba Smith, plus tackles Don Bierowicz, 231; Buddy Owens, 221, and Bob (The Midget) Viney, 214.

After Ivan's field goal in the first four minutes, Michigan State seized the initiative but was thwarted by the loss of two fumbles and two intercepted passes.

In the closing moments of the first half, the Spartans marched 72 yards to the Notre Dame nine only to lose the ball when line-backer Dave Martin intercepted a Judy pass in the end zone.

Early in the second period, the Spartans drove from their own seven to the Notre Dame 30 before the Irish stiffened and held on downs.

In the first half, Michigan State piled up 174 yards, 124 by rushing, against 31 for Notre Dame and had 12 first downs to two for the Irish.

Michigan State again proved itself a come-from-behind team. This game marked the fifth time this season that the Spartans' opponents had scored first, and in two games State trailed in the fourth period, against Purdue and Indiana.

REFEREE INJURED IN WRESTLING MEET

A referee in a wrestling match at Waverly sustained possible rib injuries Saturday night when a wrestler fell on the mat.

Treated and released at St. John's hospital was Joseph Madonia, 47, of 263 North Columbia. He was taken to Jerome by Morgan county sheriff's deputies.

Sangamon authorities met the Morgan car at Jerome and transferred the man to the hospital.

The incident occurred shortly after seven o'clock at the Waverly elementary school.

Clan Soccer Club Wins District, 3-2

Arkansas Rally Nets 42-24 Count And Bowl Berth

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Quarterback Jon Brittenum and tailback Bobby Burnett led second-ranked Arkansas into the Cotton Bowl Saturday as the Razorbacks scored a 42-24 comeback triumph over ninth-ranked Texas Tech.

Brittenum, a poised operator who brought Arkansas from two 10-point deficits, led long scoring drives of 68, 72, 53, 73 and 69 yards as the Razorbacks completed their second straight perfect season.

The victory snapped Tech's winning streak at seven and extended Arkansas' through 22 — longest in the nation by a major college team.

Burnett, who slashed through the middle for 83 yards in a third-quarter Razorback rally, scored three touchdowns on runs of four, one and eight yards. His one-yard plunge put Arkansas ahead the first time, 21-17, early in the third period.

Tech's talented passer, Tom Wilson, and All-America half-back Donny Anderson carried the fight for the inspired Raiders.

version in the closing minutes of a second overtime period by center-forward Eed Bhumichitra.

Bhumichitra, who had converted on five of six penalty kick attempts during the regular season, including one in Friday's semi-final tournament round, gained the marker with 1:30 remaining in the period.

Both clubs played to a scoreless battle in the first quarter, with the Highlanders grabbing a slim 7-6 edge in the shots-on-goal department.

Clan Takes Lead Gaining offensive momentum in the second frame, the Clan edged their first tally of the day.

Midway through the quarter, Bhumichitra, moving the ball from midfield, dribbled past Eastern defenders, lifting a pass over the onrushing goal keeper's head.

Sophomore Herb Silva took the pass from in front of the goal-mouth, hammering a shot into the vacated net. Bhumichitra was credited with an assist on the play.

Eastern, however, tied the contest at one-all in the last :30 of the half on a 30 foot blazer by left-inside Nelson Archer.

Go Ahead Again Knotted at 1-1, the Highlanders again took the lead as Silva's Eastern cross-kick went past Stan Prendys promptly headed the aerial for the score, giving the Clan a 2-1 edge. Silva was awarded an assist on the tally.

Out-battled during the second and third quarters, the Eastern club came alive in the final frame to tie the contest at 2-2.

Sophomore inside Ken Levy gained the marker for the visitors, heading in a loose ball in front of the Clan nets.

The Highlanders bounced back in the closing minutes of regulation play to gain six more attempts on goal, with none finding the mark.

Both clubs pressed during the first five-minute overtime period, as the opposing goal tenders were each called upon for five saves.

The Clansmen, however, took the offensive edge during the second extra frame before Bhumichitra was awarded a penalty kick try following a "hands violation".

Totals showed the Clansmen outshooting the visitors 35-28 in the contest, while Mac goalie Bob Gay was called upon to handle 19 shots, to 22 stops for Semetis.

The win, and subsequent district championship, concluded the Highlander campaign, leaving them with a season slate of 5-4-2. Eastern also ended their schedule in the contest, finishing at 7-4 for the year.

PRINCE SAIM WINS RICH STAKES TRIAL

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Prince Saim, a $4,500 yearling purchase, proved one of the greatest bargains of the year Saturday when he came out of the pack of a dozen 2-year-olds to win the $311,945 Garden State Stakes at Garden State Park.

Flying the Red and Silver silks of the Pepino brothers, Angelo, Al and Joe of Philadelphia, the Maryland-bred roan son of Saim-Derrylee, bit the end of the 1-1-16 miles a mere neck in front of another outsider, Herbert Allen's Gunflight.

Two and one-half lengths back in third place came Reginald Webster's Amberoid. The favored Fathers Image faded to sixth place after setting most of the pace.

Prince Saim, for whom the Pepino boys recently turned down an offer of $100,000, earned $187,167 for his victory. His previous earnings in 11 starts amounted to a mere $7,005.

Overlooked by the crowd of 37,269 on this chilly day, Prince Saim paid $30.80, $15.60 and $10.60. Gunflight, who cost his New York owner $59,000 as a yearling, returned $17.60 and $10.60. Amberoid paid $5.20.

Under the lash of veteran Joe Culmore's whip, Prince Saim stepped the distance for the 13th running of the event in 1:42 4-5, far off the stake record of 1:41 set by Sadair in winning the 1964 renewal.

TRIPLE DEAD HEAT

CHICAGO (AP) — The second triple dead heat in Illinois thoroughbred racing history resulted Thursday in the sixth race at Sportsman's Park.

The winners in the race for 2-year-olds were Paddy O'Rock, Me Willwin and Miss Brendy. It was the eighth triple dead heat nationally since 1940.

The only other such race in the state's history came on Aug. 19, 1963, at Arlington Park.

Plains Thumps Franklin, 79-57

PLEASANT PLAINS — Pleasant Plains ran up a big halftime margin then coasted to a 79-57 basketball victory over Franklin, here Saturday night.

The winning Cardinals' used a pressing defense to run up a 20-13 first-period lead, then increased it to 44-25 at intermission the same way.

Plains used a balanced scoring attack in its second half against a single loss, with four players in double figures. Steve Bedford led the winners with 15. Dave Smith led the loser with 20 points for the night.

The game was Franklin's first of the year.

Clay Risks Title Again On Monday

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Unbeaten champion Cassius Clay places his heavyweight title on the line for the second time Monday night, this one against former two-time champion Floyd Patterson in a match billed for 15 rounds—or considerably less.

Interest may center not so much as to how long the fight lasts but to what extent the boxing fans around the world will accept it.

Indications are that the fans, a courageous lot, won't want to miss it.

The program goes on in the Las Vegas Convention Center at 10 p.m. (EST).

It also will be shown for an international audience on a closed circuit theater-auditorium system in the United States and Canada.

The early bird satellite will carry the bout abroad.

The promoters, Inter-Continental Promotions Inc., and the local Silver State Boxing Club, hope for a live gate of $300,000.

Total revenues, they say, may fall short of the record $4.8 million for the first Clay-Sonny Liston thing in Miami, Fla., in 1964, which still isn't a bad record to fall short of.

Whatever the loot, Ali Cassius gets 40 per cent and Patterson 20. Both should be happy, and their followers should be so lucky.

Clay as you might suspect, is the favorite. He is undefeated in 21 professional bouts, and has knocked out 17, including Liston twice when he won the title and defended it.

Patterson, now 30, seven years older than Clay, has had 48 bouts since his debut as a pro in 1952, won 44 and lost four.

Missouri Roms After Trailing For 44-20 Rout

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Missouri's Sugar Bowl-bound Tigers needed all the talents of Johnny Roland, Gary Lane and Charlie Brown to subdue fired-up Kansas 44-20 Saturday in the 74th renewal of their bitter football rivalry.

The eighth-ranked Tigers trailed twice in the first half as Kansas scored with the help of a blocked punt and deflected forward pass. Missouri got the lead for the first time 20-13 on Lane's 19-yard run, seconds before the half time gun.

Brown's 86-yard bolt up the middle in the third period moved Missouri out of reach. The Tigers, second to unbeaten Nebraska in the Big Eight, will take a 7-2-1 record to New Orleans, La. Kansas finished 2-8, its worst season in 11 years.

The 207-pound Roland, a tremendous two-way performer and prime All-America candidate, intercepted a pass and recovered a fumble on defense and scored three touchdowns on the attack. He set up one touchdown with a 35-yard punt return.

Grabowski Rushes For More Records

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — With Fred Custardo hurling two touchdown passes and record making Jim Grabowski ripping 187 yards in 33 carries, Illinois defeated Northwestern 20-6 Saturday to end the Big Ten football season.

Grabowski, 220-pound senior fullback, added two major conference rushing marks to his list by boosting his three-year career total to 2,106 yards and his season aggregate to 996.

Illinois closed out with a 4-3 Big Ten standing to finish in the first division while the Wildcats ended with 3-4. Illinois also broke the series deadlock and now leads the rivalry 28-27.

Illinois pushed into a 7-6 lead in the first quarter. Custardo hit rookie end John Wright for 15 yards and then spread Cyril Pinder for a 36-yard touchdown play. Custardo booted the first of his two points.

On the first play of the ensuing kickoff, Northwestern sophomore Rick Venturi threw his first pass of the season. He connected with Ron Rector for 25 yards and Rector broke loose to run 55 more for a touchdown. The 80-yard play was a Northwestern all-time aerial record.

The score stood until midway in the fourth when Custardo's 17-yard aerial to sophomore end John Wright set up a 29-yard scoring dash by Pinder. A pass for a 2-point conversion failed. In all, Custardo completed 16 passes for 200 yards with Wright grabbing 8 for 112.

Grabowski also set a Big Ten season record for rushing attempts with 201.

Custardo closed out with an Illinois career pass completion mark with 204.

Wright set Illinois records for pass receiving yardage — 755 — and number of catches, 47.

Late Field Goal Lifts Buckeyes To 9-7 Victory

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Bob Funk's 27-yard field goal with 1:15 remaining after Ohio State had gambled on fourth down deep in its own territory gave the Buckeyes a 9-7 Big Ten football victory over Michigan Saturday.

Ohio State, held scoreless after Don Unverferth passed five yards to Bill Anders for a touchdown midway in the first quarter, marched on its own line to the Michigan 11-yard line to set up the winning kick.

Michigan moved to the Ohio State 34 with 10 seconds remaining, but Paul D'Eranno's 50-yard field goal try was short.

Michigan scored its lone touchdown in the second quarter when Dave Fisher carried two yards after Mike Bass intercepted a Unverferth pass and returned the ball to the OSU 15.

Ohio State, which finished the season with a 7-2 mark and was 6-1 in the conference, started its winning scoring drive on the nine when Bo Rein was stopped after catching a Michigan punt.

Unverferth passed to Rein for a five-yard pickup on second down, and Willard Sander added three more on a run up the middle.

On fourth down, Unverferth again called on his big fullback and Sander gained another two yards to give the Buckeyes the first down on their own 19.

Sander later picked up 13 yards to put the ball on the Michigan 16, but three more rushes by him gained but five yards and Funk stepped back to boot his eighth field goal of the year.

Michigan, 4-6 for the year, twice moved inside the OSU 10-yard stripe but failed to score.

Purdue Escapes With 26-21 Edge Over Indiana

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Purdue hung on desperately after rolling up a 20-point lead in the first period and beat Indiana, 26-21, Saturday on the passing of Bob Griese and the hard running of John Kuzniwski and Gordon Teter.

The Boilermakers needed everything they could muster to take the Old Oaken Bucket in their season-ending football game.

Indiana's inspired underdogs kept Purdue on its heels with a touchdown bomb combination of Frank Stavroff to Bill Malinchak and the end runs of sophomore Terry Cole.

Stavroff completed 13 of 23 passes for 163 yards, half that yardage coming on two scoring passes to Malinchak.

Griese had to go without his favorite receiver, Bob Hadrick, who was unable to play because of a knee injury.

In a surprise move, fullback Randy Minniear, just back from the injured ranks, replaced Hadrick at end and caught three passes for 27 yards.

Purdue had a big edge on the ground, rolling up 253 yards to Indiana's 110. Kuzniwski had 105 yards in 24 carries and Teter 97 in 23 tries. Cole got 58 yards in 14 runs.

Kuzniwski and Malinchak scored two touchdowns each, Griese, Cole and Teter one each.

City Basketball Teams Prepare For Season Openers

By BUFORD GREEN
Sports Editor

Local Hoopsters Hard At Work

It's still about a week and a half before basketball in the city gets underway full scale, but the five local hardcourt outfits are at work preparing for openers.

Overall one has to say it looks like a so-so year all the way around in Jacksonville. None of the teams will be world beaters, none should be way down. This is the reaction all five city coaches, three prep, two college, give on questioning. All five are cautious.

This would be a marked reversal from the last time around, when four of the local teams suffered disappointing years, and one had the best in 12 years.

Lettermen are scarce at three of the schools, plentiful at the other two. Jacksonville and MacMurray have only three returning veterans, IC nine, Routt two and ISD seven.

Jacksonville, 25-5 last year with a trip to the state tournament, lists only one if its top seven and three of the top 12 back in camp. Ron Coleman, a 6-2 jumping-jack with a good shooting eye, is the lone starter back, and will have to carry a major load this year.

Steve Tavender and Gary Ginder, a pair of 6-2 seniors, are the other two returning lettermen, and will be favorites for starting roles. An improving lot of juniors is showing good promise in practice, according to coach Rich Jones, and Crimsons fortunes are not necessarily as bad as a lot of people think.

"The boys have been looking real good in practice, they are moving good and have a real good attitude," says Jones. "You can throw a blanket over the junior guards and junior forwards. They all look pretty good, but we haven't had time to see them a lot yet."

A major Crimsons problem may be the lack of a big man, as three-year center Steve Bone, 6-6, graduated, leaving JHS without a tried center. Also missing is a playmaker, as all-state guard Creston Whitaker and floor-men Dean Hess and Dennis Sergeant have departed.

The Crimsons open up Dec. 4 with an expected tough Alton club that produced a good crop of juniors last year. Havana and Hannibal were dropped from the regular schedule this year, being replaced by Lincoln and Thornton of Harvey, a perennially-tough Chicago area outfit. Gillespie and Crane Tech are new teams in the JHS four-team tourney in January, along with JHS and Hannibal, Missouri.

Rockets Small, Inexperienced

The lack of experience and height is a problem familiar with Routt as well this year. They list only two veterans, and very little size.

Lone returnees are 5-11 forward John Zeller and 6-0 guard-forward Mike Fitzpatrick. From there new coach Marvin West will have to look to some untried juniors and seniors, and perhaps a trio of sophomores that have been looking good in practice.

"We are going to have to depend on inexperience, but the boys have shown good spirit and attitude. I just hope we can improve before the year is over. The lack of size will definitely hurt," says West.

"We will probably try to run more and fast break, to compensate for the lack of size."

Two promising juniors Dick Zeller and Ken McGinnis, probably won't be ready by the Nov. 30 opener because of football injuries. Biggest man on the Rocket team will be 6-3 senior Norman Zeller.

Routt finished with a 10-12 record in the last campaign.

Seven Lettermen At ISD

The ISD Tigers will have seven returning lettermen ready for duty when they open at Girard this Tuesday, but the westsiders will again be on the short side.

Second-year coach Mike Moore is hoping the Tigers can do much better than last year when the Tigers opened with a victory then dropped their last 19 games in a row.

Top returnee is 6-1 senior forward Ray Richardson, the second leading scorer from last year. Richardson will have to carry a big scoring load for the Tigers the first semester. He is ineligible after that.

Other lettermen at ISD are 5-11 Larry Marousek, 5-8 Jesse Joyner, 5-10 Harry Bloomgreen, 5-8 Danny George, 5-10 Richard Thing and 6-0 Walter Nieslushowski. Richardson is the only man on the squad over the six foot level.

Blueboys Show Promise

Illinois College's Blueboys have nine returning lettermen, a good crop of freshmen and an excellent shot at surpassing last year's 5-16 record. The Blueboys came on strong near the end, and have that crop of then underclassmen plus some promising newcomers.

Veteran coach Bill Morris has been well pleased with the play of his veterans thus far in practice. "We have a better freshman crop than usual, more good ball players in general," says Morris.

"The boys have been showing steady improvement, starting with the end of last year. I hesitate to make any predictions but I have been enthusiastic so far."

Max Greer and Jim Bruner are the only seniors on the team, and both were regulars last year, Greer for the third season. Guard Bucky Sullivan, 5-9, and 6-4 center Dick Dickens were regulars last year, Dickens for the second semester only.

Dick Clough, another junior, operated mostly as sixth man last year, and did a good job in the spot. Gene Gourley, a junior lettermen, like Clough, from Carrollton, will probably not see any action the first semester because of a broken foot.

Sophomore lettermen are 6-4 Paul Runkle, Rushville, Peter Gallatin, 5-11, and 6-1 Dan Runkle from Rushville. All three played a lot near the end of last season.

New boys Morris is pleased of include 6-2 Charles Martin, freshman from North Greene and a good jumper; Ted Pardo, a 5-9 guard from Pinckneyville; Russell Ross, a 6-1 forward from Carrollton; Larry Greathouse, a 6-4 center from Streator; Kevin Lawrence, a 5-10 guard from Lincoln; Roger Spencer, 5-9 guard from Winchester; Chuck Ross, 6-0 guard from Waverly; and sophomore Ken Stauffer, from Perry.

Others Morris is looking at include Bob Gillingham, 6-1 forward from Carrollton, 6-5 center Rich Phillips from Rushville, Mike Harris, 6-1 forward from Beardstown and Rich Daley, 6-4 forward from Chicago Lane Tech.

The Blueboys Open At Culver-Stockton Nov. 30.

Only Three Veterans At Mac

With the loss of the entire starting five from the MacMurray basketball squad, coach Bill Wall's Highlanders will be built around three returning letter winners: juniors Fred Lewis, 5-7, and 6-0 Chuck Hundley, and sophomore Dave Berst, 6-5.

Sophomore Steve Proesel, 6-3, will add another ex-

MACMURRAY VETS: Three Highlanders are the only returning lettermen back at MacMurray this year. L-r are Chuck Hundley, Dave Berst and Fred Lewis. All were part-time starters last campaign when the Highlanders were 9-16.

Triopia Again Top Threat For PMSC Honors

CHAPIN — Despite the loss of four key players from last year, the Triopia Trojans are again considered a top threat to repeat as the PMSC conference basketball champion.

The Trojans of Coach Don Kemp, who have a long pattern of winning in the PMSC, romped home with a 20-5 slate last year, with a perfect 8-0 mark in conference play.

Six returning lettermen bolster the Trojans' hopes for a repeat of the title. Top returnee is two-year lettermen Jim Morrison, a 5-9 playmaker guard.

Other lettermen are 6-2 senior Jim Paul, 6-0 junior Harlan Fricke, 6-0 Bill Meier, 5-10 Tom Burrus and 5-8 Randy Schone.

Triopia roster:

Wildcats Look To Be Contender In Conference

WINCHESTER — Five returning lettermen, including three who have lettered twice, make Winchester a strong contender for the Illinois Valley conference basketball title this season.

Four lettermen are missing from last year's 11-13 squad, including two starters.

Lettermen back are 6-3 Rex Brockhouse, 5-11 Jim McClure, 6-0 Glenn Mikus, 6-0 Buddy Parker and 5-10 Larry Evans.

First-year coach Wayne DesCombes says, "The attitude is good and we have fair height. Mikus, Parker and Brockhouse have considerable experience as they have already lettered twice. Senior Jim McClure and junior Larry Evans both saw a lot of varsity action last year and are definite contenders for starting berths, as is junior Bob Moore."

"The boys have been showing steady improvement, starting with the end of last year. I hesitate to make any predictions but I have been enthusiastic so far."

Max Greer and Jim Bruner are the only seniors on the team, and both were regulars last year, Greer for the third season. Guard Bucky Sullivan, 5-9, and 6-4 center Dick Dickens were regulars last year, Dickens for the second semester only.

Dick Clough, another junior, operated mostly as sixth man last year, and did a good job in the spot. Gene Gourley, a junior lettermen, like Clough, from Carrollton, will probably not see any action the first semester because of a broken foot.

Sophomore lettermen are 6-4 Paul Runkle, Rushville, Peter Gallatin, 5-11, and 6-1 Dan Runkle from Rushville. All three played a lot near the end of last season.

New boys Morris is pleased of include 6-2 Charles Martin, freshman from North Greene and a good jumper; Ted Pardo, a 5-9 guard from Pinckneyville; Russell Ross, a 6-1 forward from Carrollton; Larry Greathouse, a 6-4 center from Streator; Kevin Lawrence, a 5-10 guard from Lincoln; Roger Spencer, 5-9 guard from Winchester; Chuck Ross, 6-0 guard from Waverly; and sophomore Ken Stauffer, from Perry.

Others Morris is looking at include Bob Gillingham, 6-1 forward from Carrollton, 6-5 center Rich Phillips from Rushville, Mike Harris, 6-1 forward from Beardstown and Rich Daley, 6-4 forward from Chicago Lane Tech.

The Blueboys open at Culver-Stockton Nov. 30.

FIGHT SEATS SOLD OUT

NEW YORK (AP) — Three theaters in London, Glasgow and Birmingham, England, have sold all 9,100 seats for Monday night's Cassius Clay-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight to be beamed across the ocean by the Early Bird satellite, at 3:30 a.m., British time.

The championship match in Las Vegas will start at 10:30 p.m., EST.

perienced member to the senior-less Clan outfit.

Rounding out the probable starting lineup will be either Tom Cochran, 6-0, from Springfield, or Charlie Chappell, 5-7, both sophomores. The starting unit would in either case be composed of two juniors and three sophomores, none of whom have had any big amount of starting experience at Mac.

With a 27-game schedule on tap, the quality of the bench will be a major factor in any success the Highlanders achieve.

"Our freshmen are the key to this year," comments Wall, "and we have a good crop this season."

Two very promising freshmen are forwards Al Killoran and Bob Alexander, both 6-3, who possess good shots and are big enough to lend help on the boards. Both men should be seeing a great deal of action for the Highlanders.

The Clan will open in town Dec. 1 against Black-

Rowland And IC Earn Titles In NAIA Figures

CHARLESTON — Undeclared on the field, Illinois Wesleyan University also won the battle of statistics in District 20 (Illinois) of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The Titans were at the top of the list in one team and four individual categories — five of the statistical rankings.

Mike Neal, a junior home-town product from Bloomington, was the district's leading scorer with 78 points and also ranked as the top pass receiver with 64.9 yards per game.

His aerial teammate, Steve Laub (Coffey Junior), was the top-ranking passer with 1,376 yards through the air — an average of 172 yards per game.

And senior Dave McMinn (Bloomington) won the punting title for the second straight year with a 42.2-yard average.

Breaking IWU's individual domination were Eastern Illinois University senior Roger Haberer (Pocahontas) and Illinois College sophomore Tom Rowland (Rushville).

Haberer shaded Laub in total offense by gaining 166.7 yards per game, and Rowland averaged 106 yards rushing. NAIA statistics are based on game average.

Team titles were split among five schools. Illinois Wesleyan had the top passing attack and Illinois College the leading ground offense with 237.0 per game, but Elmhurst led in total offense. North Central led in rushing defense and total defense, with North Park having the top pass defenders.

Warriors Second In Mat Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Three firsts and four seconds helped the IBSSS wrestling Warriors to gain second place in the annual White Cave Tournament, held here Saturday.

Firsts by the IBSSS squad were registered by T. J. Cravens at 127, James Crockett at 133 and by heavyweight Steve Baugh. The Warrior captain registered pins in both his matches.

Indiana Blind won the meet for the third year in a row, piling up 90 points. Illinois followed with 78, with Kentucky third with 77 points.

Seconds by the local team were registered by Gary Forsyth at 95, Jerry Spinner at 145, Ken Staley at 154 and Bill Mitchell at 165. The latter two each had a pin.

Pat Curtin, Bill Smith, Russ Cygan and Rick Parrish garnered thirds for the Warriors.

Elmer Griffin, 79, of Hannibal, Mo., a former Chapin resident, passed away at 4:27 p.m. Saturday at Passavant hospital where he had been a patient since Nov. 8.

He was born in Morgan County Oct. 7, 1886; son of Jerry and Mary Weeks Griffin. He was married to the former Elva McQuown, who died Sept. 12, 1948.

Surviving are two children, Irene, wife of Joe Baker of Chapin, with whom Mr. Griffin had made his home for several weeks and Russell Griffin of Davenport, Ia.; four grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Adelaide Brockhouse of Jacksonville and Mrs. Esther McDaniel of Hannibal.

He was a member of the Chapin Christian church.

The body was taken to the Williamson Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

Delay Decision In Government, School Hassle

BEARDSTOWN — Members of the school board of Beardstown Unit 27 have voted to table a matter involving a bill for more than $200 for federal surplus foods which spoiled in a freezer at the brick school when there was a power failure.

The Federal Surplus Foods corporation maintains that since this food was not used for the purpose for which it was acquired by the school board it must be paid for.

At a meeting at the local school Thursday night members of the board voted to table the matter for further investigation.

The surplus foods were in a freezer at the brick school when a power failure occurred several months ago, resulting in spoilage.

Aid To Education — Beardstown schools will participate in the new Federal Aid To Education program according to a decision by the board of education.

Eligibility is based on need of students in families with income of less than $2000 a year, and a report shows there are 119 such families in Beardstown and 129 in Virginia.

The school district's share of money on this basis will be $33,000 for the period January to June of 1966.

Present Awards During IREC's Annual Banquet

By Naomi Lawson
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone 742-3490)

WINCHESTER — Service awards were presented to Illinois Rural Electric Cooperative employees and directors during the cooperative's 19th annual meeting, held at the Blackhawk restaurant Friday.

In attendance were 160 cooperative directors, employees and guests.

The invocation was given by Karl Longenbaugh, power use adviser. Awards were presented, by president F. J. Longmeyer, to the following:

Leonard Wood of Jacksonville, a director, for 25 years service and Dean Pinkerton, Carrollton, superintendent of transmission and distribution, 25 years.

Twenty-year awards went to Frank Boston, Winchester, warehouseman; Floyd Glover, Winchester, area foreman; Murle Hanback, Winchester, engineer; Karl Longenbaugh, rural Bluffs, power use adviser; William Milliken, Winchester, circuit breaker maintenance man and Keith Coultas, Riggs, electronics engineer. Roger Moss of Carrollton, a right-of-way maintenance foreman, was honored for 15 years service and Harold Baird of Griggsville, a journeyman lineman, for five years with the company.

The following safety awards were made: to Basil Taylor, line foreman from Winchester, for 20 years service; Frank Boston, 17 years; Thomas Anders, Winchester, journeyman lineman and William Hanback, Winchester, assistant manager, 15 years; David S. Welch, Jacksonville, chief engineer, 12 years and Clinton Pegram, Carrollton, right-of-way foreman, 10 years.

Donald Gregory of Winchester, a groundman, was inducted into the Turtle club, an exclusive group, with membership limited to electrical workers whose lives have been saved through wearing hard hats.

Special recognition was given to Karl Longenbaugh and Murle Hanback, who plan to retire in 1966.

Entertainment was provided by Paul Benson of Chicago, billed as a "laff auctioneer," who conducted an audience participation program. S. R. Faris, cooperative manager, served as toastmaster. Mrs. William G. Watt, home electrician, planned the decorations.

Attending as guests were: Thomas Moore, of Springfield, manager of the Illinois Association of Electric Cooperatives; John Temple of Springfield, editor of the Rural Electric News; Don Bringham of Jacksonville, manager of the Western Illinois Power Cooperative and Dean Searls of Camp Point, manager of Adams County Electric Cooperative. All were accompanied by their wives.

Other guests present were Paul Nichols and William Ward, both of New Canton; J. W. Smith of Milton, Mrs. A. Coultas, Clara Bell Campbell and Mrs. Rena Campbell, all of Cross of the legal public relations department of the Illinois Association of Electric Cooperatives and Mrs. Irl Davidson of Eldred.

Scott Addresses Bankers — Illinois Treasurer William J. Scott, addressing members of the Cass, Morgan, Scott and Schuyler Bankers' Federation at a meeting held in Winchester Thursday evening, said that a sound financial policy for the state makes Illinois "attractive to industry and a good place to live." He told the bankers that his department works in close cooperation with all banks, both state and national.

One-hundred-thirty federation members and guests were present. A turkey dinner was served by women of the Methodist church. Also addressing the group were Robert Clark, cashier of the First National Bank of Arenzville and president of the federation and Mazy Rockwood, president of the Neat, Condit and Grout Bank, Winchester, who was program chairman.

Mr. Scott was accompanied by Arthur Falls, assistant state treasurer and William E. Stonvel of the Continental Casualty company. Richard Mills, Virginia attorney and James Haynes, bank relations officer of the Springfield Marine Bank, were also present.

A SHELTERED WALKWAY — Thompson Jewelers installed the first sheltered sidewalk covering last week as an aid to shoppers in the downtown area. Max Thompson, owner of the jewelry firm, said Saturday that he had heard several favorable comments concerning the new aluminum cover designed to end snow shoveling and canvas awnings. The covering was installed by The Darwin Company and shelters the sidewalk to the approximate parking meter line. Other merchants in the downtown area are inspecting the sidewalk covering and may yield to the temptation of ownership at some future date. Meanwhile, at least one other merchant on the west side of the square is expected to install an awning of the same type within a short period of time. The program is still experimental and may include planters with small shrubs later. Thompson's new awning, first of its kind on the square, was an immediate conversation piece wherever merchants and shoppers gathered.

ASBURY WSCS TO HAVE DINNER AT CHURCH DEC. 18

Members of the Asbury Methodist church WSCS met Nov. 18 at the home of Mrs. Howard Becker. Mrs. Arvel Becker was assistant.

Mrs. Gene Cully presided in the absence of the president. After group singing roll was answered by 14 members and one guest.

Mrs. Wesley Hilgoss read minutes and Mrs. Arvel Becker gave the treasurer's report. A letter was read from Miss Zoe King of Langleyville. The society donated ten dollars to the home there, for Christmas use. Plans were made to have a potluck supper at the church Dec. 18.

A donation was made and report given for Prayer and Self Denial. Devotions were given by Elizabeth Hembrough and Emma Hembrough who was in charge of the program. She told of her trip to Germany and England.

An auction was held at the close of the program. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Frank Hembrough, with Mrs. Don McNeely assisting. A potluck dinner will be served at this time.

Mrs. Ronald Becker was a guest at the meeting.

Beardstownians Interested In Junior College

BEARDSTOWN — School authorities and members of boards of education from surrounding counties have been invited to a dinner meeting to be held at the local high school Dec. 8 to give further consideration to establishment of a junior college.

A population of 30,000 and an assessed evaluation of about $75 million are requirements of eligibility for participation in the junior college program.

Beardstown school board members have been leaders in efforts to create interest in investigation of the plan for this area and sponsored a nine county meeting of superintendents here several days ago when all but two counties showed interest.

Gerald Fortney was fined $125 and costs on charges of driving while intoxicated in a bench trial before Associate Judge Fred W. Reither in Virginia Thursday. Fortney was arrested several days ago and pleaded innocent at his first arraignment, then asked to change his plea to guilty, claiming, however, that another person was driving his car. Judge Reither refused to accept the change in plea due to inconsistency but advised Fortney to get an attorney. Fortney did not get counsel but made his own defense at the bench trial.

Judge Reither presiding in a court session Friday in the Lincoln court room here, heard several small claims cases and one traffic violation case.

BEARDSTOWN — Members of the school board of Beardstown Unit 27 have voted to table a matter involving a bill for more than $200 for federal surplus foods which spoiled in a freezer at the brick school when there was a power failure.

The Federal Surplus Foods corporation maintains that since this food was not used for the purpose for which it was acquired by the school board it must be paid for.

At a meeting at the local school Thursday night members of the board voted to table the matter for further investigation.

The surplus foods were in a freezer at the brick school when a power failure occurred several months ago, resulting in spoilage.

Aid To Education — Beardstown schools will participate in the new Federal Aid To Education program according to a decision by the board of education.

Eligibility is based on need of students in families with income of less than $2000 a year, and a report shows there are 119 such families in Beardstown and 129 in Virginia.

The school district's share of money on this basis will be $33,000 for the period January to June of 1966.

Bill Scott Offers Support To Percy For Senate Race

CHICAGO (AP)—State Treasurer William J. Scott offered his support Saturday to Charles H. Percy as a Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Scott said at a news conference: "I have conferred with my supporters in practically every county in the state and almost to a man they have assured me that they will join me in supporting Percy against (Sen. Paul H.) Douglas."

Scott also said he will not be a candidate for "a statewide office" in 1966. He said he wished to devote two years to his family and law practice.

Percy, the Republican candidate defeated by Gov. Otto Kerner in 1964, has not announced that he will be a candidate for Douglas' seat. In a statement issued in response to Scott's offer of support, Percy said:

"Until recently I have not inclined strongly toward running for any office other than the position in state government for which I had trained myself over a period of years. But at the urging of many fine citizens whose judgment I respect I have begun giving earnest consideration to what responsibility I can best assume in the elections of 1966."

"Mr. Scott's statement, added to the urging of many others, encourages me greatly to continue these considerations."

Scott and Percy contended for the 1964 Republican nomination for governor, with Percy winning in the primary.

Scott began the news conference with the statement: "We are faced with the very real danger of a small number of men running all facets of our lives. If for no other reason than to preserve our competitive two-party system, it is essential that the Republican party unite for victory in 1966."

He also endorsed Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie for Cook County Board president and the re-election of Ray Page as state superintendent of public instruction.

Announcement was made of the appointment of Mrs. Robert Tucker as chairman of mental health department in the 20th District IFWC.

Board members met prior to the dinner meeting Thursday and appointed Mrs. W. W. Harris publicity chairman to fill a vacancy left by Mrs. William Delaney.

The December 9th meeting will be followed with Christmas caroling by club members.

Editorial Comment

Secrecy Is Anathema

"The secret of our power lies in the secrecy of our membership." So reads an official instruction of the Ku Klux Klan to its rank and file as revealed in testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee. "By this means," the instructions continue, "we see and hear everything. We know our enemies but they do not know us."

Thus the Klan places upon itself the seal of condemnation of its own un-Americanism. For secrecy is the antithesis of all that is implied in the democratic idea which gave this Republic birth. The American people will not tolerate secrecy in the conduct of their government or in any organization seeking to usurp power. In its political activity as well as in defiance of federal authority the KKK sets itself up as a rebellious and irresponsible usurper of power.

The open and aboveboard approach is as American as ham and eggs. There is no room for secrecy in the American public philosophy.

The Ultimate Violence

When a Buddhist priest named Quang Duc drenched himself with gasoline in Saigon in June 1963 and committed fiery, public suicide to protest against President Ngo Dinh Diem, a wave of shock hit Americans, yet relatively uninvolved emotionally in the unfolding tragedy of Viet Nam.

The act, so alien to the Western psychological make-up, was at once fascinating and repulsive, but immensely impressive in the courage and dedication that must have nerved the man.

These feelings were dulled, however, when other priests performed similar self-immolation. One such occurrence was a shock; a series of them was simply incomprehensible.

If this was courage, it was the courage of madness. If this was dedication, it was the dedication of fanaticism.

Now within the space of a few days, two young Americans have chosen to use this spectacular form of protest against their President and his commitment of troops and planes and guns and bombs to the struggle against the Communists in South Viet Nam.

The one, Norman Morrison, 31, father of three, burned himself to death outside the Pentagon in Washington. The other, 22-year-old student Roger LaPorte, set fire to himself before the U.N. buildings in New York, dying 21 agonized hours later.

Both were unquestionably moved by intense revulsion at the death and horror that have been the inevitable accompaniment of the decision in Viet Nam, of hatred for war and of an overwhelming sense of responsibility for actions taken in the name of their country.

Yet in this very fact is found the tragic irony of their senseless sacrifice.

Like the Buddhist priests, they protested too much, and the reaction of ordinary people is not revolt against war or against man's inhumanity to man, but wondering disapproval of them and passing sympathy for the loved ones they abandoned.

Self-cremation still has the power to shock, but the shock is so extreme and so focused on the individual who causes it that it fails of a universal meaning.

Opposed to violence, these men performed the ultimate violence on themselves, leaving behind not flaming symbols of hope but only ashes of despair.

Dear Ann:

"Drives" Anger Out of His System

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: My fiancé has a terrible temper. Whenever we get into an argument he storms out of the house and says, "I'm too mad to talk. I'll ride it out of my system." Then he zooms up the street in his car and heads for the open highway.

Wouldn't it be better if he stayed and talked things out? I worry that he might have an accident. He says he's a good driver and that this is a mature way to get over his anger. Comment, please? —DRUSEL-LA

Dear Dru: He would be better off if he parked the car and took a brisk walk—or even ran around the block. And so would everyone he meets on the road. An angry driver is a dangerous driver. I hope you can get this across to him before he becomes a statistic and takes a few people with him.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I just returned from a vacation on the west coast. Last Sunday we wanted to spend a quiet hour in a house of worship.

We were appalled at what we saw. Several school age children were whispering, laughing, and hitting each other during worship. They popped gum, ate peanuts and rattled candy bar wrappers.

Two boys about seven years old lay down in the pews and pretended to be pedaling bicycles. One youngster left for the bathroom right in the middle of the Lord's Prayer.

Both my husband and I hope that the parents who read this will ask themselves if they are guilty of allowing their children to behave in this shameful manner. —MILES CITY, MONTANA

Dear Miles City: Parents who permit such behavior disclose a shocking lack of respect for their religion. It isn't enough just to take children to church. They should know why they are there and they should be taught how to behave.

Dear Ann Landers: Before passing sentence on two teenagers convicted of car theft an Illinois judge said some things which I feel are worth repeating. The judge said, "You two young men have been convicted of a felony. A felony is a crime for which you could have been sent to the penitentiary. I am not sending you to prison but you should know the record of your conviction will stand as a long as this court house stands. "If you are called as a witness in any court you will be asked if you have ever been convicted of a felony. You will have to answer 'Yes.'"

"Perhaps someday you will apply for a passport. You may not get it."

"You may want to take a position of trust and a surety bond will be required. When your record is known you will be refused by most bonding companies. By the time you find a company which will take a chance on you, the position will be filled by someone who has no criminal record."

"In a few years you will be 21. Others your age will be allowed to vote. You will be denied this privilege."

"I am granting you a parole. A parole is in no sense a pardon. Your conviction is now a matter of record. It will be with you to the end of your days."

—M. M. B.

Dear M. M. B.: The judge's words are sobering, indeed. Only a full pardon from the governor or the President can restore citizenship rights to a felon. But even if a pardon is granted, the record stands forever.

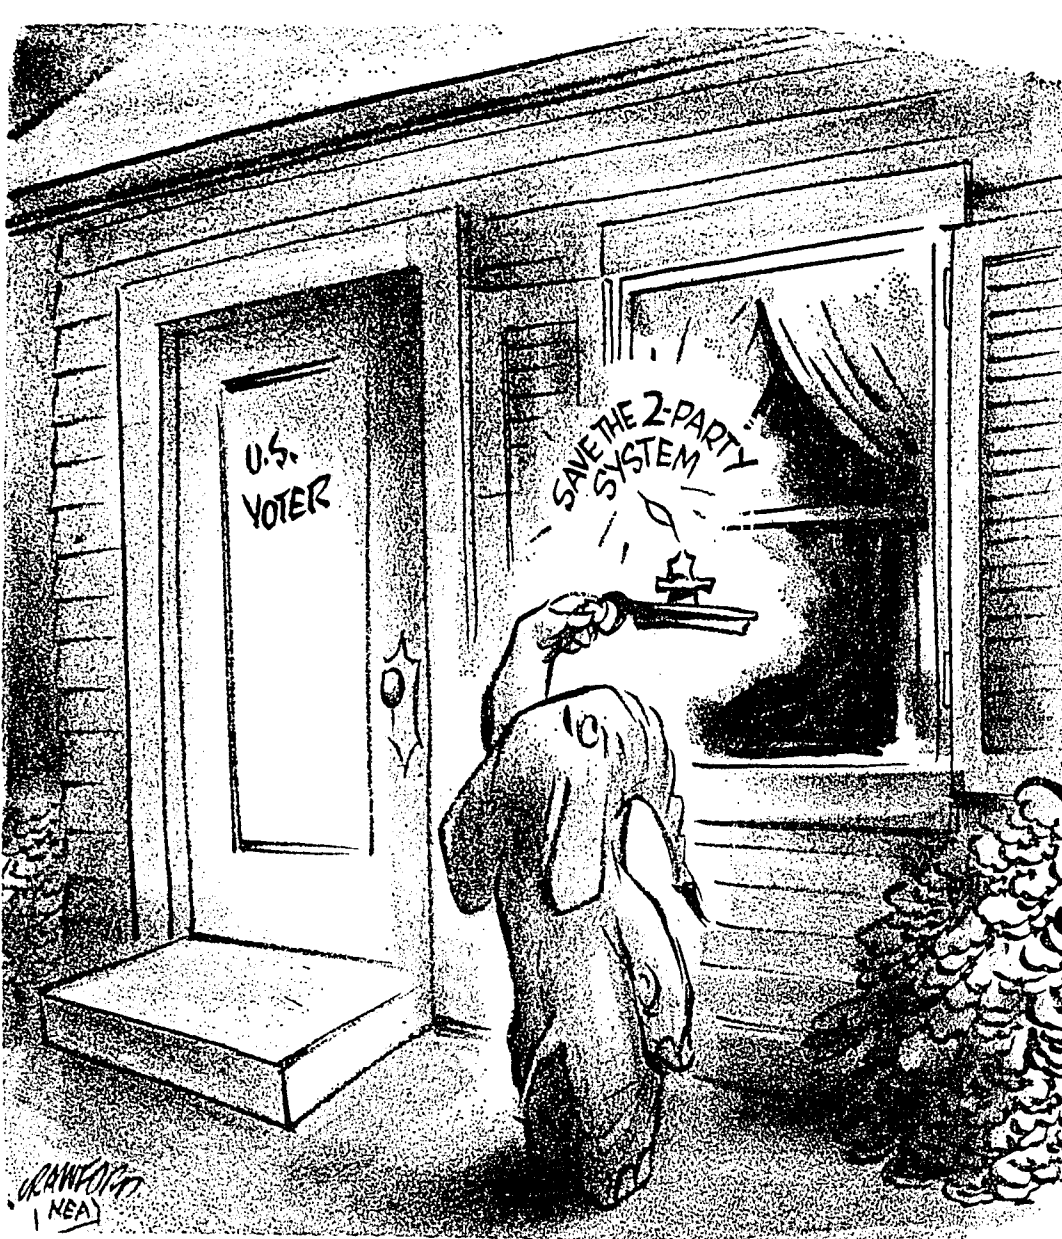

P.S. My legal eagles tell me that if the sentence is served and the individual is not on probation, a passport "can" be secured.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

McCarthyism: Empty Charge

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

Washington Correspondent

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — With highly questionable judgment, critics of U.S. policy in Viet Nam are resorting increasingly to the words "McCarthyism" and "McCarthyite" to characterize their most vocal opponents.

When some public figure suggests that Communist influences may be at work among young Americans who in some cases not only oppose the war but propose wrecking the military draft, the ghost of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin is raised.

The young critics, and some of their adult defenders, argue more and more today that any hammering on the Communist theme represents an effort both to blacken and to silence the critics.

Use of words like "McCarthyite" is plainly intended to evoke memories of the senator's four-year barrage of charges against a wide assortment of people in American life, most of them in or linked with government.

But a careful review of writings pertinent to the McCarthy era (1950-54), including those of former President Eisenhower's aides and of former Michigan Sen. Charles Potter (a committee colleague of McCarthy), discloses no foundation for such parallels today.

Their reports suggest strongly that there can be no McCarthyism without McCarthy, that his extravagant assaults on the careers and reputations of many men had less to do with the real dangers of communism than with some insistent personal drive toward personal ends the senator himself could not have defined.

No man of his curious and very special make-up is on the horizon today. Nor are the times and the circumstances the same. McCarthy at his height had power, the power that goes with controlling a Senate investigating committee. No one presently leading Senate and House investigating committees, or holding any other seat of inquisitorial power, threatens to move on a McCarthy-like course.

McCarthy's charges of communism reached into every corner of government, including even the U.S. Army itself. The public figures now complained of by our Viet Nam policy critics are defenders of the Army. Only the powerless radical rightists see communism everywhere.

McCarthy benefited mightily from a general climate of fear as the Russians opened the Cold War, stole our atomic secrets, threw their weight into the Korean war and otherwise shocked an America which had been their World War II ally.

There is no such general fear today, despite endless proberings by Moscow, Peking and Havana in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Again the radical rightists voice constant fear, but this nation always has had minorities which live in the grip of overriding fear — totally divorced from the real events around them. The unique feature of the McCarthy era was that the fear was broad.

Unquestionably, the senator was assisted in exploiting that fear by his clever grasp of the workings of the press. But here, finally, he overreached himself, for it was public exposure which destroyed him.

By a strange twist, it is not potential "McCarthyites" but the flamboyant critics of U.S. policy who today are reaping the same kind of publicity benefit McCarthy enjoyed a dozen years ago. The draft card burnings, train haltings, demonstrations and teach-ins are peculiarly suited to capture attention from press and television cameras.

Far from being "silenced" by a reborn McCarthyism or anything else, they are winning a steady audience far larger than merited either by their small numbers or the light weight of their highly emotional arguments.

COMMUNICATION

November 19, 1965

News Editor
Jacksonville Journal Courier
Jacksonville, Illinois

Dear Sir:
On Wednesday, November 17, the news media released articles concerning an outage of electric power to both the city and Illinois Power Company's electric lines.

Certain statements quoted in the articles are possible of misinterpretation by listeners and readers, and other facts were omitted. As Mayor of the City of Jacksonville, who together with the Council is responsible to the citizens, I state positively and unequivocally that the City Electric Utility complies with the National Electrical Code, adopted by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and General Order 160 of the Illinois Commerce Commission. These standards of installation of electrical distribution lines and equipment are the standards of safety and good engineering practices used by both public and private utilities in Illinois. Any inference contained in news releases that our City Utility does not comply with recognized safety standards in construction and service is untrue. We will set our safety record against that of our competitor.

As to the particular incident last Tuesday, it would be of interest to the public that our Utility Department had, prior to the installation of service line in question, requested Illinois Power Company to move its line to provide the clearance needed for safety. These requests are customary and are made by both utilities frequently. On this occasion IPC delayed in making the necessary change. Unfortunately their delay resulted in the public's inconvenience of an outage.

I am pleased to report that since the publication of the article, Illinois Power Company has seen fit to move their line to provide safe clearance.

Jacksonville's Electric Utility at all times is aware of the importance of safe construction to protect the citizens and to provide uninterrupted service. It will continue to operate in this manner.

Very truly yours,
Byron Holkenbrink

The Mature Parent

No Burden for a Child

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
A woman, deeply grieved over her husband's death, developed a nervous cough for which her physician finally prescribed psychoanalytic treatment.

She lost the cough but her heavy despondency remained. Then, one night she was visited by a dream which evoked a forgotten experience of her childhood. The daughter of perpetually wrangling parents, she had been aroused from sleep one night when she was 4 by her father, who told her he was leaving their home forever.

"He cried," she told her doctor. "He said he didn't know where he was going or how he could live without me. He said he might never see me again, though in fact he was back home in a week after one of his reconciliations with my mother."

But I didn't know that when he woke me up. Oh God, how terrible I felt! Such a strained, rible I felt! Such a strained, frantic feeling under the heaviness of my helplessness to change things for him."

She stopped dead. Staring at her doctor, she whispered, "But terrible heaviness is what I've been feeling ever since Jim died, isn't it? It is the same feeling, isn't it? I couldn't change things for my father—and I couldn't change them for Jim."

"Have I been killing myself because I couldn't make Jim live, any more than I could make my father happy with my mother?" And in the rush of tears which overwhelmed her, she knew she had released herself from her burden of neurotic grief.

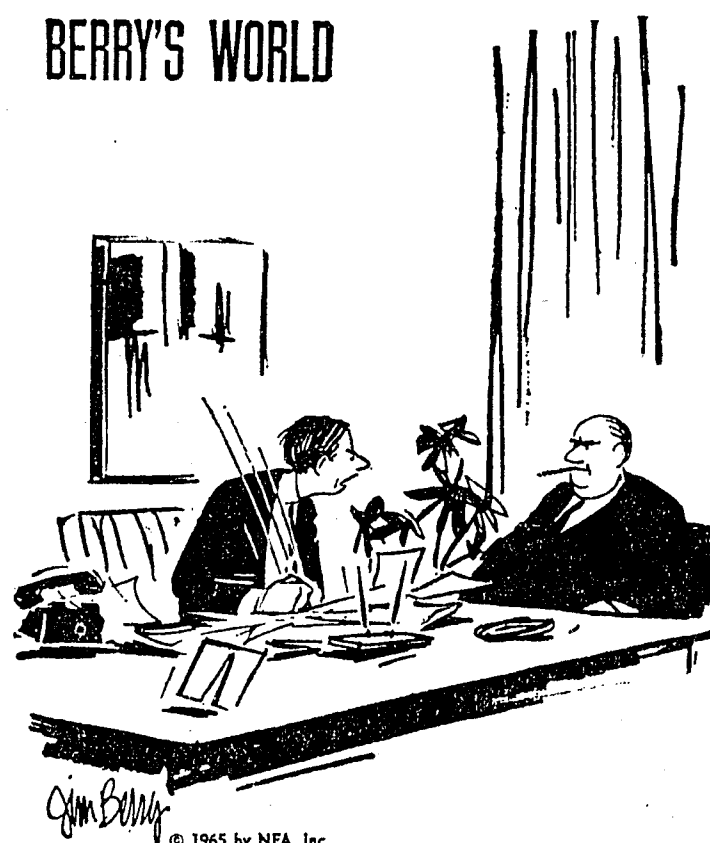

This woman's experience is for a mother who writes, "My husband has asked me for a divorce. We have talked about one before, but this time I agreed. My worry is our children, aged 4 and 7. The little girl is particularly attached to her father and I don't know how she'll take it. Can you recommend a way to tell them without hurting them?"

You can't avoid hurting them, but you can try to avoid impressing them with the notion that you're two cruelly abused people to whom they owe comfort and restitution.

We don't want to make the kind of emotional demand on them that was made by the exploiting father of the woman of my story. This hidden demand for restitution made her helplessness to help so agonizing that she could not accept her helplessness to avert death for her husband.

It is hard for divorcing parents to avoid exploiting emotional demands on children. We do well to tell them to accept their helplessness to change things for us by saying:

FINDING THE WAY

Liabilities in Tow

BY RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I've always marveled at the driver who maneuvers an enormous trailer into a seemingly impossible area. He tows a huge load of freight and yet is able to back it into a cramped alleyway or ease it up to a loading ramp.

My admiration for him is heightened by the fact that so many others are pulling such enormous loads, unable to maneuver them. Think of the number of people who tow along with them their unforgiven past, their unredeemed sense of guilt, their unremitting pangs of regret and allow these towed loads to keep them from making any progress in the present trip.

The drama of forgiveness is one of the most critical areas in our practical living. Forgiveness is not forgetfulness. To forgive is to renew. To forgive is to restore. Forgiveness requires grace. That person who knows the lure of forgiveness instead of the prejudice-ridden, hate-remembering spirit is the one who is living as a new person. If it is difficult to forgive others perhaps it is because it is so hard to forgive one's self.

When Jesus forgave his enemies he lifted them out of a sodden past and showed them the possibility of a new life. When he worked with hurt and stumbling people around him, he showed them how they could find forgiveness for themselves. In a very real sense, he showed men how to handle the freight of the past in order that we might "travel light." We're not worthy, but we're accepted. We're not innocent, but we're forgiven. It's the grace required just when we've discovered how hard it is to forgive one's self!

Study Firmer Military Tie To Benefit Latin America

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

There is a growing belief in the Pentagon that the U.S. military should play a larger peacetime role in promoting U.S. aims (and responsible government) in Latin America and other developing areas.

This belief has been strengthened by the apparent success of the Indonesian military (2,500 of whom have had U.S. training) in battling the Communists.

In bygone years, U.S. diplomats looked at Latin military leaders as irresponsible dictator types who would overthrow a constitutionally elected government at the drop of a saber.

But a State Department analysis of the role of the Latin military in recent years comes up with some surprises. By and large, the military has been a major force in pushing democracy in a number of South and Central American states.

The military men have stepped in to oust dictators. They have followed through by calling for needed reforms (as in Brazil) and have promoted elections.

They have, in a number of instances, kept the Alliance for Progress alive in a country from dying on the vine.

This change in the Latin military outlook, officials here reason, is the result of a change in the men who form its officer corps. The average officer today is most likely from the middle class, not the aristocracy. He expresses middle-class aims. He is not interested in preserving old privileges and traditions. Broader government,

"I can take care of my sadness, my chickens. Don't you worry about Daddy and me. We're big people and we'll find our own way to be happy again. We can take care of ourselves, I promise you."

competitive economics and democratic elections are to his interest and the interest of his family.

Whether this reasoning is correct or not, it is clear the military is a dominant force in many Latin developing nations and elsewhere.

The military establishment is often the nucleus around which a new regime is forced to build. Military leaders thus become arbiters of political power.

With this analysis as a basis, here is how some key Pentagon and State Department officials think:

U.S. military leaders often enjoy close professional relations with key army, navy and air force men in the developing nations.

They can use this close contact to build personal friendships.

They can "educate" the Latin (and other) military men in the U.S. concept of the proper relationship between the military and the civilian government—hopefully, gradually get the Latins to accept civilian superiority.

They can pass on to these fellow officers democratic concepts.

They can steer the armed forces of the Latin nations into three avenues:

1. Organizing public safety, public health and civil works projects to win the confidence of the people, make them more friendly to the government and less susceptible to Communist influence.
2. Educating draftees in reading and other skills they will need in civilian life afterward. Then the young soldier, often away from home for the first time, can return to assist his own community.
3. Building bridges, canals, communications, as did the U.S. Army in frontier days, to create the basic understructure needed to accelerate economic development.

This Little Pig Goes To College—Papa Stays Home

Eighteen pigs from Scott county — brothers, sisters, half-brothers and half-sisters—are now living well regulated lives in special quarters on the swine research farm at the University of Illinois.

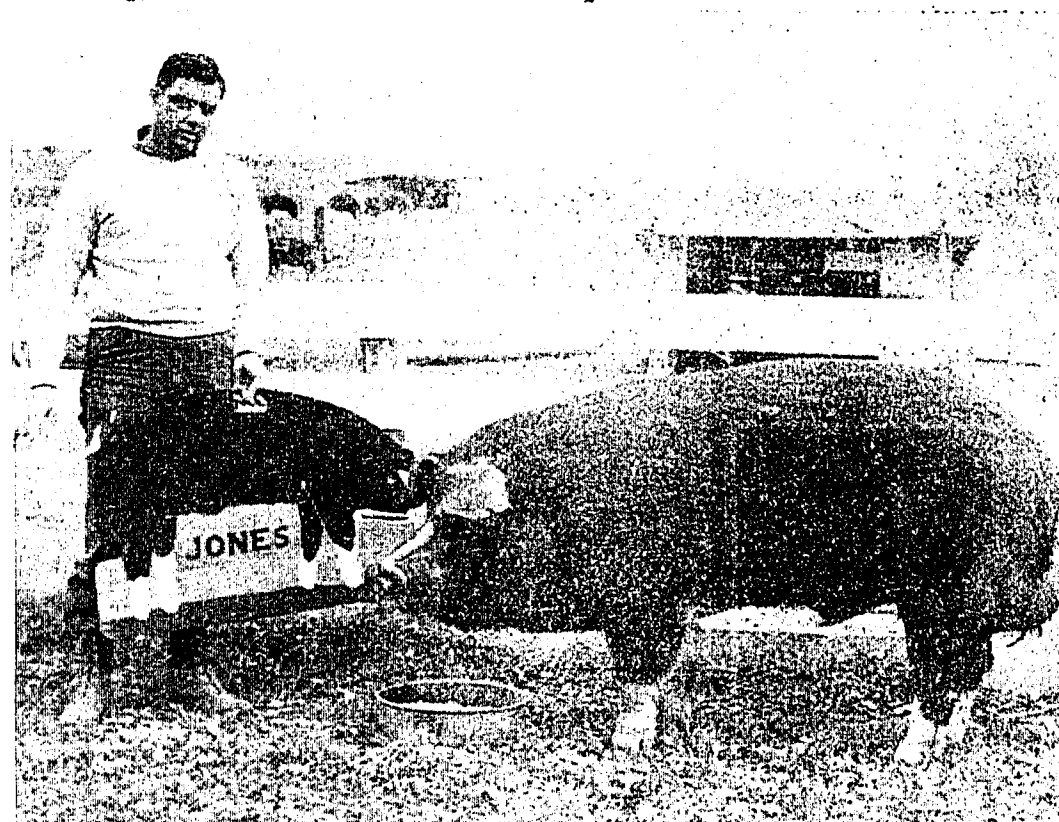

They're Poland China pigs from the herd of LaVern Jones & Sons of near Glasgow. In nearby pens are as many other Illinois pigs, representing all the popular breeds of swine raised in the state.

R. G. Kaufman, U.I. animal scientist, thinks he has found a technique for determining the true age of a hog. He's using a large group of pigs from litter mate sows bred by the same boar to see whether his theory is any good.

In earlier days practically every man or boy on the farm — and many city folks — could tell the age of a horse simply by looking in his mouth. This system was easy to learn and was fairly accurate.

Kaufman's theory is much more elaborate and deals with the eyes. Some people interested in his work call it "the eyeball test" and others term it "the eyelid test." To be of any practical use it will have to be considerably more accurate than any system now used, and much more than the "look in his mouth" technique.

man Keys, left, hauled him off to Champagne county.

The 18 youngsters are all the sons and daughters of Master Model III, shown in the second photo. He's been in Scott county since August, 1964. At the 1964 state fair in South Dakota he was the junior Poland China champion. From there he went to Austin, Minn., to compete in the National Swine Show. There he was rated No. 3 and in the auction that followed Jones decided Master Model needed a good home not too far from Sandy Creek and that's where he's been for the past 15 months.

Jones reported that his herd was the first in Morgan or Scott county to be validated as "brucellosis free" by the Division of Livestock Industry, Illinois Department of Agriculture. Over the months the eradication program was conducted by Veterinarians William C. Gross of Jacksonville and G. L. Childress of Roodhouse working in cooperation with the state and the U.I. College of Veterinary Medicine, Urbana.

"Of course there are many Morgan and Scott county hog men cooperating with the program," Jones said last week. "There'll undoubtedly be quite a few herds validated as brucellosis free before the end of the year."

Annual Sheep Day Program Dec. 10

Research reports on stillbirth, influence on lamb feed efficiency and the use of the K-40 counter to measure meatiness in live animal carcasses are two highlights of the annual University of Illinois Sheep Day scheduled for Friday, Dec. 10, on the U. of I. campus.

Lime, Phosphate Funds Available

The Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service office announces that some A.C.P. funds are available for anyone interested in spreading limestone or rock phosphate. This material would be spread between now and December 31, 1965.

On ground where this material is spread, eligibility requires that a legume seeding be made this year, next year, or by May 31, 1967.

The reason funds are available at this time is because a number of cancellations were received on preferred practices that could not be completed or started this year.

Wallace T. Hemmrich, office manager, states that anyone interested should contact the local A.C.S. office, 15 Permac Road, Jacksonville.

The speaking program begins at 10 a.m. in the Stock Pavilion. Early visitors can tour the sheep farm research facilities during an open house that begins at 8:30.

Other features of the morning program include reports on supplementing silage with non-protein nitrogen, slotted floors for early-weaned lambs and pasture and forage for sheep.

The afternoon program features a welcome by O. G. Bentley, new dean of the U. of I. College of Agriculture; a look at sheep production, past, present and future, by D. S. Bell of the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center; and a talk entitled "How Can We Improve Sheep Production in Illinois?" by Gary Ricketts, U. of I. extension sheep specialist.

Of special interest to most visitors should be the discussion of research results with non-protein nitrogen. U. of I. animal scientists pioneered in the development of rations containing urea and are now doing extensive work with both urea and biuret.

A tour of the K-40 counter and the discussion of its potential for sheep producers is expected to be of high interest to visitors also. The counter uses radioactive isotopes to measure the degree of carcass meatiness in live animals. The student Hoof and Horn club will serve a luncheon in the Stock Pavilion between the morning and afternoon sessions. The program will adjourn at 2:30 p.m.

ILLINOIS OUTLOOK LETTER

SOYBEAN SUPPLY SITUATION CHANGES

The soybean market has been unusual this fall. Market supplies have been very tight, and farmers have been unusually bullish. This situation has made for relatively high prices during harvest, which will tend to restrict the seasonal price advance during the remainder of the marketing year.

Shortage to Abundance. The soybean supply situation is changing from shortage to abundance. There was practically no carry-over of old soybeans this year. Stocks of old beans on September 1 were estimated at only 30 million bushels. This was about a two-week supply, but it was not evenly divided among the various users. Some processors and exporters had no old beans on hand. The soybean crop matured a day or so later than usual and several days later than in 1964. Furthermore, heavy rains in August and September delayed harvesting. The rains made fields too muddy and kept the soybeans too wet for harvest.

Farmers Are Bullish. Farmers have not been anxious to sell, even after they harvested their beans. Several factors combined have caused them to be bullish about soybean prices: (1) They generally doubt that the crop is as large as the official reports indicated. (2) They remember the strong advance in soybean prices that occurred last fall. (3) They expect that the international conflict may heat up. (4) They believe that shortages in other nations may force them to buy considerably more soybeans from the United States. (5) Many farmers have had an unusually good year—so they do not want to have any more income to pay taxes on this year. (This last is not exactly a bullish factor, but it is probably an important reason for farmers' delay in selling soybeans.)

Big Bean Crop. The soybean crop may not be quite so large as the official estimates indicate, but it is much larger than some farmers may think. While yields were not high, the acreage was much larger than ever before. The acreage for harvest was 34.6 million—about 13 percent more than last year and 21 percent more than two years ago.

In October the 1965 soybean crop was estimated at 862 million bushels, up from approximately 700 million in each of the past two years. (The November estimate is not available at this writing.) This amount is 133 million bushels (17 percent) more than was used and exported during the past year.

Storage Costs High. Costs of storing soybeans are substantial. The interest charge alone is about 1 1/4 cents per bushel per month. The charges for elevator storage range from 5 to 10 cents, depending in part upon the length of storage. If beans are stored on the farm, there will be shrinkage—and after April 1 a property tax liability of about 2 cents per bushel.

Tops In Illinois

FOUR MORGAN COUNTY youths won individual state awards during the year for their work in 4-H.

Vernie Thomas of the Arcadia Aces (center) will attend Club Congress which opens in Chicago next Sunday for his work in entomology. His exhibits in the field of "bugology" have delighted many professionals in that field and have won blue ribbons whenever entered in county fairs and the Illinois state fair.

Bob Reiser of the Berea Ag club, at left, won the state 4-H club leadership award and Wayne Bloomfield, also of Berea, won the state public speaking contest held in conjunction with the Illinois state fair last August.

The fourth winner from Morgan county was Miss Kathy Wright of the Peppy Peppers. She placed second in Illinois in the prized Danforth Leadership award competition, which is practically the honor guard of 4-H. Next summer she will be a guest of the Danforth Foundation at its Minnewanka Leadership Camp at Stony Lake, Mich., and as an alumnae will be privileged to return in future summers. Miss Wright is busy at her studies in home economics at the University of Illinois and her varied duties as "Miss Pork Queen of Illinois" and was unable to attend the annual Achievement Day program held here November 6.

To Open Swine Buying Station

CARROLLTON — The largest livestock marketing cooperative in the nation will open a hog buying facility in Greene county south of junction of 108 and route 67 about Dec. 1.

The market will be owned by Illinois Producers Livestock association, an affiliate of Farm Bureau, and the manager will be Robert Walleck, who is being transferred from Tampico, Whiteside county, where he was manager of the IPLA market there.

The yards will be open five days weekly. IPLA now operates 40 similar country markets in Illinois and Iowa and also serves farmers at the terminal markets in Chicago, Peoria and Springfield. In addition IPLA procures hundreds of thousands of feeder livestock for their patrons.

L. L. Colvis is the general manager of the Illinois Producers Livestock association.

Jean Ann Norman

WINCHESTER — A Scott county 4-H member, Jean Ann Norman, will attend the 1966 National 4-H Conference next April in Washington, D.C. Club leadership and community and county activities are considered in selections of a delegate along with her or his overall 4-H program work. Delegates are selected by the University of Illinois 4-H staff.

Jean Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Norman, Winchester route three.

SEA LAMPREYS REDUCED

MARQUETTE, MICH. (AP)—The Bureau of Commercial Fisheries says electrical traps in streams flowing from the United States into Lake Superior have caught about 6,000 sea lampreys thus far this year. Based on similar counts over the past eight years, the 1965 lamprey run probably will total between 9 and 12 thousand.

Proper Insecticides Aid To Poultryman, But Caution Needed

Properly used insecticides can save time and money in poultry operations. But, when improperly used, they can cause untold problems and loss of money.

The so-called chlorinated hydrocarbon group of insecticides can be a trouble-maker for poultrymen because no tolerance of them is permitted in eggs, report Hugh S. Johnson and S. F. Ridlen, University of Illinois poultry extension specialists. When poultry eat anything containing these chemicals, a detectable level remains in the body fat and eggs.

Research shows that as small an amount of DDT as one-tenth part per million in feeds produces detectable levels of the chemical in eggs within one week. This result clearly points out the importance of keeping DDT and certain other compounds away from poultry, Johnson and Ridlen say. After consultation with U. of I. entomologists, they recommend that these insecticides not be used in any form around poultry houses: aldrin, BHC, chlordane, DDT, dieldrin, heptachlor, lead arsenate, lindane, methoxychlor, Phosdrin, parathion, Thimet, TDE and toxaphene.

But not all insecticides are

Arrange Swine School In Cass

VIRGINIA—Russell Meridith, Cass county farm adviser, announces that a swine school will be held for producers on Dec. 3, 10, and 17. The school will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each Friday at the Rossi restaurant in Virginia. There will be an enrollment fee of $3.00 to cover the cost of instruction materials.

Four University of Illinois specialists will present the latest information on animal nutrition, buildings & equipment, economics and sanitation. The teaching materials are new and up-to-date. A handbook containing the material covered in the course will be handed out at the first meeting. Only persons enrolled in the course will receive the materials.

The Extension Livestock committee will be contacting swine producers during the next two weeks to secure enrollment in the class. Members of the committee are Willard Korschner, chairman; Glen Hillen, Floyd Jurgens, Darlye Tegeder and Walter Jurgens.

A committee from the Pork Producers association will assist the Extension committee.

MANY TROUBLE SPOTS INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—

This is what can happen when you drive a car in the 500-mile Memorial Day race at Indianapolis Speedway: Oil leak, magneto trouble, vibration, bad clutch, rear end trouble, transmission trouble, blown piston, gear trouble, broken water line, lost wheel, overheating and oil line break. And these things did happen to some of the 33 starters. Only 11 cars finished the race won by Jim Clark of Scotland.

Clemons Heads Circleville 4-H Club

ASHLAND — David Clemons was elected president of the Circleville 4-H club when the group met recently for the first time.

Other officers include Jamie Gardner, vice president; Pam Pschirrer, secretary; Lynn Pschirrer, treasurer; Johnny Spradlin, reporter; Tom Stribling, sergeant-at-arms; and Charles Aggert, leader.

The leader and officers will meet at a later date to plan activities for the coming year. A family potluck will be held in December, date to be announced later.

A film strip on the "Patriarchal Age" was shown by Brother James Cook at the Fellowship supper held in the basement of the Church of Christ Nov. 15.

Mrs. Marjorie Bloomfield entertained members of the Prentice Goodwill club at her home recently. Sixteen members were present.

Plans were made for a Christmas party for members and their families to be held Dec. 12 at Yatesville. Games were enjoyed during the social hour and refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Judy Atwood.

Brown and Mrs. Vernon L. Brown, daughter, Debbie, who have been visiting here at the home of Mrs. Brown's mother, Mrs. Ruth Bryant, have returned to their home in Kansas City, Mo.

Remodel Station For Beardstown's New Fire Truck

BEARDSTOWN — Some remodeling to the entranceway of the Beardstown fire station has been started, so the new $19,000 fire truck delivered here Nov. 17 can have easy access to the station garage.

The new truck placed the fire department in a position believed to be comparable if not better than most cities of size in the state.

The truck is an American La

France "Pioneer" which has been on order for several months. It has a pumping capacity of 750 gallons a minute and is equipped with a 5-man cab.

A 500 gallon booster tank will give firemen the ability to start pumping water on fires as soon as the truck gets to the scene and will eliminate the delay of hooking up to a hydrant.

City councilmen considered 8 bids on the fire equipment last April and accepted the highest bid at the urging of local fire fighters.

You Oughta Been Here Yesterday

"You oughta been here yesterday," Pete said with a smile. "You'd seen something you could tell your grandkids about, what with me losing $12,288 and glad I did."

As you suspect, the narrator was no ordinary man.

He was Pete Gingery, the proprietor of a combination confectionery, tobacco shop and poolroom on the north side of the square in Mt. Pulaski, Logan county, Ill., at the time — 1916.

Pete, bald-pated with extremely bushy eyebrows and a walrus moustache, was doing the talking. He was seated in a massive oak armchair that seemed to have been especially designed for a man of his height — around 260.

This chair was a gift from his ever-loving wife, who got it by buying the groceries under the Larkin plan.

He had a fly-swatter in his hand and there was a fly buzzing around, because flies and bees dearly loved Pete.

Four or five guys were sitting around in the front end of the place. They were interested, interested very much. In how Pete lost $12,288 and how he could so nonchalant about it.

A New Listener

Just then in came a drummer for Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. of St. Louis. At that time L. & M. made most of their money from plug tobacco, and Pete was a good account — selling as much as a caddy of Star tobacco a week because, as Pete put it, "I always deliver a square cut."

A caddy was a wooden box that held 24 pounds of chewing tobacco in one-pound plugs, each about 15 inches long. One side was dented by five cross-creases, equidistant; the other side by seven creases. The price per cut was 10c. The merchant could slice the long plug into eight pieces, or he could cut it into six. The latter was almost square, which is how Pete sold it.

Pete always said, "When the day comes that I can't give a man a square cut for his money that will be the day I want to go out of business, go to heaven and spend eternity playing pool — straight rotation pool, that is."

Pete beamed at the drummer.

Lost With A Smile

"Come in, Mr. Drummer, and take a chair. I was just about to tell how yesterday I lost $12,288 and was glad I did."

The recruit to the captive audience took the only chair left, the one with the busted cane bottom.

"Yep," Pete said, "yesterday was a big day in my life, but today is sorta an anniversary, you might say. A year ago today I cured Alex Lucas of sucking toothpicks."

"Now, Mr. Drummer, everybody hereabouts knows Alex and remembers how I cured him of going around all the time wallowing a toothpick in his mouth."

"I'm pretty sure it was just a year ago today. At the time I marked it on the calendar, but this morning I was looking for the calendar and couldn't find it. That's one fault of mine. I'm always mislaying documents and when I want to refer to them I can't find them."

"That reminds me of the time a couple of months ago, maybe it was longer than that, when Tom Scroggins called me by phone. Mr. Drummer, everybody present knows, and for all I know maybe you know, Tom runs the local bank."

A Difference In Calls

"Well, anyway, Tom called me and told me that my account was overdrawn by $18.21. Of course I didn't know that because, as I just said, I am careless about documents."

"So I asked Tom: You got the records. How much money did I have in your establishment a year ago?"

THANKSGIVING DAY — 1865

Hanging Up The Musket

— Frank Leslie's Newspaper

"So Tom looked it up and said: $121.10."

"So I said: Well, Tom, did I call you up then?"

"Tom hung up on me, but the next time I met him on the street he smiled, and just shook his head, friendly like. Tom never comes into my establishment, but then there are getting to be more hen-pecked husbands in the country every day."

A Great Day

"Well, anyway, just a year ago Alex Lucas came in, with a toothpick in his mouth, as usual."

"So I said: Alex, you'd better quit sucking on them toothpicks all the time."

"Alex said: Why?"

"So I says: How old are you, Alex?"

"He says: 37."

"I says: Well, this poor fellow I'm about to tell you about was 38. I remember it very well, because I had to testify at the inquest and his age was brought out then."

"Alex didn't say anything, just looked at me kinda inquiring like, so I said: Did you lose your hair at an early age, Alex?"

"Alex shifted his toothpick and said: Yes, I did; I had the scarlet fever when I was 24."

"I looked kinda sad and said: It was brought out at the inquest that the cold corpse before us lost his hair through scarlet fever."

"By this time Alex was pretty interested."

"So, I told him: Alex, about 20 years ago I was in Cincinnati running an establishment just about like this one, only I didn't have any soda fountain at the time."

"A nice chap, just about your size and build, used to come in most every day and hang around, just like you. And, just like you, he always had a toothpick in his mouth."

"One day he was just standing at the cigar counter, about where you are right now, when he just fell over and hit the floor. There was a doctor two doors down and he came over on the pronto, and said: This man is dead."

A 2x4

"The doctor didn't know what killed the man, so later he opened him up and, Alex, what do you suppose he found in the man's stomach?"

"Alex said: What?"

"I said, Alex, you ain't going to believe this and it may cause you some concern. Inside the deceased stomach was a 2x4, exactly six inches long. The doctor said he had read many medical books but he never heard of such a case."

"Alex got a little chalky around the gills, and didn't say anything."

"So I said: Alex, if I was you I'd quit chewing toothpicks. And he did. Nobody has seen him with a toothpick in his mouth for the past year, so today is pretty much an anniversary so far as I am concerned."

"That reminds me of the time when I was in Camden, N.J., running a place just about like this one, but with no soda fountain. Just a tobacco stand and three pool tables."

At this juncture Max Steinhilber broke in and demanded, "O.K., O.K., we've heard your old stories a hundred times. Now tell us how you lost $12,288 yesterday and was glad you did."

Pete smiled and said, "Boys, a lot of unusual things have happened to me in my days, but yesterday was truly a hum-dinger."

This story is getting to be over-long. So we'll have to delay telling how Pete lost $12,288 and was glad he did until some future date.

— Cecil Tendick

A Jackson, Miss., paper makes a proposition to raise a fund of half a million dollars, by the contributions exclusively of soldiers who served in the rebel army, to purchase Jeff. Davis a residence in some foreign country — after he is pardoned and liberated. Each private soldier is to give a dollar, and those who were commissioned officers, will be allowed to contribute at their discretion.

The St. Paul PRESS describes the late execution at Fort Snelling of the two Indians, Tah-chammanne, alias Medicine Bottle, and Shakopee, alias Little Six, sentenced upon the charge of participating in the massacre of 1862. Their apparent indifference to the fate which awaited them, was truly astonishing. They sat and smoked away at their pipes as though their days on earth were unnumbered.

A Chinaman in San Francisco, being kicked out of the shop of a Jew, upon picking himself up, exclaimed: "You bad man; me all time know you bad man; you kill Melican Josh." The point will be understood when it's known that Josh is the Chinese for God.

of the day

November, 1865

"Jack," said a gay young fellow at a ball, to his companion, "what can possibly induce those two old snuff-taking dowagers to be here to-night? I am sure they will not add, in the least, to the brilliancy of the scene."

"Pardon me," replied the other gravely, "for not agreeing with you; but, for my part, I really think that where there are so many lights of beauty, there may be some occasion for a pair of snuffers."

One day, just as an English officer had arrived at Vienna, the Empress, knowing that he had seen a certain princess, much celebrated for her beauty, asked him if it was really true that she was the most beautiful woman he had ever seen. "I thought so yesterday," he replied.

A Frenchman cannot pronounce "ship." The word sounds "sheep" in his mouth. Seeing an iron-clad, he said to a boy, "Is that a war sheep?" "No," said the boy, "it is a ram."

From the Jacksonville Journal: UNION M.E. MEETING —

In commemoration of the Centennial of the Methodist Episcopal church in America there will be a grand union meeting of all the M.E. churches of Jacksonville, and the surrounding country, at Strawn's Hall, on Sunday, Dec. 10th, at 10 o'clock A.M. and 10 P.M. Distinguished speakers from abroad and at home will address the meeting.

GRAND BALL — The members of Union Fire Company No. 1, of Jacksonville, will give a Grand Ball at Strawn's Hall, on Christmas night. This is expected to be a gala occasion, the management being in good hands. Those who wish to attend should secure their tickets early, as a limited number only will be issued.

RUNAWAY — In Mr. Wolcott's mill yard Tuesday last, a farmer drove against the hind end of the wagon belonging to the mill, at which the mill team took fright and ran around the yard, scattering portions of the wagon here and there, literally destroying it, but doing no serious damage to the horses. They were stopped in their race by the railway cars, which lay across the track at the depot.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH — The Christian or Disciple Congregation of this city, some months ago, having employed the Rev. Prof. Alexander Campbell, cousin of the old Bishop of that name, as their Pastor, resolved to build them a house of worship and a lot was secured on East State street. The brick work is now finished and the carpenters are active at work, but the building will hardly be completed this winter.

WM. LLOYD GARRISON is to lecture this evening at Strawn's Hall, before the Sigma Pi Society of Illinois College. His fame is world-wide as the uncompromising and devoted friend of human freedom.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: The notorious sectional agitator, Wm. Lloyd Garrison, lectured at Strawn's Hall on Thursday night; nominal subject, "State of the Nation and Signs of the Times."

AMERICAN OLE BULL — The great violinist, Alf Howard, known as the American Ole Bull, is posted for one of his intimate, musical entertainments at Strawn's Hall to-night. The entertainment will consist of instrumental music on the violin and guitar, and popular ballads. Mr. Howard's entertainments are being highly spoken of by the press.

BALED HAY — Hay by the single bale, or in quantities always kept for sale at the hospital for the Insane. Those having a limited amount of stable room will find this a great convenience at only a slight advance over the cost of hay in bulk. (ADV.)

From the Carrollton Gazette: We are gratified to know that all citizens visiting Carrollton for the first time, are highly pleased with its general appearance.

Under the management of our enterprising friend, Hon. L. E. Worcester, a fine new passenger depot and an elegant storehouse have just been erected at Berdan station, between this place and Whitehall. Both of these works are highly creditable to that new town.

We are told the telegraph will be in operation before the holidays.

To give an idea of the way the population of our town and the demand for houses increasing, we will state that a proprietor whose wife died recently, had six applications for the house before she was buried, and in fourteen days the applications numbered forty-three. This is told us by one of the applicants, as a fact.

Area of Costa Rica is about the same as that of New Hampshire and Vermont combined.

Here is a hand from the European championships that we present as an unusual problem: The problem is: "How did South manage to go down at six hearts?"

We will give you a hint. He took the diamond finesse successfully.

He started by drawing trumps with three leads. Then he led his queen of diamonds and let it ride after West played low.

A second diamond put him in dummy with the ace and he decided that it was about time to attack the spade suit.

He led the deuce of spades from dummy and East proceeded to play his seven-spot as if he did not have a care in the world.

South played the nine and West won with the jack. He led a spade right back and South called for a low spade from dummy, whereupon East set the hand with his king.

Quite a play by East but just about what one would expect from Giorgio Belladonna of Italy who held the East hand.

In case you don't understand the bidding, North's two-club response was Stayman and asked South to show a four-card major suit if he had one. North's second-round bid of three diamonds was a game force. South did not know what North was doing but with a maximum no-trump he was willing to bid four diamonds. When North went to four hearts, South knew that North had been ready to get there all the time, so South jumped right to the slam.

He could have made it if he had guessed the spades and would almost surely have made it against anyone but a player of Belladonna's caliber.

♥CARD Sense♦

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	4 ♦	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	5 ♣	Pass	5 ♥
Pass	6 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ K Q J 10 6 5 4 ♥ A S 2 ♦ 5 3 ♣ 7

What do you do?

A—Pass. Your partner has heard your bids and has placed the contract where he wants it.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner opens the bidding with three spades. You are not vulnerable and hold:

♠ 2 ♥ A 6 5 4 ♦ A 8 5 4 ♠ A 10 8 2

What do you do?

Beverly Sue Ball

WAVERLY—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ryan announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Beverly Sue Ball, to William Lee Neuman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Neuman, Waverly route two. No definite date for the wedding has been set.

Both young people graduated from Waverly High School, Miss Ball with the class of 1965 and Mr. Neuman with the class of 1963. He is presently in military service, stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

"Credit 'Debated' At Toastmistress Dinner Meeting

Members of Entre Nous Toastmistress Club met for dinner at Hamilton's restaurant November 17. Invocation was offered by Mrs. Joe Farran. Topicmistress Mrs. Harold McNamara called on Mrs. R. A. Saner, Mrs. Myron Long and Mrs. John T. Taylor for impromptu television story series and commercials.

President Mrs. Long conducted the business meeting. Mrs. E. I. Jordan presented the educational portion of the meeting, "Gloves — When and How to Wear Them."

A debate, "Buying on Credit," with the question "Can You Afford Credit?" was the program for the evening. On the negative team were Mrs. Albert McGinnis, Mrs. Robert Newport and Mrs. John Pine. Mrs. C. M. Davis, Mrs. Ty Henry, and Mrs. John Keehner defended the affirmative. Mrs. Gerald Loneragan was moderator. Judges were Mrs. R. A. Saner, Mrs. Myron Long and Mrs. Geraldine Taylor.

The Thought for the Day was given by Mrs. C. J. Loneragan. Time for the debate and the meeting was Mrs. Joe Farran. Miss Resa Walsh evaluated the meeting. Hostesses were Miss Resa Walsh and Mrs. C. M. Davis.

Plans for the meeting of all clubs in Council #3 of the South Central Region of International Toastmistress Clubs on November 21 were discussed. Entre Nous club will be hostesses for the meeting at Holiday Inn. Coffee hour will start at 9:30 a.m. Board meeting will be at 10:00 and the business meeting at 10:30. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 and an all-club participation session of Program Planning will be held in the afternoon.

Edge-Gross CWF Group Meets At Lakin Home

The Edge-Gross CWF Group, Central Christian Church met last Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. James Lakin, 833 South Main Street. Coffee or tea with rolls were enjoyed before the meeting.

Mrs. Milton Edge, leader, presided. Devotions were given by Mrs. Glenn Skinner using a horn-of-plenty and fall appointments. Routine reports were given by the secretary and the treasurer and unique brochures distributed. Each member was asked to send a contribution to the group secretary, in lieu of serving a turkey dinner this year. Service projects were reported by Mrs. Elmer Crabtree and Mrs. A. G. Stainforth, courtesy chairman reported on illness in the group. Mrs. Gertrude Forwood was a new member in attendance and Mrs. Simonds helped at the serving table. There were thirteen present.

Mrs. Stainforth presented the lesson study with passages from Matthew and Philipians. A question and answer period followed the lesson. The December

JoAnn Stroham

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Louis Stroham of Prophetstown announce the engagement of their daughter, JoAnn, to Carroll Lee Eades, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Eades of Scottville.

Miss Stroham is a graduate of Illinois State with a degree in elementary education and special education.

Mr. Eades graduated from University of Illinois with a BA degree in liberal arts and sciences.

Both young people teach in the Carpentersville schools in the Chicago area.

Mrs. Wright Is Household Club Hostess Nov. 16

The Jacksonville Household Science Club met Tuesday, Nov. 16, at the home of Mrs. John B. Wright, 3 Westwood, with Mrs. John Spencer as assistant hostess.

In a paper on "Budgeting Time in a Busy World," Mrs. Hugh Green pointed out that time is the most valuable thing that a man can spend. One astute writer quoted on the subject outlined four rules for living. These are to start in time on what has to be done or where one is going, do it now with no energy wasted on procrastination, learn to be selective in spending fixed time income, and take time out to restore zest to living.

Mrs. Green emphasized the importance of organizing one's time and suggested that developing a daily schedule accomplished this purpose. The key to finding time for everything is to seek out the simple and efficient way of doing things.

Preceding the paper members responded to roll call with practical suggestions for making the approaching holidays more meaningful for homes and families.

A social hour followed adjournment with Mrs. John T. Taylor, president, serving at the tea table.

meeting will be in Fellowship Hall at the church with Mrs. Elmer Crabtree and Mrs. Carl Christison as hostesses.

Miss Anderson, Once Franklin Resident, Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Anderson of Browning, formerly of the Alexander-Franklin community, announce the marriage of their daughter, Kathleen, to Lawrence Rogers Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O. Rogers of Astoria.

They were married Nov. 13 by the Rev. Bob Ireland of Rushville at the Nazarene church in Astoria.

The bride wore a conventional length dress of white orlon and wool knit accented with yellow satin covered buttons and belt. Her accessories were in white satin. A yellow velvet circle headress with a veil completed her costume and she carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses and baby mums.

Miss Ulinda Jean Fair of Beardstown and Frank Heath of Astoria attended the couple. Miss Fair wore a blue costume with black accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

The bride's mother wore pastel blue with black accessories and the groom's mother was in pale blue crepe with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink tipped white carnations.

Since returning from a short wedding trip the newlyweds are making their home in Astoria.

BE PREPARED FOR UNEXPECTED DATES

With the holidays approaching, unexpected dates can crop up. To be sure you're all set to go off on an impromptu party right from the office, stash away a pair of hose, clean white gloves and a piece of costume jewelry that will dress up a basic dress. A small corner of your desk drawer will hold the necessary items.

Ever add a little sherry to the gravy to be served with meatballs?

Mrs. Hagan Gives Tuesday Club Program

Members of Tuesday Club were entertained the afternoon of November 16th at the home of Mrs. Lee Sullivan, Jr. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. A. J. Stewart presided at the tea table.

Mrs. Samuel Darley, president, conducted the meeting and routine business.

Mrs. Leon Stewart, program chairman, presented Mrs. Dallas Hagan who gave a review of the book, Memories, Dreams and Reflections, by Carl Gustav Jung. Dr. Jung was professor of psychology at the University of Zurich, Zurich, Switzerland, and also lectured and conducted clinics.

Gift Tea For Holy Cross To Be December 2

Enthusiastic committees within the Holy Cross Hospital Auxiliary fill many hours in preparation for the annual Christmas Gift Tea planned this year for Thursday, Dec. 2nd, at the home of Mrs. J. D. Klump, Number Three Duncan Place.

All proceeds of the Gift and Coffee Shop at the Hospital, which is sponsored by the Auxiliary, are donated to Holy Cross hospital for patient care standards. The Holiday Gift Tea is both a benefit and social event for members and guests. Many hand-made articles, both for gift giving and keeping, will be available. There will also be a sale of pastries, cookies, cakes, etc. Members unable to attend and take donations for the baked goods sale or bazaar may contact Mrs. Cloyd Schumm, 245 6793 who will arrange for pick-up.

Many hours of work went into the making of the gift articles seen at left which will be offered at the Tea. Pictured with the handiwork are, l-r, Mrs. Norbert McGinnis, Mrs. T. J. Doyle, Mrs. Clarence Jennings and Mrs. John Hall.

Reproductions of well known paintings, collected and artistically framed by Mrs. Reginald Norris will be displayed and sold at the Tea. Above Mrs. Norris discusses her hobby with Mrs. Arthur Lauf, right, who admires a facial tissue box cover and other handcrafted articles.

A twenty-one inch colored console television set will be awarded the day of the Tea. Donations toward this project, thirty-five cents or three for one-dollar, are being received by members and at the Coffee Shop at the hospital. All members with donation books are reminded to have them turned in before Dec. 2nd, or bring to the Coffee Shop at the Hospital.

BROOKLYN WSCS, REBECCA CIRCLE SET FAMILY NIGHT

Family Night will be observed by the Brooklyn Church WSCS and Rebecca Circle Tuesday, Dec. 7 with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. Rev. and Mrs. Russell Coulter will present a Christmas program.

Mrs. Charles Huffman was program leader, assisted by Mrs. E. Henderson and Mrs. N. Wilson, when the society met Nov. 3 at the home of Mrs. Wilmer Everett. On Nov. 12 the society was host to the East Group.

Members will send 40 dozen cookies to Chanute Field by Jan. 28. A certificate of Standard Award, received by Mrs. Bond at the district meeting at Winchester, was presented to the society.

Following the study course at Grace Church, the society and church women made plans to organize a prayer circle which will meet once a month. The cook book made up of recipes submitted by church women is available and may be purchased from Mrs. Noel Leitz, phone 245-2264.

GARDENERS PLAN CHRISTMAS PARTY

MEREDOSIA—The Meredosia Garden club is planning a Christmas party and gift exchange in December. The group's most recent meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Edith Steinberg with Mrs. William Carl, club president, presiding. The program, concerning the feeding of birds during the winter months, was presented by Mrs. Bertha Rice, who displayed simple bird feeders and various methods of mixing food. The group voted to join other Meredosia groups in sponsoring a community project. Mrs. Pearl Copenhaven and Mrs. Roy Girard will be hostesses for the Christmas meeting.

MOUND WOMAN'S CLUB OBSERVES FAMILY NIGHT

The Mound Woman's Country Club observed family night at a dinner meeting held Nov. 13 in the Wesley Chapel Fellowship hall. Forty members and guests were in attendance. Mrs. Harlan Mason, president, welcomed the visitors. Ina Stewart was in charge of the program. A piano and flute duet was presented by Dixie and Linda Spangler and a piano duet by Mildred Vasey and Janet Potter. Ross Bracewell of Roodhouse told of amusing epitaphs used on stones in cemeteries in pioneer days. Serving on the dinner committee were Dorothy Lee Mason, Carolyn Potter and Inez Scott. Augusta Hempel and Edith Mason served on the decorating committee. A special offering was received for Oaklawn Sanatorium; Mrs. John Becker and Mrs. Donald Houston will purchase and deliver gifts.

'HIDDEN HUNGER' IS TOPIC BEFORE CASS LCW GROUP

ARENZVILLE — The Anna Garten Circle, LCW, met at St. Peter's Lutheran church parish hall Wednesday evening, with Miss Helene Sue Hendrick as hostess. Mrs. Melvin Dufelmeier presented the devotional topic, "Hidden Hunger," which concerned the needs of low income families in the United States. She was assisted by Mrs. Marvin Schnake, Mrs. Charles Hendrick, and Mrs. Wilbur L. Meyer. Mrs. George Bischoff was pianist. Programs listing hostesses and topic leaders for 1966 were distributed. Mrs. Bill Kinsey was re-elected circle president, Mrs. Dean Nordsiek, secretary. The December meeting date will be announced later. Mrs. John Jokisch will be hostess for the meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess from a table decorated in a Thanksgiving motif.

After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed with Shirley McCaherty and Alma Bradford acting as hostesses.

AIRMAN IS GUEST AT DINNER GIVEN BY HIS PARENTS

MEREDOSIA — A/3C Ronald D. McAllister, who left for his base at Tampa, Fla., recently after spending a 10-day leave at his home, was guest of honor at a pre-Thanksgiving dinner given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen McAllister.

Also present were: Mrs. Cornelia Leonard of Bluffs; Mrs. Merle Enke, Springfield; Miss Joyce Peters, Jacksonville; Mrs. Maude Butcher, Mr. and Mrs. Leland McAllister, Susan, Leeann, Kurt and Kyle, all of Meredosia.

Meredosia News Charles Bushnell of Minneapolis, a native of Meredosia, visited here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grammer returned recently from a five-day trip to Arkansas during which they visited friends and relatives.

ROODHOUSE GROUP AT TEACHERS SOCIETY MEET

ROODHOUSE — Six Roodhouse women attended the Chi chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society luncheon Nov. 13 at the Greenfield Methodist church, Mrs. Ross Manning, Mrs. Fred Hull, Mrs. John W. Roberts, Mrs. Grover Wallace, Miss Mabel Hopkins and Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson.

Over thirty represented members from Jersey, Calhoun and Greene counties.

Luncheon tables were beautifully decorated in autumn decor, cornucopia and lighted candles centering the head table. The luncheon was served by the women of the church. Mrs. George Grauel of Carrollton offered invocation.

Mrs. Irene M. Herrman of Springfield, immediate past president of Lambda State, was the official guest and spoke on "Contributions of the Creative Individual to Society."

The program chairman was Mrs. William Wald of White Hall. Miss Elizabeth Moore, Jerseyville, sang accompanied by Miss Nita Ford. Miss Edith Hyatt of White Hall gave the thought for the day.

All gifts for the Christmas party must be created by the members themselves and will be wrapped at the December meeting.

Nice for company: cauliflower (cooked) served with brown butter sauce and silver-edged almonds.

The Big Comeback Of Unsinkable Bill

By DAVE LIPMAN
Special Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
ST. LOUIS — (NEA) — Early in the 1964 National Football League season a gaunt young man walked into the office of Wally Lemm, coach of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Lemm looked up from his desk and smiled.
"We miss you," he said.
"Don't worry, coach," Bill Triplett answered. "I'll be back."

There were those around the Cardinal team who feared that the fine halfback who had come down with a form of tuberculosis never would make it back. His weight had plunged from 210 to 175 pounds. He was taking massive doses of miracle drugs. There was no question about his availability last year. There was a question whether a bright career might end almost before it had begun.

Triplett had been a star at Miami of Ohio and was drafted by the New York Giants. Bill's older brother, Mel, had been an outstanding fullback for the Giants in the 1950s.

Before Bill ever donned a Giant uniform, he was traded to the Cardinals. In his rookie year in 1962, he became a fine defensive back. He was a quick, tough tackler and seemed to enjoy hitting a runner. But he also could run himself.

When John David Crow was injured in 1963, Triplett became the Cardinals' running back and finished as their second best ground-gainer.

He ran for 652 yards in 134 carries and caught 31 passes for 396 yards.

"After our last game that year, I said to myself that 1964 was going to be even a better year for me," Triplett said.

It was a flirtation with disaster instead. In March he was struck by a sharp, maddening pain in his chest. Three weeks later it was diagnosed as tubercular pleural effusion.

As Lemm told him in September of that year, the Cardinals did miss Triplett in 1964. Without their principal outside running threat, they fell short of Cleveland in the Eastern Division race.

While the Cardinals were losing their battle with the Browns, Triplett was winning his with the tubercular infection. Miracle drugs beat the disease, but his own determined drills restored his strength and his weight. He was driven by desire. He was driven by necessity, too. The 24-year-old Triplett has a wife and three children to support.

Those who had feared that Triplett was all but lost a few months before suddenly found themselves with a rocky 215-pounder who still had the sprinter's speed of his college days. The Cardinals traded away Crow for needed help elsewhere.

Yet after his first six games of his third pro season, Triplett began to raise doubts. Maybe he couldn't recover. He had gained only 184 yards in that period and showed only 20 yards for his last 20 carries.

Three Veterans Back At Piasa

PIASA — Southwestern High at Piasa was another of the many schools in the area to lose a large number of lettermen last year, as the Birds will have only three returning veterans.

Last year the Birds of coach Jim Lemmon came in with a 16-10 record, taking seconds in the IVC and Macoupin County tournaments. Seven lettermen are gone from that team.

Returning veterans are 5-10 Gary Watson, 5-8 Jack Rick and 5-8 Vernon Davis. Any size the Birds will have must come from the juniors and sophomores.

Southwestern roster:

Class	Ht.
*Gary Watson	Sr. 5-10
*Jack Rice	Sr. 5-8
*Vernon Davis	Sr. 5-8
Dick Lister	Jr. 6-1
Gary Bowker	Jr. 5-8
Jim Gable	Jr. 5-9
Tom Ryder	Jr. 6-0
John Huebener	So. 6-3
Earl Rigdon	Jr. 5-11
Gary Lee	Jr. 6-1
Bill Scheneman	Jr. 5-9
Forrest Smith	Sr. 6-4

FIVE-SOME BOWLS HIGHEST OF YEAR

Five men turned in the highest single game bowled so far this year in a tournament held at the Winchester Bowl recently. Members of the team were Reg McGuire, Fred Boston, Buster Brown, Don Slater and Bill Cumley.

They bowled the high game, 1104, in the October tourney. The big score came on scores of 228 by Boston, 194 by McGuire, 190 by Slater, 189 by Brown and 180 by Cumley. They totaled 981 scratch and received 123 pins handicap for their score.

They will be back this Sunday to try and better their score. This Sunday will be a five-man team tournament that is limited to teams under 850. The tournament will start at 1 p.m. Each team will bowl eight games across eight alleys.

"I guess I had a lot of faith," Triplett said. "I wasn't afraid I had lost it all."

But coach Lemm moved Triplett ahead of the starting line-up ahead of Triplett the week before the Cardinals' seventh game, with the New York Giants. On the first play of the game, Gault suffered a broken arm. Triplett was rushed into the lineup.

Maybe he needed a jolt to get over the final hump. Maybe he had taken that long to recover his timing. Whatever it was, Triplett staged the comeback of his comeback. He took devastating advantage of his relief as he gained 176 yards, second only to the Cardinal record of 203 yards by Crow.

Ironically, it was against the team that had traded Triplett. Ironically, it beat the best day by Bill's brother Mel. His top figure with the Giants was 139 yards. When Bill had been just one of 12 kids of a steel mill worker in Girard, Ohio, Mel always was held up as the example for him.

"You're not trying," his high school coach once told him. "Mel would try harder."

The pain of comparisons led Bill to decide not to follow in Mel's footsteps, and he passed up a scholarship to attend Toledo U., his brother's college, and took one to Miami of Ohio.

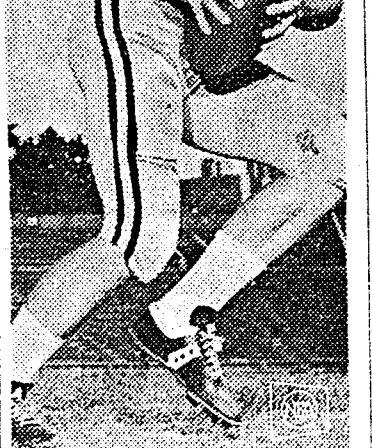

"I wanted to strike out on my own," he said, "but don't misunderstand me. Mel was always a great inspiration to me when he went into pro football, and I knew then and there that was what I wanted to do."

A pro football player he is. Not even a brush with tuberculosis could alter that.

Kim King On Georgia Tech Squad

By FURMAN BISHOP
Special Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
ATLANTA, Ga. — (NEA) — Football is a game that moves from left to right. Left-handed quarterbacks fit into these movements like a left-hand nut fits a right-hand thread.

Only one left-handed quarterback has ever really been great, G-R-E-A-T. You think of left-handed quarterbacks, you think only of him, Frankie Albert of Stanford University and the San Francisco 49ers.

For all the first 19½ years of Kim King's life, his personal beat centered around the West End-Cascade Heights section of Atlanta's west side. He expanded it modestly when he went to Brown High School, where he set an offensive record for yardage, but a few weeks ago Kim found his whole cotton-picking world exploding in all directions.

He became the first-string quarterback at Georgia Tech, the darling, the sensation of Grant Field, where the public is sometimes haughtily critical, and a name of national football import. Now he finds he has this right-handed world of ours thinking left-handed. He has, as a sophomore, become probably the greatest quarterback Georgia Tech has ever seen.

You use "probably" because you always make reservation when you fool with the word "great," and because this is the way Donald Kimbrough King would have it.

"I really try not to think about it," he says. "Everybody likes to read about myself, let's face it. But I try to read just as little about myself as I can. I just like to think that it's all happening because a lot of other guys are getting the job done and making it possible for me to get my job done. I'm not trying to be modest, honest. That's really the way I feel."

King is six foot one, weighs about 180, but has a pale, almost sallow complexion, like a boy who has been too long at the piano or pored too many daylight hours in a lab. His features are fine, his face sensitive, and his progress as a football player has been that of a sensitive artist brought along slowly.

He was "red-shirted," meaning he sat out his sophomore year as an observer, gathering atmosphere and knowledge. As Georgia Tech approached the season opener with Vanderbilt, Kim himself sensed that he was too highly wound, too keyed up in practice to attempt to start.

"I simply wasn't ready and I went to coach Dodd and told him. I didn't want to make mistakes that would get us beat," he said.

Dodd, instead, started a veteran, senior Jerry Priestley, who also does the punting. King played in spots, and spottily. The next week, he felt he was ready. He told Bobby Dodd. He started against Texas A&M and got the job done, though he felt he was erratic. Georgia Tech lost, 14-10, because defense broke down in the final quarter.

From that day, however, Georgia Tech has exploded with an offensive flamboyance that produced an average of 30 points per game. Mainly, the change from the recent conservatism of Dodd to this extroversion has been due to King.

He is a drop-back, roll-and-run, scramble-and-fake kind of quarterback who has more instinctive weapons to put to use than any quarterback seen in these parts since Francis Tarkenton of Georgia. At Tarkenton, because he is quicker than Tarkenton was as a sophomore. "I'm glad people don't ask me about plays," Kim says. "I just see something open up and something tells me what to do and I do it, like that touchdown run against Auburn. That's one I'll never forget."

Kim won't forget it because it was his first big play at Tech against a favored opponent. On the first scrimmage play after the second half kickoff, he dropped back, saw the whole world open up in front of him and ran 31 yards for a touchdown that broke a tie and tore the game open in Tech's favor.

Afterward, Buck Bradbury, Auburn's offensive coach, said, "Kim King is the greatest sophomore quarterback I ever saw, bar nobody."

He was "red-shirted," meaning he sat out his sophomore year as an observer, gathering atmosphere and knowledge. As Georgia Tech approached the season opener with Vanderbilt, Kim himself sensed that he was too highly wound, too keyed up in practice to attempt to start.

"I simply wasn't ready and I went to coach Dodd and told him. I didn't want to make mistakes that would get us beat," he said.

Dodd, instead, started a veteran, senior Jerry Priestley, who also does the punting. King played in spots, and spottily. The next week, he felt he was ready. He told Bobby Dodd. He started against Texas A&M and got the job done, though he felt he was erratic. Georgia Tech lost, 14-10, because defense broke down in the final quarter.

From that day, however, Georgia Tech has exploded with an offensive flamboyance that produced an average of 30 points per game. Mainly, the change from the recent conservatism of Dodd to this extroversion has been due to King.

He is a drop-back, roll-and-run, scramble-and-fake kind of quarterback who has more instinctive weapons to put to use than any quarterback seen in these parts since Francis Tarkenton of Georgia. At Tarkenton, because he is quicker than Tarkenton was as a sophomore. "I'm glad people don't ask me about plays," Kim says. "I just see something open up and something tells me what to do and I do it, like that touchdown run against Auburn. That's one I'll never forget."

Kim won't forget it because it was his first big play at Tech against a favored opponent. On the first scrimmage play after the second half kickoff, he dropped back, saw the whole world open up in front of him and ran 31 yards for a touchdown that broke a tie and tore the game open in Tech's favor.

Afterward, Buck Bradbury, Auburn's offensive coach, said, "Kim King is the greatest sophomore quarterback I ever saw, bar nobody."

Go-Go Points Ivy Toes To Pro Career

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
PRINCETON, N. J. — (NEA)

The only difference between the brothers Gogolak is that Pete looks like a football player and Charley doesn't.

Pete, the placekicker for the American Football League champion Buffalo Bills, is a husky 200-pounder while Charley is a scrawny 5-10, 155-pounder.

Take away the white and black track shoes he wears around the campus and Charley would be just another Princeton University undergraduate.

But the shoes stand out and so does Charley Gogolak, the nation's best collegiate placekicker.

He has become so proficient and so accurate with his soccer-style kicks that he will be one of the key players in the upcoming professional draft.

"I've had offers for legal advice," Charley said, "but I've spoken with Pete and he's been through all this so I have a good idea what to expect."

"I think between myself and Coach (Dick) Colman we'll be able to handle it all right, although judging from what I heard about last year, maybe he'll have to send some armed guards up to my dormitory."

Charley says he has no preference for the American or National League, but the standard joke around this unbeaten Princeton team is that whatever pro club drafts Charley must also take center Kit Mill and Bob Bedell, the holder.

"I hear the Miami Dolphins (the new AFL team) are going to use the single-wing," Charley said jokingly to Bedell, the blocking back in Princeton's offense. "So maybe they'll have room for you."

Gogolak, Bedell and Mill have been a team since their freshman year and Charley says this is the reason for his success.

"My holder is my coach," Charley said. "Bob can tell when I'm doing something wrong better than anyone else. Sometimes he hits me with something I didn't realize I was doing. He has the time to observe."

"From the beginning I just communicated much better with Bob. It's amazing the extra time he's put in to help me. I figured it out and it comes to 110 hours over the last four years, about a half hour per day during the season."

"You know, anyone can put the ball down but it's that extra half second or full second that gives you the time for a good kick. I think we've got the whole thing down as well as any kicking team in the country, college or pro."

Charley's success (78 per cent for field goals and 100 per cent for extra points) has forced the opposition to extremes, but nothing more extreme than the day Cornell stacked its defense like a pyramid to block his kicks.

"I was so surprised that I missed my first kick," Gogolak said, "but then I kicked my 54-yarder and made another one that day."

"You should have seen the way our linemen cleaned them out of there the second and third times. The Cornell guys really collapsed."

Charley has other worries — like protecting himself on the field after kicks.

"You should see them try and get him on the kick-offs," a grinning Bedell said. "They're throwing, elbows, fists ... everything."

Such happenings — and in the Ivy League, no less.

OVER 1,500 DEER KILLED 1ST DAY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois' shotgun deer season opened Friday with an incomplete report showing 1,502 deer killed.

One hunter was reported dead from gas fumes in a trailer at Golconda and his companion was found unconscious.

Last year, the first day the deer kill was 2,359. The kill for the six-day split season totaled more than 7,000.

By zones, the kill was heaviest in the south where 966 were reported bagged. Deer bagged in the north totaled 307 and in the central zone, 229.

No injuries from firearms and few arrests for violations were reported.

The first half of the season ends Sunday. The second half starts Dec. 3.

William O. Taylor, 55, of Herrin, was found dead at Golconda in a camping trailer and Paul Hicks, 43, of Herrin, was reported recovering in a hospital.

Rathet Foresees Vikings Over Packers Sunday

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — No, the pro picker didn't pull a Norm Van Brocklin and quit.

Just took a week off. This week's picks extend all the way to Thanksgiving Day and there are all sorts of toughies. But here goes (all games Sunday unless otherwise noted):

National League
Minnesota 28, Green Bay 14 — The Packers have produced so few points the last two weeks it's beginning to seem as if they're playing baseball. With Van Brocklin probably pushing the Vikings just a bit harder, the Vikings should pull it out.

Cleveland 24, Dallas 21 — And it won't be easy. Browns keep winning but always seem to have trouble. The Cowboys are a team that can give you trouble with speed. Jimmy Brown always gives the Browns just enough momentum.

Baltimore 35, Philadelphia 21 — The way Gary Cuozzo passed last week, it probably doesn't matter if Johnny Unitas plays. The Colts, one game up on Packers, will be looking for their eighth straight victory and should get it despite the Norm Snead-Pete Retzlaff passing combo.

St. Louis 28, New York 21 — The Cardinals could be forced to play without quarterback Charley Johnson again but Buddy Humphreys might pull a Cuozzo. The Giants won previous game 14-10 with Johnson in there all the way.

Chicago 38, Detroit 17 — The Lions offense figures to take a nosedive with receiver Terry Barr lost for the season. The Bears continue to impress behind revitalized quarterback, Rudy Bukich, and rookie stand-out Gale Sayers.

San Francisco 27, Los Angeles 24 — Dick Bass will be back to help the Rams attack but the 49ers have too much for their West Coast rivals with the passing of John Brodie and the running of Ken Willard.

Washington 17, Pittsburgh 14 — The Steelers have a habit of losing in the closing minutes. Game figures as a toss up since neither has shown much in the way of offense.

Baltimore 31, Detroit 21 — Thanksgiving Day — The Lions, always at best before a home crowd, snapped a Baltimore winning streak last year. But the Colts are stronger and should be able to withstand a second game in five days more easily.

American League
New York 28, Houston 17 — Joe Namath has found out how to be a pro and the Jets are rolling with three straight victories and a chance

Alfred Garrett, Former Scott Resident, Dies

Word has been received of the death of a former Scott County resident, Alfred Garrett, who died Wednesday evening at Liberty, Ky.

He is survived by two sons, Kenneth of Winchester, and Arthur of Springfield. He was married to the former Eileen Temple of Winchester.

The body is at the McKinney and Burton Funeral Home at Liberty where funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday. Burial will be in a Liberty cemetery.

Goltra Rites Held Friday

Funeral services for Miss Mabel H. Goltra were held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Jones Funeral Home, Rev. Dale Robb officiating. Mrs. Gail Gilbert presided at the organ.

Palbearers were: Calvin Verhoef, James C. Coultas, Lawrence Crawford, Tom Wilsh, Dennis Rohlfing, and William Dawdy.

Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Names of cousins omitted in a previous obituary account were: Mrs. Harriett Robertson and Miss Florence Coleman of Waverly, Mrs. Martha Schield of Glenview, Frederick W. Coleman of Minneapolis, and Meriam Duncan of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Miss Goltra was a member of a poetry group and was a book lover.

SALEM GUILD ELECTS OFFICERS

Election of officers was held when the Salem Lutheran Guild met November 15 in the School Hall.

Assuming duties in January will be: co-chairmen, Jane Atkins and JoAnn Plautz; vice chairman, Pauline Tornhave; secretary, Hermine Schulz; treasurer, Lois Hileman.

Miss Evelyn Walmsey, former missionary to China, who toured Europe with her sister in 1964, was speaker. She told of the many Protestant churches they visited during their travels.

Trudy Herlevsen, was accepted as a member.

Guild members will donate and pack cookies for the State Hospital on December 6 and 13 at 7 p.m. in the School Hall. Christmas carolers will meet at 6:30 on December 20 and return to the School Hall for the business meeting at 8:15 p.m.

MANCHESTER PTA HAS 52 MEMBERS

MANCHESTER — The Manchester Grade School P.T.A. met November 16 at the school.

President Calvin Chute presided at the meeting and Mrs. Virginia Harding reported a total of 52 persons are now members of the group.

The ways and means committee reported a profit of $74 from lunch served at a recent farm sale.

Mike Walker, Terry Bridges, and Mark Cooper entertained.

CITED AFTER MISHAP

One driver was cited by investigating police officers following an accident at the West Lafayette and Sandusky intersection about five o'clock Friday evening.

Dolores J. Lindsay of Franklin was ticketed for disobeying a stop sign after the car which she was driving struck a west-bound vehicle on Lafayette.

Officers said the second car was driven by Betty L. Surratt of 1924 Cedar.

EARLY CHURCH NOTICE DEADLINE NEXT WEEK

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday and no publication on November 25th all notices for the Church Page, published on Friday, must be in the office of the Jacksonville Journal Courier by Tuesday, Nov. 23rd.

FARM LANDS

The undersigned Executor under the Will of Edwin R. Sooy, deceased, will sell at Public Auction to the highest and best bidder, at the South Door of the Court House, in Jacksonville, Illinois, on the farm lands owned by the late Edwin R. Sooy and legally described as follows, to-wit:

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1965
AT 11:30 O'CLOCK A.M.

The East Half of the South East Quarter of Section 14, and the West Half of the South West Quarter of Section 13, all in Township 13 North and Range 10 West of the Third Principal Meridian, in Morgan County, Illinois, and containing 160 acres, but subject, however, to existing public highway and public utility dedications and easements.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION: The above farm is located approximately five (5) miles East of Murrayville on the Murrayville-Nortonville Road, and is improved with a 2-Story Dwelling House, electricity, garage and other outbuildings, 2 ponds and 2 wells. Approximately 44 acres are tillable.

TERMS OF SALE: 25% of the purchase price, cash in hand at time of sale, and balance after approval of title by the buyer upon tender of a good and sufficient Executor's Deed. A complete Abstract of Title will be furnished showing a good and indefeasible title in the estate of said decedent, and showing the right and authority of said Executor to sell and convey said farm. The estate will pay the 1965 taxes, payable in 1966. Full possession will be given to the purchaser on March 1, 1966.
